SMALL CAMPUS, BIG MISSION

From the Office of the President:

Dear Friends:

Thank you for your interest in Concordia University, Saint Paul, Minnesota. First and foremost, we are interested in learning about you. If you are a prospective student and are scanning the pages of this catalog we hope you will be thinking about making a visit to our campus or reaching out to us by email, telephone, text-message, or letter, to introduce yourself to us and describe your personal needs and desires for a college education. Even though we have not met you yet, we believe in you and your God-given potential, and very much look forward to getting acquainted. If you are already a Concordia University student we hope the explanation of academic matters included are clear and focused on you, the student.

In the pages of this catalog, you can begin to get to know us, especially the academic programs of our College of Arts and Sciences, College of Business and Organizational Leadership, College of Education, and College of Vocation and Ministry. I am very proud of our curriculum and the evidence of expertise and commitment to quality that it carries. I am confident that you would receive a superb education in the academic programs we offer at Concordia University.

We remain committed to providing access to academic excellence at an affordable price. We strive to offer an outstanding, student-centered learning environment where the Christian faith provides the context for intellectual inquiry and for committed service to church and society. As a campus providing and requiring access to electronic technology, our students do research and communicate in ways that prepare them for future technological advances. In addition, we are located in one of the great metropolitan areas in the world, in the heart of a city where persons of virtually every race, creed, religion and color have converged to pursue personal goals and community progress. Our campus is a beautiful reflection of the opportunities that continue to make the United States of America a land of opportunity.

On behalf of the faculty, staff, students and thousands of successful graduates of Concordia University, Saint Paul, I invite you to examine our programs, visit our campus and join us in the wonderful world of inquiry and learning.

THE CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY SEAL

The Concordia University seal was originally designed by Dr. Theodore Buenger for Concordia College in 1895. The Lamp of Learning symbolizes the light of the knowledge of God’s Word illuminating the minds of the students as well as the darkness of the world. The Crossed Quills symbolize the writings of the student and the writings of the great individuals throughout history from which the student learns. The Moccasin Flower symbolizes the State of Minnesota and the beauty of God’s creation. The inscription places learning in the context of the Christian Gospel. Dr. Buenger used the Latin language in keeping with the classical ideals characteristic of our school: In litteris proficere vole, malo diligere Jesum. This may be translated, “It is good to be proficient in knowledge, but better to know Jesus.” It is based on Ephesians 3:19. “And to know the love of Christ that surpasses knowledge.”

MISSION OF CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY

The mission of Concordia University, a university of the Lutheran Church – Missouri Synod, is to prepare students for thoughtful and informed living, for dedicated service to God and humanity, and for the enlightened care of God's creation, all within the context of the Christian Gospel.

This mission is achieved when students pursue programs grounded in the liberal arts and focused on education for vocation in home, workplace, community, and congregation.

Therefore, the university pursues the following purposes:

- To relate human learning and experience to the Christian faith as this faith is confessed within its Lutheran heritage;
- To provide education within the context of a global perspective;
- To structure personalized and integrated learning experiences in which students share with faculty the responsibility for their own intellectual, physical, social, emotional, and spiritual growth;
- To offer a variety of experiences in and out of the classroom designed to assist students in acquiring greater self-understanding, in achieving a growing realization of their abilities and interests, and in investigating options for service in home, workplace, community, and congregation.

VISION AND VALUES OF CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY

The vision of Concordia University is to be an exemplary Christian university. In all its programs and practices, Concordia University values:

- High academic quality.
- Access to opportunity for excellence.
- Diverse, student-centered community that lives in the spirit of Christian harmony.
- Education that includes experiential learning, innovative partnerships, and engagement with the community.
- Dynamic Christian spiritual experience with a clear expression of Christian vocation.
- Exploration of the relationship of human learning to the Christian faith.

LOGO OF CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY

The Concordia University, Saint Paul logo is in the form of a window symbolizing Christian higher education as a window on life. Framed within the window, a cross emerges, which identifies Christ as the center of life. The asymmetrical window and cross reflect that life is not always logical or consistent, but Christ holds all things together. The four complementary colors represent harmony in diversity and harmony in Christ.

Cross: The cross portrays our mission to educate students in the context of the Christian Gospel. The Good News of Jesus Christ forms the basis of life and education at Concordia.

Quill: The quill is taken from our academic seal and represents our tradition and commitment to academic excellence and the love of learning.

Individual: The individual represents our serving the individual student while encouraging their personal development and responsibility the education process. The outstretched arms imply reaching out to others, openness to community

Globe: The globe reminds us of our world community and Christ's command to teach all nations. It also reflects our concern for enlightened care of God's creation, which is part of our mission statement.

EDUCATIONAL EXPERIENCE AT CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY

Concordia University is a coeducational and comprehensive Lutheran university that, at the undergraduate level, is grounded in the liberal arts. The University offers both undergraduate and graduate academic programs. Concordia University is selective in its admissions standards and offers a dynamic learning environment, the chance to get involved in activities outside the classroom and an opportunity to make lifelong friendships, and to explore the relationship between faith and learning. It is a private, not-for-profit university that is focused on preparing students for professional vocations (life, career, and service) and/or further opportunities in higher education. A majority of the students are undergraduates.

At the undergraduate level, Concordia University engages students in a multi-disciplinary, multi-cultural exploration of human knowledge and experience. The curriculum cultivates the basic skills students need to succeed in college and beyond, and introduces students to the traditional liberal arts disciplines through General Education coursework. The combination of coursework in General Education, a major and/or minors, and electives assist students in developing both breadth and depth in their college education. The function of the General Education program – known specifically as the “Framework for Learning” – is to make explicit how Concordia University understands and applies its mission statement. To help realize the goals of the mission statement, the total educational experience of Concordia University students – both in and out of the classroom – is placed within this overarching structure. The Framework for Learning includes goals and competencies in eight areas: aesthetic, intellectual, physical, spiritual, communication, interpersonal, civic, and global. It is designed to introduce “students to academic content areas central to the classical liberal arts and to the university’s identity, as expressed in its mission statement, and to the most essential components of these areas; it develops and cultivates skills requisite to any intellectual or professional endeavor; and it does so in a manner attentive to the abstract or methodological dimensions of the subject at hand” (Faculty Handbook). The purpose of the general education curriculum is to provide Concordia University students with the opportunity to grow and develop:

- a. skill in analysis, synthesis, integration, research, or evaluation;
- b. skill in problem solving, or in the application of the foregoing abilities to solve problems;
- c. skill in creative expression or design;
- d. skill in ethical reasoning or decision-making (in part by applying such core concepts as Christian vocation, responsibility and rights, liberty and justice, etc.); or,
- e. appreciation for human interaction and expression in smaller and larger communities, with all of the complexity this entails.

A student’s General Education program consists of courses in 10 different academic areas and accounts for approximately 47 semester credits of the 128 required for graduation: fine arts, history and political science, communication, global studies, social and behavioral science, health and physical education, literature, mathematics and natural science, religion and theology, and writing.

In order to complete an undergraduate degree at Concordia University, students must complete the general education requirements, an academic major or two minors, and electives that total a minimum of 128 semester credits. A minimum of 32 semester credits and half of any major must be completed in residence at Concordia University. There are over 50 majors and over 30 minors from which to choose.

Concordia University has been offering graduate programs since 1991 and currently enrolls over 1,200 graduate students in 15 different areas of study. The most popular programs are in teacher education, business, criminal justice, and sports management. The graduate programs are “stand alone” programs in that students complete coursework in their area of interest. Graduate programs range in size from 30 to 45 semester credits and are offered in three formats – face to face, blended, and fully online. The programs are well-established, well-respected, are career focused and relevant to the workplace, are taught by innovative and supportive faculty, and are designed to be affordable and flexible for the working student. They are all offered through the use of a dynamic learning community – students typically begin and end with the same group of fellow scholars. The Principles of Graduate Study at Concordia University include the following:

Graduate coursework is more creative. Graduate coursework is more self-directed. Graduate coursework is more rigorous. Graduate coursework is more attentive to epistemological issues. Graduate coursework is more attentive to research. Graduate coursework is more a community of learners, rather than merely a teacher-student relationship. Graduate students give careful consideration to research, information, and bibliographic references. Graduate learning is not just remembering information, it is constructing knowledge. Graduate professors are actively engaged in research and learning.

HISTORY OF CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY

Concordia University was founded in 1893 by the Minnesota – Dakota District of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Missouri, Ohio, and Other States. Its purpose was to provide a Christian learning environment for high school students preparing to enter the professional ministries of The Lutheran Church – Missouri Synod. For over a century it has pursued a dual mission to prepare some students to become pastors and teachers of the church and to prepare other students for other occupations and professions in service to the local and global community.

In the decade following its founding, Concordia continued to grow, adding a fourth year of high school and by 1921 had added the freshman and sophomore college years. The change made it possible for Concordia High School students to remain at their high school alma mater to complete their first two years of college work before transferring to a Concordia Senior College where they would finish their studies in the church professions or teaching.

Concordia College admitted its first class of female students in fall 1950 – much to the delight of the young men on campus and to the dismay of coeducational opponents who predicted a significant drop in academic achievement. Despite this new "distraction," students continued to excel in their studies. Concordia College entered a decade of intense expansion and growth. The college began granting Associate in Arts degrees in 1951 and earned accreditation as a two-year college in 1959.

Concordia College expanded its curriculum in 1962 to include a four-year college degree and awarded its first Bachelor of Arts degrees two years later. By 1967, Concordia had earned accreditation for its four-year liberal arts program, which allowed the college to join the Minnesota Private College Council. At this time, Concordia High School officially separated itself from the college, moved to its suburban location and adopted its new name, Concordia Academy.

Concordia College responded to a growing need for minority teachers in the public schools by forming Metropolitan Teacher Education Program Selection (MTEPS), which enrolled African-American and other under-represented students in a program designed to supplement the curriculum with scholarship support, personal counseling, tutoring as needed, academic planning and similar services. The program was reformed in 1983 as the Southeast Asian Teacher (SEAT) Licensure Program, which serves Hmong and other minority populations in a similar fashion.

A major curricular development in 1985 changed the Minnesota education landscape with the formation of a pioneering program that allowed students to complete their B.A. degree in an accelerated, one course at a time, format. In 1990, an accelerated M.A. program was added.

As Concordia moved into the new millennium, the institution implemented a number of important changes that would reflect the changing needs of the students, the church and the community. Foremost among these was restructuring that enabled Concordia to become a university. In 1997, Concordia College became Concordia University, Saint Paul, and adopted the semester system. It is one of 10 universities and colleges united under the umbrella of the Concordia University System.

The University also developed its current mission and vision statements and refined its strategic priorities. Today, four colleges and two schools comprise Concordia University: College of Arts and Sciences, College of Business and Organizational Leadership, College of Education, College of Vocation and Ministry, School of Continuing Studies, and School of Graduate Studies.

In 1999, Concordia University became the state's first private university competing in NCAA Division II. Concordia University also was Minnesota's first private, four-year institution to become a "laptop campus," providing a laptop computer to all full-time traditional students.

Concordia University continues to grow to meet the needs of students, the church and the community, while at the same time holding steadfast its historical values and mission.

ACCREDITATION

Concordia University, Saint Paul, is accredited by The Higher Learning Commission (HLC) and is a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools (NCA)*. The University has been accredited since 1967, with re-accreditation given in 2008. The current accreditation is through 2018.

Concordia University is a member of the Council for Higher Education Administration (CHEA). A national advocate and institutional voice for self-regulation of academic quality through accreditation, CHEA is an association of 3,000 degree-granting colleges and universities and recognized 60 institutional and programmatic accrediting organizations.

Any current or prospective student may, upon request to the Office of Academic Affairs, review a copy of the documents pertaining to the university's accreditations and approvals.

In addition, the following programs hold specialized accreditations and approvals:

BUSINESS PROGRAMS

Concordia University is nationally accredited by the Association of Collegiate Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP) to offer the Bachelor of Business Administration with the following majors:

- Accounting
- Finance
- Marketing
- Double major – Accounting and Finance
- Double major – Finance and Marketing

The most recent accreditation for the Bachelor of Business Administration was granted in April 2005.

FAMILY LIFE EDUCATION PROGRAMS

The National Council on Family Relations (NCFR) has fully accredited both the undergraduate and graduate programs in Family Life Education. The NCFR provides certification for the profession of family life education. Thus, students who complete the undergraduate or graduate FLE programs are eligible for certification as a Family Life Educator (CFLE). The NCFR accreditation is in place through 2015.

TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAMS

All professional teacher education licensure programs have been accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE)* since 1969. NCATE is recognized by the United States Department of Education and the Council for Higher Education as a professional accrediting body for teacher preparation. NCATE determines which colleges of education meet rigorous national standards in preparing teachers and other classroom specialists. The Concordia University, Saint Paul, programs were most recently reviewed in 2008 and reaccreditation was granted through 2015. All graduate programs in education are also fully accredited by NCATE. Additionally, all teacher licensure programs are approved by the Minnesota Board of Teaching with the most recent approval completed in 2008 and through 2015.

CAMPUS

Concordia University is located in the Midway district of Saint Paul, Minnesota, on Marshall Avenue between Snelling and Lexington, immediately south of United States Interstate 94, which joins Saint Paul and Minneapolis, often referred to as the "Twin Cities."

The 51-acre campus includes residence halls; classrooms; a science building; a music building; an art center and student union; a theatre arts center; a library technology center; a chapel; a cafeteria; a gymnasium and health and fitness center; and administration and faculty complexes. These facilities are conveniently located and many of them are interconnected. Athletic fields and university-owned apartment buildings are nearby. All teaching, activity, and ground level housing areas are accessible to those with disabilities.

Concordia University students are only minutes away from all that the metropolitan Twin Cities has to offer. Whether students seek employment possibilities, recreational pastimes, educational enrichment, service learning and community service opportunities, cultural enjoyment, or leisure activities unique to their own needs, at Concordia there are excellent opportunities for fulfillment.

FACILITIES

ARNDT SCIENCE HALL

The 26,000-square-foot Arndt Science Hall was constructed in 1965 and remodeled in 1989. The Science Hall offers a cadaver laboratory (new in fall, 2011), audio-visual facilities, faculty offices, a student lounge, a research lab and classrooms for physics, chemistry, biology, and math. Professor Edward L. Arndt, in whose memory the building is named, served at Concordia from 1897-1910 as the "first professor of science" and taught physics, geology, botany, zoology, and physiology.

BUENGER EDUCATION CENTER (BEC)

The BEC is named in honor of Dr. Theodore Buenger, Concordia's first president, who served in that capacity from 1893 – 1927, and continued as a faculty member until 1943. The BEC offers faculty offices, as well as a 4,000-square-foot event room. The BEC event room seats between 175 – 225 people and is commonly used for networking events, receptions, banquets, lectures, and club events.

BUETOW MEMORIAL MUSIC CENTER

Constructed in 1972, the 31,000-square-foot music center was named in honor of the late Herbert P. Buetow, a Saint Paul industrialist, philanthropist and Lutheran layman. The Center includes piano and organ teaching studios and practice stations; choral, orchestra, and band rooms; general classrooms; art exhibit area; and faculty offices. The uniquely designed recital hall, seating nearly 500 people, also houses the 44-rank Schlicker concert organ, a gift from local entrepreneurs, Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Schilling.

CONCORDIA ART CENTER

The 23,000-square-foot Student Union was remodeled and renamed the Concordia Art Center in 2009 and houses facilities for the University's Art Department. In addition to faculty offices, there is working space for students enrolled in printmaking, painting, and other art studies. The Art Center also has a snack bar and study area on its main floor.

MEYER HALL

The 37,000-square-foot Classroom Building, as it was originally known, was constructed in 1917. The building was renamed Meyer Hall in 2006 in honor of Dr. Loma Meyer. Although primarily used for instructional purposes, the building also accommodates several administrative offices.

DINING HALL

The Dining Hall is located at the northern end of the campus' six main buildings which form a corridor. The Dining Hall is on the second floor, the Hoffmann Institute and Health Center are located on the top floor, and the President's Conference Room is on the lower level.

FANDREI CENTER

The Fandrei Center was acquired from the City of Saint Paul in 2003 and was dedicated in honor of Philip and LaVerne Fandrei. This building offers staff offices, athletic department offices, a classroom, and a locker room for the football team.

GANGELHOFF CENTER

The 70,000-square-foot Gangelhoff Center was completed in 1993 and was named after its benefactors, Ronald and Doris Gangelhoff. The center serves the university's academic, health, physical fitness, and recreational needs. This structure features a 45,000-square-foot arena that boasts four full-size basketball courts; a 200-meter running track; and an arena floor that accommodates basketball, volleyball, tennis, badminton, and indoor soccer. The Gangelhoff Center arena has a seating capacity of more than 3,000 and has hosted conventions, concerts and trade shows. It also provides a strength and conditioning room, a classroom and lounge areas for breakout sessions including a concession stand and a fully staffed athletic training room.

GRAEBNER MEMORIAL CHAPEL

Graebner Memorial Chapel, built in 1911, was formerly the school's gymnasium and was transformed into the chapel in 1955. It currently accommodates up to 400 people. The chapel is named for Dr. Martin Adolph Henry Graebner, who served as second president of Concordia from 1927 – 1946. The 3,500-square-foot Cross of Christ Fellowship Center addition was completed in 2008, where events are now held. The Fellowship Center also includes the Carlander Room and the Underground, which are primarily used for meetings.

LIBRARY TECHNOLOGY CENTER (LTC)

The 43,000-square-foot Library Technology Center, completed in 2003, provides academic materials, study space and LTC staff offices. The lower level houses up to 124,000 circulating collection of books and also serves as a space for special collections, meeting rooms and staff offices. The circulation desk and reference desk, as well as the curriculum and reference collections, are located on the main floor of the building. The upper level of the LTC is comprised of seven classrooms and the Faculty Scholarship Center. Concordia's virtual library, the Cooperating Libraries in Consortium (CLICnet), provides 1.5 million holdings representing up to one million unique titles.

LUTHERAN MEMORIAL CENTER (LMC)

The 30,000-square-foot Lutheran Memorial Center was opened in 1953 as the school's gymnasium, but was remodeled in 1999 to house the College of Business and Organizational Leadership, the School of Continuing Studies, and other administrative department offices. The LMC is dedicated to those young men and women who lost their lives during World War II. The building currently houses the offices of Admissions, Financial Services, University Advancement, University Marketing, and the Ceramics studio.

POEHLER ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

Dedicated in 1970, this three-story, 25,000-square-foot structure houses faculty offices for the School of Education, the School of Arts and Sciences, the School of Vocation and Ministry and other administrative offices. The building is named in honor of Concordia's third president, Dr. William A. Poehler, who served from 1946 – 1970.

RESIDENCE HALLS

HYATT VILLAGE

At 28,000-square-feet, Hyatt Village is an air conditioned, suite-style apartment housing complex which was dedicated in 1984. Each suite has two 10' by 12' rooms and one private bathroom.

LUTHER HALL

The 36,000-square-foot Luther Hall was dedicated in 1925 as first-year, female student housing. Each room is 12' by 18'. The hall is connected to the campus tunnel.

HOLST HALL

This 102,000-square-foot, apartment-style residence hall houses 300 upperclassmen. The building was originally called the Residence Life Center when it opened in 2008. The RLC was rededicated as Holst Hall in May 2011 in honor of the Rev. Dr. Robert Holst, who retired as Concordia's eight university president. Holst Hall offers apartment-style 4-bedroom, 2-bedroom and studio units. Each suite includes a private bathroom, fully equipped kitchen, and furnished living room and bedrooms. Building amenities include a fitness center, laundry facility, media room and meetings spaces for student groups.

WOLLAEGER HALL

The 35,000-square-foot Wollaeger Hall serves as first-year, male student housing on the upper level. This hall is air conditioned and houses two students per 12 foot by 18 foot room. Wollaeger features the Barbara Schoenbeck Early Learning Center and the Hand-In-Hand Child Care Center on the main floor.

SEA FOAM STADIUM

Sea Foam Stadium was opened in 2009. It seats up to 3,500 spectators and includes an athletic field with artificial turf, an 8-lane running track, field equipment, bleachers, concession facilities, and an inflatable dome during the winter months. The opening of Sea Foam Stadium brought football back on-campus for the first time in 30 years, when the original field was sacrificed to highway construction.

THEATRE ARTS CENTER

The Concordia Theatre Arts Center, which is connected to the Buetow Music Center, was completed at 35,000-square-feet in 1994. The new facility supports theatre education and experiences for students, as well as community audiences. It houses the 350-seat flexible proscenium E.M. Pearson Theatre; rehearsal, dance, costume, and scenery studios; theatrical classrooms; a 100-seat Westlund black box theatre laboratory; elevator orchestra pit; state-of-the-art lighting and sound control systems; and offices.

DIVERSITY INITIATIVES

DIVERSITY AFFAIRS OFFICE

The Diversity Affairs Office serves as an advocate and resource for students, and works collaboratively with staff and faculty to promote an inclusive, Christ-centered campus community. With support from others, the Diversity Affairs office provides:

- vision and leadership for the university's diversity efforts through creative programming, consultation and partnerships;
- supportive and sustaining relationships with students, colleagues and various public constituents;
- attention to needs, issues, and concerns impacting diversity throughout the campus;
- oversight of the university's strategic diversity priorities;
- coordination of activities that promote the identity of students of color, and
- opportunities for celebration of the harmony in diversity on the campus and within the community.

STUDENTS OF COLOR MENTORING PROGRAM

To orient new Students of Color to services, activities and opportunities at Concordia University, a mentoring program is available to all freshmen and transfer students of color. Mentors of color:

- provide leadership, advice, communication, direction and support to new students of color
- promote awareness of various services and activities
- foster familiarity and comfort with the campus and other students and
- motivate students in social, academic and extracurricular activities.

Monthly group activities or events are planned for new students of color, as well as individual opportunities for conversations, interactions, study time, and fellowship. New students who are mentored can serve as mentors in future years. Skills such as team building, responsibility, communication, leadership, time management, and planning are all shared and learned within this program.

UNITED MINDS OF JOINT ACTION (UMOJA)

United Minds of Joint Action (UMOJA) is an organization that provides African American students opportunities for leadership, mentoring, advocacy, outreach, internships, and culture-specific educational, social and recreational activities. Opportunities to serve as officers, committee chairs, artists, performers and ambassadors exist from the freshmen to senior years. The mission of UMOJA is to:

- foster academic achievement and service,
- address issues and concerns affecting students of color,
- promote an understanding and appreciation of cultural differences, and
- create unity among students of multi-cultural heritage within Concordia University and the surrounding community.

CONCORDIA HMONG UNITY STUDENT ASSOCIATION (CHUSA)

Concordia has an active Hmong club and support program, which provides advocacy, leadership experiences, internship opportunities and social connections. CHUSA's mission is to provide mutual support for students (Hmong and non-Hmong) and to address the particular concerns of students. CHUSA offers students a channel to make meaningful connections with other students and the overall campus. From intramural sports to the Annual Asian Festival, CHUSA's (formerly SEASA) presence on campus is widely known and highly respected. The goals of the association are:

- to promote and understand Hmong Cultural awareness through cooperation and unity at Concordia University, Saint Paul
- to promote the Hmong Minor program and other Hmong related initiatives at Concordia University, Saint Paul
- to promote and develop an effective communication and understanding of the Hmong people throughout the Concordia community, on and off campus
- to promote academic achievement of CHUSA members and encourage them to use it for benefit of the Concordia University community and throughout the Twin Cities

- to educate and promote the Concordia University college experience through activities, events and collaboration with other clubs and organizations throughout the Twin Cities.

For information about CHUSA contact Professor Lee Pao Xiong, Director of the Center for Hmong Studies at xiong@csp.edu or at (651) 641-8870.

For inquiries relating to any diversity initiatives, please contact Dr. Cheryl Chatman, Executive Vice President and Dean of Diversity at chatman@csp.edu or at (651) 603-6151.

FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT – CONFIDENTIALITY

Students enrolled at Concordia University, Saint Paul, are required to give certain information in order that the University may make reasonable judgments about them, provide services, and give informed advice regarding courses to be followed. Such personal data and information may become part of the student education record. Students may make the justifiable assumption that the University, as custodian of this data, will preserve the data's private nature. By requiring or requesting such information, Concordia University gives assurance that the information will be protected against improper disclosure.

Concordia University observes the following principles:

1. Appropriate Concordia University officials are held directly responsible and accountable for the careful protection of student education records against possible misuse.
2. Within Concordia University, student education records will be used only for appropriate research, educational, and Concordia University administrative functions. Access to those records is allowed only to those members of Concordia University community whose designated responsibilities reasonably require access or to persons to whom the student has given written permission for access.

3. Concordia University provides the student with the right to access, inspect and obtain copies of all information in student education records except a) financial information submitted by parents and b) confidential letters and recommendations collected under established policies of confidentiality or to which the student has waived in writing the right of inspection and review.
4. Concordia University gives students the right to request amendment of the contents of student education records, to have a hearing if the result of the request for amendment is unsatisfactory, and to include a statement for inclusion in the record if the decision resulting from the hearing is unacceptable to the student.
5. Concordia University notifies students annually of their privacy rights, their right to file complaints concerning alleged failures of Concordia University to comply with their privacy rights, and where copies of the Concordia University policy and procedures on access to student records may be obtained.
6. The student education records of Concordia University vary in their nature and location. Steps taken to protect against improper disclosure are designed for the circumstance.

STUDENT EDUCATION RECORDS

DIRECTORY INFORMATION – CATEGORY I

The student's name, address, electronic (E-mail) address, home town, telephone number, dates of enrollment and enrollment status (full time, part time, not enrolled, withdrawn and date of withdrawal), major, minor, adviser, photo, college and class, academic awards and honors received (including dean's list recognition), curricular and co-curricular activities, and (in the event of the student's graduation) the degree(s) received/conferred (including dates), are matters of public record or directory information. Therefore, Concordia University officials and departments may provide this information, in answer to inquiries, without requiring authorization from the student. However, students may prohibit disclosure of directory information at any time during their enrollment. The entire student file may be marked confidential if the student completes a Student Information Suppression / Release Form. The form is available in the Bear Center. Records remain suppressed until a Student Information Suppression / Release Form is completed to release information.

DIRECTORY INFORMATION CATEGORY II (FOR STUDENT ATHLETES ONLY)

Past and present participation in university sponsored athletics, physical factors (height, weight), and birthdate are considered directory information for athletes only.

OTHER STUDENT EDUCATION RECORDS

Student education records other than directory information include, but are not limited to: transcripts, test scores, college advising records, disciplinary files, financial aid information, housing records, and records of educational services that are provided to students. Such records are not disclosed to anyone except:

1. The student and others on written authorization by the student;
2. Persons within Concordia University who have a legitimate interest in the information for educational, administrative, or research purposes;
3. Other educational institutions in which the student seeks to enroll, provided the disclosure is limited to official copies of student transcripts or test scores from the appropriate Concordia University office;
4. Other organizations conducting educational research studies provided the studies are conducted in a manner that will not permit identification of students and the information will be destroyed when no longer needed for the purpose for which the study was conducted;
5. Persons in compliance with a court order or lawfully issued subpoena, provided that a reasonable attempt is made to notify the student in advance of compliance thereof;
6. Appropriate persons in connection with an emergency, provided the information is necessary to protect the health or safety of the student or other individuals;
7. Accrediting organizations and state or federal education authorities when the information is needed for auditing, evaluating, or enforcing legal requirements of educational programs, provided the accrediting organizations and authorities protect the data in a manner that will not permit the personal identification of students and personally identifiable information is destroyed when no longer needed;
8. Appropriate persons or agencies in connection with a student's application for or receipt of financial aid to determine eligibility, amount, or conditions of financial aid;
9. Parents of a dependent student as defined under the Internal Revenue Code. (Each time a parent requests access to records the parent must submit a current tax statement listing the dependent student.)

OTHER STUDENT RECORDS – NON ACADEMIC

Concordia University maintains other records that contain information about students. Information in medical or psychological counseling records, including results of examinations by Concordia University personnel, is afforded greater protection. Concordia University obtains such information with a commitment as to its highly private nature. Such records should not be disclosed except (a) under direct written authorization by the student, (b) pursuant to a court order signed by a judge, or (c) as otherwise required by law. Concordia University Security and Human Resources records contain information about students, but are not student education records and are not covered by this policy. University offices which are responsible for such records observe information release policies which protect the subjects of such records against improper disclosure and are consistent with applicable laws.

The Title IX implementing regulations at 34 C.R.F. 106.8(a) require that each recipient designate at least one employee to coordinate its efforts to comply with and carry out its responsibilities under Title IX. The coordinator's responsibilities include investigating complaints communicated to the recipient alleging noncompliance with Title IX. Section 106.8(a) also requires the recipient to notify all students and employees of the name, address, and telephone number of the designated coordinator. Section 106.8(b) requires that each recipient adopt and publish grievance procedures providing for prompt and equitable resolution of student and employee complaints under Title IX. To file a grievance regarding possible Title IX Compliance, grievance must be submitted in writing to Christine McIntosh, Title IX Compliance Officer.

FEDERAL TITLE II REPORTING FOR TEACHER EDUCATION

STUDENT CONSUMER INFORMATION

Concordia University fully complies with Public Law 101-542 The Student Right-to-Know and Campus Security Act, as amended by Public Law 102-26, the Higher Education Technical Amendments of 1991. Under these laws, retention and completion rates for entering students are kept by the associate dean of enrollment and are available to all current and prospective students. The Safety and Security office makes available to all students various policies and statements regarding campus security, including statistics on various types of crime that may have occurred. A copy of the campus Alcohol and Drug Policy can be found in the Student Policies Handbook.

ADMISSIONS: UNDERGRADUATE TRADITIONAL PROGRAMS

GENERAL ADMISSION INFORMATION

Candidates for undergraduate admission to Concordia University must be graduates of a regionally accredited high school or home school or hold the General Education Diploma (GED). Applicants must be persons of good moral character. First year students may apply for admission beginning with fall or spring terms. Transfer students may apply for admission for the fall, spring, or summer terms. Early application is encouraged.

ACADEMIC REQUIREMENTS AND PROCEDURES

Transcripts should demonstrate that candidates have successfully completed requirements in the following high school subjects: four years of English, two years of history/social sciences, two years each of mathematics and science, two years of fine arts, and one year of health/physical education. Applicants who have not had the college preparatory courses indicated above may be admitted upon examination of their academic records, provided they meet other admission criteria.

FRESHMEN

1. Complete the Undergraduate Application for Admission and include a $30 non-refundable application fee. Applications are encouraged to be submitted via the undergraduate admission website, www.csp.edu. The fall term deadline is August 1 and winter term is December 1.
2. Request that an official transcript of the high school record to date be sent to Concordia University, and also a FINAL official transcript after the senior year's grades and graduation have been recorded. Passing General Education Development (GED) scores may be accepted in lieu of verification of graduation.
3. Complete the ACT and have an official Student Profile Report sent directly to the Concordia University Office of Undergraduate Admission. Arrangements for taking the ACT should be made through the high school counselor's office. The SAT or the PSAT may be substituted for admission purposes only.
4. Submit one letter of recommendation on forms provided by the Office of Undergraduate Admission. The form is to be completed by a guidance counselor and also serves as the high school transcript release.
5. First-time freshmen who graduated from high school three or more years before application may submit a statement of educational objectives in lieu of items 3 or 4 above.

TRANSFER STUDENTS

1. Complete the application for admission and include a $30 non-refundable application fee. Applications are encouraged to be submitted via the undergraduate admission website, www.csp.edu. The fall term deadline is August 1 and winter term is December 1.
2. Submit official transcripts from each college or post-secondary school attended. If currently enrolled, submit a final transcript after completion of studies. If applicants have not completed one year (45 quarter credits or 20 semester credits) of college at an accredited institution, complete high school transcripts and the official ACT Student Profile Report must be submitted.
3. Submit a letter of recommendation on the form provided by the Office of Undergraduate Admission from the dean of students of the institution last attended.

Transfer students should have maintained an overall grade point average of "C" or better in previous courses. Concordia University accepts an Associate of Arts degree or the Minnesota Transfer Curriculum in lieu of our general education requirements. Exceptions include the 8 credits of Religion and requirements within majors that include general education courses not previously completed.

NOTE: Admission to specific majors is required beyond general admission to the university. See the appropriate departmental major and/or the Office of Undergraduate Admission.

APPLICATION CONTACTS

Persons seeking undergraduate admission should direct all correspondence to:

Office of Undergraduate Admission
Concordia University, Saint Paul
275 Syndicate Street North
Saint Paul, Minnesota 55104-5494

Students may also submit an on-line application at www.csp.edu. Correspondence includes all matters and inquiries connected with admission, such as application forms, letters of recommendation, ACT scores, transcripts and fees. Remittances should be made payable to Concordia University, Saint Paul and sent to the Office of Undergraduate Admission.

ACCEPTANCE TO CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY

All prospective students will be notified by letter of the action taken on their application. Materials submitted should demonstrate that applicants satisfactorily meet admission criteria set by the faculty of Concordia University. Exceptions are considered by the Undergraduate Admissions Committee. Appeals may be made to the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

IMMUNIZATION

Minnesota law requires that all students provide a written statement verifying the date of the last diphtheria/tetanus immunization (must be within the last 10 years) and the dates of two doses of measles, mumps, and rubella immunizations (must be after the age of one year). Certain exemptions are provided in the law for medical contraindication and for conscientiously held beliefs. In addition to the Minnesota law, the Concordia Health Center and the American College Health Association recommends the following immunizations: the Hepatitis B vaccine (a series of three vaccines) and a meningococcal vaccine if you plan to live on campus. Please discuss these recommendations with a health care provider or you may call our Health Center at (651) 641-8235 and talk to the campus nurse.

POST-BACCALAUREATE TEACHER LICENSURE-ONLY STUDENTS (T.E.A.C.H.)

Persons possessing an undergraduate degree from an accredited institution may satisfy teaching licensure requirements in any of the licensure areas offered by Concordia University by completing the undergraduate requirements for the license or endorsement desired. Students have the option of attending as full-time students or as part-time students in Concordia University's T.E.A.C.H. (Teacher Education at Convenient Hours) program. Students enrolled in the T.E.A.C.H. program attend late afternoon/early evening classes and complete daytime student teaching experiences the last semester of residence. T.E.A.C.H. classes are offered each semester and summer. Secondary and K – 12 licensure students may need to take courses during the regular daytime schedule in order to complete content area coursework. Contact the Office of Undergraduate Admission (651) 641-8230 or Professor Rick Benson at (651) 641-8245 or benson@csp.edu for more information.

SOUTHEAST ASIAN TEACHER LICENSURE PROGRAM (S.E.A.T.)

Concordia University offers a program leading to a degree and/or teacher licensure for students currently working in schools. The state of Minnesota supplies some of the scholarship money for this program. Contact the Office of Undergraduate Admission (651) 641-8230 or Director of the SEAT program, Professor Sally Baas at (651) 603-6188 or baas@csp.edu for more information.

VISITING STUDENTS

Concordia University welcomes students on a temporary basis who have been regularly admitted to another regionally accredited post-secondary institution. This enrollment is generally offered to provide special courses at Concordia University that may not be available at the other institution, to meet a temporary special interest, or to provide coursework in the student's present local environment.

In order to be admitted as a visiting student, a basic demographic information form must be completed by the previous college or university (where student was regularly admitted) as well as a form verifying the student's admission and giving the institution's approval for the student's registration plan.

Course requests are submitted to the registrar who acts as advisor to the student. If the student wishes to complete a program, regular admission procedures apply.

RE-ADMISSION OF FORMER STUDENTS OF CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY

1. Apply for re-admission through the Office of Undergraduate Admission. No application fee is required.
2. Submit information concerning activities since last attending Concordia University, send appropriate letters of recommendation if required, and include a statement of educational objectives.
3. Request official transcript of credits earned at other institution(s) to be sent to the Registrar.

5. Any transcripts provided must be evaluated by an outside agency for American equivalents.

POST-SECONDARY ENROLLMENT OPTION PROGRAM (P.S.E.O.)

Minnesota High School juniors and seniors from public, private, and home schools may apply for admission to Concordia University's Post-Secondary Enrollment Options (PSEO) program. A limited number of students are initially accepted on a space available basis. Students with a 3.5 unweighted grade point average (GPA) or higher are encouraged to apply. The application deadline is May 1 each year.

Application procedures include submitting the following:

1. PSEO Application
2. Official High School Transcript
3. Writing Sample
4. Guidance Counselor Letter of Recommendation
5. Minnesota Postsecondary Enrollment Options Program Notice of Student Registration

Students admitted to the Concordia University PSEO program have the opportunity to take 100-200 level course. Upper-level courses are available only with the permission of the university's PSEO Coordinator. Religion courses, independent studies, and summer courses are excluded. Additional fees may not be covered by the PSEO program (i.e. technology fees, private music lessons, etc.)

Academic Disqualification – PSEO students who receive a cumulative GPA of less than 2.00 will be academically disqualified and dismissed from the Concordia University PSEO program. Students may appeal their academic disqualification to the university's PSEO Coordinator.

ADVANCED PLACEMENT PROGRAM

Concordia University will grant credit for most College Board Advanced Placement (AP) Examinations to students with a grade of three, four, or five. Students should have an official score report sent to Concordia University (code number 6114). Concordia University's AP credit policy is posted at www.csp.edu/registrar/current.htm.

COLLEGE-LEVEL EXAMINATION PROGRAM

Concordia University will grant credit for most College-Level Examination Program (CLEP) results to students with a score of 50 or higher. Only those exams listed in the CLEP credit policy will be accepted. Students should have an official score report sent to Concordia University, Saint Paul – code number 6224. Information about the CLEP examinations can be found at www.collegeboard.com/student/testing/clep/about.html. Concordia University's CLEP credit policy is posted at www.csp.edu/registrar/CLEP.htm.

NEW STUDENT ORIENTATION

Both first-year students and transfer students are required to attend one New Student Orientation (NSO) session offered in June or August. Students begin to build relationships with other students, faculty, and staff. They receive pertinent non-academic information, meet with an academic advisor, and then helped to register for classes. Students also receive information about non-academic aspects of life at Concordia University relative to parking permits, voicemail, books, technology, and co-curricular activities, etc.

Fall Semester: All first year students begin the College Transitions class on the first day of Welcome Week. Students are assigned to their College Transitions class by the Office of Academic Advising. During Welcome Week, they spend time with other students, along with a Peer Advisor and Faculty Advisor. Transfer students and returning students are invited to attend Welcome Week activities prior to the beginning of classes. Welcome Week activities build a foundation for enhancing community and promoting academic growth in a Christian environment.

Spring Semester and Summer Semester: First year students and transfer students are required to attend an NSO/Transfer session in December for spring semester and May for summer.

ADMISSION: UNDERGRADUATE DEGREE COMPLETION PROGRAMS AND CONTINUING STUDIES PROGRAMS

LEARNING CONCEPT

The goal of the undergraduate degree completion programs is to link learning directly to a student's present or planned career activities – connecting coursework to life experience. This educational model is designed specifically for adult learning.

- Prior collegiate and extra-collegiate learning derived from academic, personal, and professional experiences since high school may be evaluated for college credit.
- Past and present work experience will serve as a catalyst in the learning process. At the heart of the education model is a major project, which continues throughout the program, blends study and experiential learning.

Concordia University faculty are devoted to this educational model and fully respects students' prior learning as worthwhile and valuable in the educational setting. Experienced in their respective fields, instructors come from Concordia University faculty ranks or are adjunct faculty who have proven expertise and enjoy working with adult students.

NATIONAL COLLEGIATE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION (NCAA), ATHLETICS, AND ELIGIBILITY

Intercollegiate athletics are considered an integral part of Concordia University's educational experience. Concordia University is a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Division II and the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference.

The university is a member of the and agrees to abide by the rules and policies governing the association. Eligibility rules and regulations governing students' participation in intercollegiate athletics are available through the office of the athletic director.

The director of athletics supervises and directs the intercollegiate program of athletics and the intramural program for men and women. The director of athletics recommends the appointment of coaches for the various teams.

The compliance coordinator and faculty athletic representative are charged with the responsibility of ensuring that all participants in intercollegiate competition are eligible in accordance with the rules and regulations of the NCAA prior to their representing the institution in any manner. The Equity in Athletics Disclosure Report can be found in the athletic department. The report can be requested from the athletic compliance officer.

FIRST TIME ENTERING FRESHMAN MUST MEET THE FOLLOWING ENTRY LEVEL REQUIREMENTS SET FORTH BY NCAA

A student-athlete who enrolls in a Division II institution as an entering freshman with no previous full-time college attendance shall meet the following academic requirements, as certified by an initial-eligibility clearinghouse approved by the Executive Committee, and any applicable institutional and conference regulations, to be considered a qualifier and thus be eligible for financial aid, practice and competition during the first academic year in residence.

QUALIFIER

A qualifier is defined as one who is a high-school graduate and who presented the following minimum academic qualifications:

1. A minimum grade point average of 2.00 (based on a maximum 4.00) in a successfully completed core curriculum of at least 14 academic courses.)
2. The record of the above courses and course grades must be certified by the initial-eligibility clearinghouse using an official high-school transcript or official correspondence forwarded directly from the high school or upon a high-school transcript forwarded by an institution's department of University Enrollment, Marketing and Enrollment, and
3. A minimum combined score on the SAT verbal and math sections of 820 or a minimum score of 19 on the ACT. The required SAT or ACT score must be achieved under national testing conditions on a national testing date.

The student-athlete must demonstrate continued academic achievement in subsequent years while participating in athletics.

To participate the second season in a sport, the student must have accumulated 36 quarter or 24 semester institutional degree credit hours with at least a total cumulative grade point average of 2.00 on a 4.00 scale.

To participate the third season, the student must have accumulated 72 quarter or 48 semester institutional degree credit hours with at least a total cumulative grade point average of 2.00 on a 4.00 scale.

Also, a student-athlete shall designate a program of study leading toward a year of enrollment (fifth semester or seventh quarter) and thereafter the credits used to meet the satisfactory-progress requirements must be degree credit toward the student's designated degree program. This provision shall be applicable to the eligibility not only of a continuing student, but also of a transfer student from a four-year or two-year collegiate institution who is entering his or her third year of collegiate enrollment, even if the student has not yet completed an academic year in residence or utilized a season of eligibility in a sport at the certifying institution.

To participate the fourth season, the student must have accumulated 108 quarter or 72 semester institutional degree credit hours with at least a total cumulative grade point average of 2.00 on a 4.00 scale.

Students who have attended college previously are eligible to participate in intercollegiate athletics under other regulations. It is important that the prospective student-athlete determine, with the help of the compliance coordinator, which set of rules apply.

Returning student-athletes are governed by the following rules:

1. A student must be enrolled, attending classes, and be a student in good standing, in a minimum of 12 credit hours at the time of participation. Courses below "100" in the number system and repeated courses do not count toward satisfying the "normal progress" rule.
2. All participants must be making normal progress toward a degree. This is defined as earning 24 semester credits in the previous two semesters before participating in the activity. A maximum of one repeat course per term previously passed with a grade of "D" (or the equivalent) may be counted toward satisfying the 12-hour current enrollment rule. Repeated courses previously passed with a grade of "C" or better cannot be applied to meet either the 12-hour enrollment rule or the 24-credit rule.
3. All athletes must maintain a cumulative grade point average of 2.00.
4. An athlete who is eligible during the regular sports season for a particular sport and who is eligible at the end of the regular sport season shall retain eligibility in the particular sport for participation in post season approved events.
5. A student must meet the standards of the athletic conference and associations of which the university is a member.
6. A student must meet the requirements listed under medical examination in order to be eligible.
7. All athletes must be covered by health and hospitalization insurance.
8. Financial authority regarding participation rests with the director of athletics.
9. A student who officially withdraws from the university within 21 calendar days following official opening date of a class as stated in the catalog and does not transfer to another institution will not be charged with a term of attendance.
10. The director of athletics may refer hardship cases to the compliance coordinator. "Hardships" deal only with seasons or competition and must receive final approval by the conference of the NCAA Student-Athlete Reinstatement Committee.

The university does NOT provide special insurance coverage for athletes. Student-athletes assume the risks associated with competition and practice.

TUITION AND FEES 2011-2012

UNDERGRADUATE TRADITIONAL PROGRAMS (BA, BS, BBA)

Public and private universities are immeasurably different, particularly in how they are funded. One major difference is that private schools rely on their own financial resources. The State of Minnesota provides no operating dollars for Concordia University. Tuition and fees make up a great deal of operating budget for Concordia University. (Additional funding is provided by the generosity of donors and gifts supplied by friends of the university.) As a result, every effort is being made to maintain the moderate cost of attending Concordia University. However, unexpected rising costs may necessitate a change in fees at the beginning of any semester.

PAYMENT OF FEES (TRADITIONAL AND DEGREE COMPLETION)

Tuition and fee charges must be paid in full after the disbursement of financial aid and according to the Financial Payment Plan submitted by students to the university. All students must have a signed Financial Payment Plan on file in the Financial Aid office.

Two payment options are available:

1. Payment in full (or the total balance due after financial aid*): The student agrees to pay the balance by the first day of the CSP Installment Plan for each term
2. CSP Installment Plan: The student agrees to make payments in up to two installments, plus a $35 enrollment fee, according to the published timeline

*Financial aid awards typically include loan opportunities for which students must apply and sign a Promissory Note if any loans are desired.

Late payment or failure to pay fees will result in a 1% finance charge. If a student does not pay the full balance due by the first day of the CSP Installment Plan, the student will be automatically enrolled in the CSP Installment Plan. If a student have not completed financial aid requirements and/or have not received aid by the Installment Plan deadline, the student will automatically enrolled in the Installment Plan. NOTE: The Installment Plan is not available for students that are taking only Continuing Studies courses or “visiting” students.

The Installment Plan dates are outlined in the “Tuition and Fee Payment Procedures” notice for each term. If a student leaves the institution during the semester, he/she forfeits the right to use the installment plan and the balance is due in full.

Concordia University reserves the right to modify payment plans during the time of student enrollment, specifically from year to year.

STUDENTS RECEIVING FINANCIAL AID

Students should be prepared to pay for books and other materials from personal funds until financial aid is disbursed. Only those students with bills paid in full will have access to grades, receive transcripts of credits, and receive diplomas.

Financial aid is not considered part of the payment until the aid award is granted and transmitted onto the student account. This takes place when the student has completed all the necessary paperwork for receiving financial aid.

All fees must be paid in full before next semester’s registration in order to be granted to registration for new courses.

REFUNDS OF TUITION

FOR FULL SEMESTER CLASSES (15 WEEKS):

During the first week of classes	90%
During the second week of classes	80%
During the third week of classes	50%
During the fourth week of classes	33%
During the fifth week of classes	17%
After the fifth week of classes	no refund

NOTE: Each day of summer school counts as one week.

FOR SEVEN WEEK CLASSES:

Before the first day of class	100%
After the first day of class	no refund

Refunds for room and board charges are determined by the last date of occupancy based upon the above schedule. This date is determined by a combination of the date keys are returned, the date the student moved out of the residence hall, and the last day the student was on the meal plan. The refund dates for room and board are sometimes different than the date of discontinuance from the university.

NOTE: See official procedures under "Withdrawal from the University" section of this catalog. Date of discontinuance is determined by the date of the filing of a "Change of Status" form with the Director of Advising.

GRADUATE DEGREE PROGRAMS

Public and private universities are immeasurably different, particularly in how they are funded. One major difference is that private schools rely on their own financial resources. The State of Minnesota provides no operating dollars for Concordia University. Tuition and fees make up a great deal of operating budget for Concordia University. (Additional funding is provided by the generosity of donors and gifts supplied by friends of the university.) As a result, every effort is being made to maintain the moderate cost of attending Concordia University. However, unexpected rising costs may necessitate a change in fees at the beginning of any semester.

NOTE: Once a student enrolls in a graduate cohort program, tuition will not change for that student as long as the student is continuously enrolled in that program and cohort.

PAYMENT OF FEES

Tuition and fee charges must be paid in full after the disbursement of financial aid and according to the Financial Payment Plan submitted by students to the university. All students must have a signed Financial Payment Plan on file in the Financial Aid office. Two payment options are available:

1. Payment in full (or the total balance due after financial aid*): The student agrees to pay the balance by the first day of the CSP Installment Plan for each term
2. CSP Installment Plan: The student agrees to make payments in up to two installments, plus a $35 enrollment fee, according to the published timeline

*Financial aid awards typically include loan opportunities for which students must apply and sign a Promissory Note if any loans are desired.

Late payment or failure to pay fees will result in a 1% finance charge. If a student does not pay the full balance due by the first day of the CSP Installment Plan, the student will be automatically enrolled in the CSP Installment Plan. If a student have not completed financial aid requirements and/or have not received aid by the Installment Plan deadline, the student will automatically enrolled in the Installment Plan. NOTE: The Installment Plan is not available for students that are taking only Continuing Studies courses or “visiting” students.

The Installment Plan dates are outlined in the “Tuition and Fee Payment Procedures” notice for each term. If a student leaves the institution during the semester, he/she forfeits the right to use the installment plan and the balance is due in full.

Concordia University reserves the right to modify payment plans during the time of student enrollment, specifically from year to year.

REFUNDS OF TUITION

Graduate program tuition is 100% refundable before the first day of class. After the first day of class there is no tuition available for refund.

Refunds for room and board charges are determined by the last date of occupancy based upon the above schedule. This date is determined by a combination of the date keys are returned, the date the student moved out of the residence hall, and the last day the student was on the meal plan. Date of discontinuance is determined by the date of the filing of a "Change of Status" form with the Director of Advising.

FINANCIAL AID

Concordia University is committed to providing financial assistance that will ensure educational access for all eligible students.

Awards of financial aid will be made after students have been accepted for admission and all required information has been received. Aid awards are based on the number of credits taken and may be adjusted according to changing circumstances, the availability of funds, and the students' maintenance of satisfactory progress.

Concordia University cooperates with federal, state, church, and private agencies in the awarding of scholarships, grants, loans, and work assistance to qualified students.

Students receiving financial aid have the right to:

- apply for and receive fair and equitable consideration for financial aid based on eligibility and availability of funds
- discuss eligibility with a financial aid staff member
- request consideration for unique and extenuating financial circumstances
- appeal decision regarding eligibility
- request information regarding his/her loan indebtedness and repayment options

Students receiving financial aid have the responsibility to:

- read and respond to all information from the financial aid office in a timely manner
- be informed about application processes and eligibility requirements and apply annually by published deadlines
- maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress as defined in the Concordia University academic catalog
- inform the financial aid office of receipt of any third party scholarships

APPLICATION PROCEDURES FOR FINANCIAL AID

All students applying for financial aid must:

1. be accepted for admission and maintain good academic standing
2. complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The FAFSA will provide instructions on how to have your financial information sent to the university (Concordia University's code is 002347). A FAFSA must be completed every year

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS FOR FINANCIAL AID POLICY (SAFAP)

Each student at Concordia University must maintain satisfactory progress to receive financial aid. Federal regulations require institutions to establish and apply reasonable standards of satisfactory progress for the purpose of the receipt of financial assistance under the Title IV programs.

Federal and state regulations require monitoring of credits for all students and should apply the following minimum cumulative standards of progress beginning with a student's sixth (6th) attempted credit. Students will be evaluated for SAP according to federal guidelines, including possible retroactive fund disbursements should disqualification be impending:

Qualitative:

Students are expected to meet or exceed a cumulative earned grade point average (GPA) of 2.00 for Undergraduate Studies and 3.00 for Graduate Professional Studies.

Quantitative:

Students are expected to meet or exceed a cumulative earned percentage of 67% for all program study areas.

Maximum timeframe for financial aid recipients: Students may continue to receive financial aid up to, but not beyond, 150% of the published credit length of the program. Additionally, failure to meet standards for financial aid purposes is defined as:

Maximum Time-Frame: A student in excess of 150% of the published credit length of the program shall be immediately suspended from financial aid Title IV eligibility.

Financial Aid Warning: A student failing to meet the minimum cumulative qualitative or quantitative standards of academic progress shall be placed on financial aid warning. A student on warning-status will remain eligible for financial aid for one term, but must remedy all SAP standards, or full financial aid suspension will be fully implemented.

Probation: A student failing to meet the minimum cumulative qualitative or quantitative standard of academic progress, who files an accepted appeal (Refer to Student Right to Appeal section) shall be placed on financial aid probation. A student on probation remains eligible to enroll and receive financial aid for one or more terms as defined by the SAP Appeal Committee.

Continuation of Students on Probation Status: A student on probation who meets a term 2.0 GPA Undergraduate and/or 3.00 Graduate standard and the 67% earned percentage standard during the probationary term, as defined by the SAP Appeal Committee, shall be permitted to retain enrollment and financial aid eligibility under a continued probation status, until such time as:(a) the student has met the cumulative standards and is therefore reinstated in good academic standing, or (b) the student fails to meet both the cumulative standards and the term standards, and is therefore suspended, or (c) it is determined it is not possible for the student to meet the cumulative standards within the maximum timeframe allowed, and is therefore suspended.

Suspension: A student on probation failing to meet the minimum cumulative qualitative or quantitative standard of academic progress during his/her next term of enrollment being immediately placed on suspension, unless the student meets Continued Probation standards. A student on suspension will not be allowed to any financial aid funding related to Title IV, including Federal and State, if applicable.

Suspension of Students for Extraordinary Circumstances: A student may be immediately suspended in the event of extraordinary circumstances, including but not limited to a student who was previously suspended, then reinstated and whose academic progress falls below minimum standards of progress, or a student whose attendance pattern demonstrates the abuse of receiving financial aid.

STUDENT RIGHT TO APPEAL

All students have the right to appeal Financial Aid Warning and/or Suspension in the case of extenuating circumstance(s) including, but not limited to:

- death of an immediate family member. Immediate shall be defined as: child, spouse, biological parent or legal guardian
- serious illness. Serious illness shall be defined as lasting longer than 20% of the term in duration or one that required hospitalization
- other extenuating circumstance of relevant nature

To appeal, please send a letter of explanation and supporting documentation (i.e. obituary, letter(s) from health professionals, etc.) to:

CHURCH VOCATION STUDENTS

Church Vocation Scholarships are available to those students enrolled in an undergraduate church work program in the College of Arts and Sciences, College of Education, or College of Vocation and Ministry. To receive this scholarship, students must apply to their home church district and to their home congregation. Contact your congregational pastor or the financial aid office at Concordia University for details.

CURRENT CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

Applications from current Concordia University students must be submitted by May 1 for full consideration for university aid. When budgeted funds have been expended, applications will be processed for federal and state aid only. All information is strictly confidential and will be exchanged only with other aid-granting organizations unless otherwise permitted.

ELIGIBILITY

To maintain eligibility for financial assistance, students must be enrolled in at least six credits per semester. Students enrolled in 3 to 5.5 credits may qualify for Pell Grant or a Minnesota State Grant only. In addition, students must not owe a repayment on any Title IV aid or be in default on a Perkins Loan and/or a Direct/Guaranteed/Federally Insured Loan. Financial aid awards are made for one academic year (fall and spring semesters) unless otherwise requested. Application procedures must be completed each year financial aid is requested. Students must be United States citizens or eligible non-citizens.

FINANCIAL AID FOR SUMMER SCHOOL

Limited financial aid is available for summer school at Concordia University.

TRADITIONAL UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAM STUDENTS

To be eligible to register continuously without conditions, a student must be in good academic standing by maintaining a 3.00 Cumulative GPA and complete a minimum of 12 credits each semester. Incompletes (I) and withdrawals (W) do not count toward completion but do, however, count towards the 150 percent rule. Credits earned in courses listed below the 100 level may be used to complete the minimum 12 credits. The 12 credit minimum will be adjusted proportionately for less than full-time students.

DEGREE COMPLETION UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAM STUDENTS

To be able to register continuously without conditions, a student must achieve satisfactory progress by maintaining a 2.00 Cumulative GPA and if students are taking 12 or more credits must complete at least 12 credits each term. (Student taking 9 to 11 credits will need to pass 9 credits and students taking 6 to 8 credits will need to pass 6 credits). Incompletes (I) and withdrawals (W) do not count toward completion but do, however, count towards the 150 percent rule.

REFUND POLICY FOR FINANCIAL AID

If a student receives financial aid, but drops below full-time status or terminates their enrollment at Concordia University (e.g., drop-out, withdrawal), then the school or the student may be required to return some of the federal funds awarded to the student. If a student receives financial assistance from a grant, scholarship, or loan source outside of the family, then a portion of the refund will be returned to the grant, scholarship, or loan source from which the assistance was received.

In order to withdraw from the university, students must file a Change of Status form with the Registrar's office. This procedure will enable the university to refund the maximum possible institutional charges. Worksheets used to determine the amount of refund or the return of Title IV aid are available upon request from the Financial Aid office.

STUDY ABROAD

Students participating in study abroad opportunities approved by the university (listed in the academic catalog) are considered "in-residence." Most academic and need-based financial aid applies toward study abroad. Exceptions include work-study, music performance, and athletic scholarships, all of which require students to be on campus.

SCHOLARSHIPS

ATHLETIC SCHOLARSHIPS

Athletic scholarships are available in all sports offered at Concordia University. Students must be accepted to the traditional undergraduate program at the University and meet NCAA II eligibility for scholarship consideration. The head coach in each respective sport selects the scholarship recipients and determines the scholarship. These are renewable under NCAA guidelines.

UNIVERSITY MERIT SCHOLARSHIPS

Renewable merit scholarships for new freshman are awarded based on high school academic achievement. The scholarships are awarded at the time of acceptance to Concordia University. The amounts of the merit scholarships range from $2,500 to $10,000. The scholarships are named Regents' Scholarship, President's Scholarship, University Scholarship, and Academic Achievement. They are renewable for three additional years if a certain grade point average (GPA) is maintained.

PRESIDENTIAL STUDENT OF COLOR MERIT SCHOLARSHIP

The Student of Color Merit Scholarship is a competitive scholarship available to freshmen in the traditional undergraduate program and is renewable for three additional years. This is renewable with the appropriate GPA.

LUTHERAN HERITAGE SCHOLARSHIP

The Lutheran Heritage Scholarship is available to new, full time, first year and transfer students from Lutheran Church – Missouri Synod (LCMS) congregations who meet regular admissions standards. This scholarship is renewable with the appropriate GPA.

UNIVERSITY CHURCH VOCATION SCHOLARSHIP

Scholarships up to $2,000 to undergraduate students who intend to serve The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod in a full-time professional ministry after graduation. Students must enroll full-time in a church vocation program and apply to their home congregations and districts. The scholarship, as well as any assistance given by the student's congregation and district, will be part of the financial aid package, reducing need-based loans and work-study. This is renewable with the appropriate GPA.

CHURCH ASSURANCE

New first year and transfer students from LCMS congregations who are preparing for church professions may be eligible for a $10,000 assurance. Thus, qualified students preparing for a church profession will be assured of receiving at least $10,000 of grants from all sources (not counting church and district grants). These are renewable with the appropriate GPA.

NEED-BASED GRANTS

These need-based grants are to students who demonstrate financial need.

SYNODICAL DISTRICT GRANTS FROM THE LUTHERAN CHURCH – MISSOURI SYNOD (LCMS)

District grants, scholarships, and/or loans are often available to church work students. Some LCMS districts, the Lutheran Laymen's Leagues (LLL) of the districts, and the Lutheran Women's Missionary Leagues (LWML) of the districts may offer financial assistance. Amounts, types, and criteria vary by synodical district.

LCMS FORWARD IN REMEMBRANCE MUSIC SCHOLARSHIP

A program administered by the LCMS providing scholarships to church vocation students who excel in music.

LCMS FORWARD IN REMEMBRANCE SCHOLARSHIP

A program administered by the LCMS providing scholarships to church vocation students.

LCMS MINORITY SCHOLARSHIP

A program administered directly by the LCMS providing scholarships to minority church vocation students.

ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIP FUNDS

Endowed scholarship funds are funds provided to support undergraduate students. The principle of the endowed fund is never used because only the generated interest is used for the designated purpose. Endowments are important to the university because they will provide annual income to Concordia University for years to come. The following endowed funds are currently available:

ACADEMIC ADVISING

FOR STUDENTS IN TRADITIONAL PROGRAMS

To help traditional undergraduate students make informed decisions regarding their educational and career goals, Concordia University provides ongoing academic advising and support by University faculty and other advising professionals. New students are assigned a faculty advisor based on indicated interests or intended academic majors. Advisors provide guidance and support around setting career goals, choice of major, course selection, class scheduling, degree requirements and other academic concerns. Peer Advisors provide additional assistance to first-year students and incoming transfer students. For more information about faculty advising in the traditional programs, contact the Director of Traditional Student Advising at (651) 603-6318.

FOR STUDENTS IN DEGREE COMPLETION AND GRADUATE PROGRAMS

Students enrolled in cohort-based graduate and undergraduate programs are assigned an academic advisor to help them determine how they will meet their academic requirements and reach their educational goals. Advisors are assigned based on the student's current program. They help students navigate various university processes, familiarize them with university policies and procedures, and advise and encourage them during their higher education journey. For more information about academic advising in the cohort programs, contact the Lead Academic Advisor at (651) 603-6271.

CAREER SERVICES

Career Services at Concordia University is committed to preparing individuals to make thoughtful and informed choices about their vocation, to integrating career planning with academic and life experience, and to teaching skills that contribute to successful career management. For those students unsure of a career direction, career assessment and counseling are available to help in career planning and decision-making. Numerous resources are available to assist students in investigating different careers, internships, and job opportunities. Part- and full-time job postings and internship listings are available. Access to local and on-campus job and internship fairs is provided through this office. A career development course is also available: Career Exploration and Assessment (SSS 150). Contact the Director of Career Services at (651) 603-6241 or visit Career Services.

COUNSELING SERVICES

Students sometimes experience stress, problems in their relationships with others, confusion about their life plans or career goals, or other kinds of emotional distress. These problems frequently interfere with academic success. Concordia Counseling Services can provide support for students experiencing such problems, and assist them in their process of self-understanding and problem resolution. When additional resources are necessary, Counseling Services can also provide information about other helping services in the Twin Cities area. Contact counselors at (651) 641-8252 for an individual appointment. See also Counseling.

DISABILITY SERVICES

Concordia University is committed to providing an accessible education to qualified, currently enrolled students who have either temporary or more long-term disabilities. A student with a disability is one who has a condition (physical, emotional, cognitive or even medical) that impacts their ability to perform daily activities at the same level as other students. Disability Services can:

- help to determine if you may have a disabling condition
- provide referral for additional testing or support services
- set up academic supports that may help in classes (note taking, test taking, etc.)
- provide individual consultation on a wide variety of disability related concerns

Any student with a question regarding disabilities should contact: disabilityservices@csp.edu, our campus website: <http://concordia.csp.edu/Disability/>. Telephone (non-texting): Director of Disability Services: (651) 641 8272, Disability Specialist at (651) 641 8207. TTY users: Minnesota Relay (711).

HEALTH SERVICES

The Director of Health Services is a registered nurse, who works in conjunction with local health care providers. State law requires that all students be immunized and that Health Services have a record of those immunizations on file. Students are required to provide this information to Health Services prior to the start of classes. All students with special health needs and/or chronic illness should contact the Health Services nurse. Together, the student and the nurse will formulate a plan to meet those needs while the student is at Concordia University. All care and counseling received at Health Services is confidential. No information is released without written permission of the client.

HEALTH INSURANCE

All students are urged to have health and hospitalization insurance. Concordia University offers a plan for students at a competitive price. Students who contemplate any university-related activity deemed to include higher than normal risk must certify satisfactory coverage, or they will be prohibited from participating. Students should carefully check their individual or parents' insurance plans and verify that coverage is provided, given the student's age and location. The university does not accept responsibility for the payment of medical bills or any other damages.

LEARNING SERVICES

Learning Services staff assists students in learning skills and strategies that help them achieve academic and personal success. Learning assistance is provided through individual counseling and through several credit-bearing courses. For more information and learning resources, visit the Learning Services website.

STUDENT SUPPORT SERVICES (SSS) COURSES

SSS 101 College Transitions – The College Transitions course guides and supports students making the transition from high school to university study. It helps students develop the necessary skills, habits, strategies, and values that will empower them to deal effectively with college life. Students with fewer than 20 transfer credits and former PSEO students who earned college credits in a high-school-setting-only are required to take this course their first semester on campus.

SSS 110 College Reading – This course prepares students for the complexity and intensity of college-level reading demands. The course focuses on the types of textual material students will encounter in various academic disciplines, e.g., history, psychology, science, literature, and so on. Emphasis is placed on developing the critical thinking required by college professors when they ask students to read a text in their discipline. Students with ACT scores of less than 20 in Reading are required to take this course their first semester.

SSS 120 College Turning Points – This course is designed to teach students on academic probation successful strategies, learning techniques, practical knowledge, and life management skills to stay on course in their college journey. Students use journals and class discussion to reflect on personal mindsets and decision-making.

SSS 150 Career Exploration and Assessment – Students relate self-understanding, life-style choices, personality inventory results, and career information to decisions about their own careers. Students will apply new insights about themselves to their investigation of career options and future life plans.

SSS 200 Leadership Development – Learn about your own leadership potential and build skills in conflict management, boundary-setting, team building, group facilitation, stress management, and morale boosting. Apply concepts in ethics, servant leadership, emotional intelligence, and leadership styles to your own life and roles today while developing strengths for your future. (This class includes a service-learning component.)

SSS 230 Service-Learning in Costa Rica – This intensive month-long course is offered for CSP students participating in the Concordia University System study abroad consortium in Costa Rica. Students will have the opportunity to contribute to community development initiatives and discover their gifts through a service-learning placement in the community. Students will be placed in a community organization for 12 to 15 hours per week and participate in weekly reflection classes. The course offers direct interaction with locals and enhances students' Spanish skills. Service-learning adds a unique dimension to the study abroad experience, resulting in a greater understanding of the language, culture, and community of the host country.

TUTORING SERVICES

Tutoring for courses and subjects other than writing and composition (which the Writing Center provides) is available free of charge to Concordia University undergraduate students to help them achieve academic success and improve their study skills. Students who would like to improve their grades from B's to A's as well as students who might be struggling in classes may request services.

Students who excel in subjects may apply to become Peer Tutors. This position provides students with the opportunity to explore their interests, connect with others, practice workplace skills, and enjoy the additional benefits of increasing their understanding of a subject. Contact the Tutoring Coordinator at (651) 603-6216 for more information.

WRITING CENTER

Students are encouraged to use the Writing Center, located in Administration Building Office 200, at any stage during the writing process. Writing Center tutors, who include students, staff, and faculty, are trained to assist writers with focus, content, clarity, grammar, and mechanics in their works-in-progress. Students not only receive help on their writing projects, but also learn how to improve their writing skills. Some of these skills may include prewriting, planning, drafting, using sources, revising, and editing. Students may sign up for a half-or full-hour appointment by stopping by the Center or calling (651) 603-6233.

SERVICE LEARNING

Service-learning at Concordia University is defined as an experiential approach to teaching and learning that intentionally combines meaningful community or public service with an academic application, development of civic responsibility and personal growth. Service-learning opportunities are ones that are mutually beneficial. Service-learning opportunities can be either curricular – that is, tied to a class – or co-curricular, and these opportunities may involve direct service, indirect service, advocacy, or research. In addition to several course offerings, the Service-Learning Office also offers a variety of other opportunities for students to engage, including (but not limited to) a student club around homelessness issues, National Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week and National Environmental Awareness Week, social justice Immersion trips over winter and spring breaks, and tutoring/ mentoring at the PLUS Time after-school program. For more information, contact the Service Learning Coordinator at (651) 603-6318 or check out the website at the Service Learning website.

CAMPUS MINISTRY

The purpose of campus ministry at Concordia University, Saint Paul, is to provide a Christ-centered, team based approach to ministry that supports the spiritual formation of a diverse student population within the context of the Christian Gospel.

Vision – Concordia University Campus Ministry is centered upon Jesus Christ, the Living Word of God. Campus Ministry is focused upon serving the spiritual needs of Concordia University students as they experience their spiritual journey. Regardless of one's spiritual background, the Concordia University student may find a place of dialogue, rest, and service within the Campus Ministry experience.

- FISH
- Matthew 25 (Christian service)
- Lutheran Student Fellowship

WORSHIP IN THE CHRISTIAN COMMUNITY

The University's sense of community is rooted in its commitment to a Christian perspective within the Lutheran tradition. Worship and devotions are at the center of campus life and relate to all campus activities, whether academic, social, cultural, or co-curricular. All members of the campus community are welcomed as participants in the devotional assembly: campus devotions each morning and evening, seasonal afternoon or evening or services, festival celebrations, devotional activities in residential units, or individual rooms. Campus worship is facilitated by the Campus Chaplain and normally takes place in Graebner Memorial Chapel.

PASTORAL CARE

Growth in personal life and faith for each student constitutes a concern of the entire campus. Personal and academic counseling services are described elsewhere in this catalog. Above all, however, the university president exercises pastoral leadership for the campus. Spiritual and very personal matters, moreover, may be referred to the Campus Chaplain. All pastoral care is given under the normal assurances of clerical confidentiality and in keeping with Lutheran practice.

STUDENT HOUSING, FOOD SERVICE, SECURITY, AND PARKING

RESIDENCE HALL POLICIES

First-year and second-year students are required to live in university-owned housing unless living with their parents. Exceptions to the policy must be requested in writing and approved by the Student Housing Office. New students are mailed the housing application and agreement by the Office of Undergraduate Admissions.

Returning students obtain a housing application and agreement from the Office of Student Affairs. All room assignments are made by the Associate Dean for Residence Life. Special requests for roommates may be honored. Students are assigned two to a room, except for some larger rooms where three are assigned. Single rooms may be assigned upon request based on availability and seniority for additional charge. Changes in room and roommate assignments must be approved in advance by the Associate Vice President for Student Life. Housing agreements run for the entire academic year.

All residence students are charged an inclusive room and board fee. Refunds are not made for meals missed during the week or for weekends.

Additional information regarding services and expectations that pertain specifically to residential students is included in the Residence Life Handbook which is distributed to residential students and available in the Office of Student Affairs.

Each residence hall room is equipped with local telephone service including voicemail, cable television service, and computer network connections. Rooms are furnished with a bed and mattress, desk and desk chair for each resident, wardrobe and dresser space, and window coverings. Residents must provide their own telephone and linens. Long distance telephone service is available through the university or through a vendor of the student's choice.

Residence halls are normally closed for vacation periods of more than one week. Students may occupy residence halls for vacation periods of one week or less. Food service is not available when classes are not in session. Please refer to the current housing agreement for information on break and vacation periods. All policies and regulations remain in effect during vacation and break periods.

Each residence hall includes laundry facilities, twenty-four hours lounge areas and study rooms for student use. Laundry machines operate with the Concordia University Debit Account feature of the student ID card. Microwave ovens are available in common areas for student use, but are not permitted in student rooms.

Resident Assistants (RAs) aid the Associate Vice President for Student Life in the management of the residence halls. Occupants of residence halls are responsible for rooms and furnishings supplied by Concordia University.

To protect student rights to privacy and other legitimate rights, inspections of rooms will normally be made only when the room occupant is present. The University reserves the right to enter student rooms for cause (health and safety checks, requested or emergency repairs which affect the living unit, room inspections made to protect university property, suspected violations of university regulations or state laws which are obvious to an RA or member of the university staff, requests made by law enforcement agencies, concern for the occupants, and the like).

Student should respect one another's right of quiet enjoyment for purposes of study and sleep. The RA is charged with the responsibility of promoting and maintaining a safe, pleasant and wholesome environment.

The University provides reasonable security services to protect student property. It is expected that students at the University will act in a mature, law-abiding and responsible way. They are expected to obey national, state and local laws and ordinances, respect the rights and privileges of others, be forthright and honest in social and academic conduct and conduct themselves in a manner which brings credit to themselves and the university. In addition, students are expected to obey university regulations which are based on policies established by the Board of Regents and the faculty.

FOOD SERVICE

The university contracts with a company called Sodexo to provide meals in the Dining Hall, the Library Commons, and the Union Station, and other special functions on campus. Sodexo is the exclusive food vendor on campus. No other group, individual, or organization may provide food or food services without the expressed written permission of the food service director.

Residential and commuting students are offered several options for meals on campus. Any resident student, commuting student, faculty, and staff member can purchase a declining balance account of any amount through the director of food service. This allows them to use their Concordia University identification card to purchase items at Union Station or the dining hall for themselves or their guests. A 10 percent incentive bonus is also added to these accounts.

Cash purchases are always welcome at any food service location on campus for students, families, employees, and friends of the university.

UNIVERSITY-OWNED APARTMENTS

Concordia University makes apartment units available on a limited basis to those for whom residence hall life is not well suited. Priority is given based on the date of application and personal circumstances. Apartment agreements with deposits are required. Information about priority and availability of housing may be obtained from Residence Life/Housing at (651) 641-8228.

SECURITY

The Concordia University Safety and Security Departments exist to ensure a safe environment for all members and guests of the campus community. This includes educating students, faculty, and staff so that they may identify safety hazards and security problems. University Security Officers patrol the campus properties to deter potential theft, guard against injury, and provide emergency and non-emergency assistance. Concordia University Security is staffed 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and 365 days a year.

The Department of Security works closely with the Saint Paul Police Department as well as other state and local authorities. Concordia University receives timely police services to help protect life and property in a manner, which is sensitive to both the rights of the individual and the values of the university.

More information about the Department of Security, access to the Campus Crime Report and information pertaining to parking at Concordia University may be found at www.csp.edu/security.

PARKING

The Concordia University parking policy requires that all motor ever on campus used by University students, faculty, and staff be registered with the Department of Security. Vehicles parked in University lots must have a valid Concordia University Parking Permit properly attached to the rear view mirror, facing the windshield. There is no cost to register a motor vehicle with the Department of Security. Failure to register motor vehicles will result in ticketing, immobilizing, and/or the eventual towing of illegally parked vehicles at the owner's expense. Registration of motor vehicles may be completed in the Security Office located on the first floor of Meyer Hall at 275 North Syndicate Street or during Welcome Week.

The university maintains parking lots for students. These are: Lot C, Lot D, Lot E, Lot G, and Lot H. Lots located behind campus apartments may be used by residents of apartments only. Residents will be given a special permit and ONLY they have exclusive rights to park in the apartment lots.

Concordia University is not responsible for any loss or damage to vehicles parked on University property. For further information, contact the Department of Security at (651) 641-8717 or check out the Department of Security web site at Security.

Co-Curricular Activities, Clubs, and Organizations

Co-curricular activities grow out of the curriculum of the university. All co-curricular activities are approved, coordinated and budgeted by the university and/or the Concordia University student association. Co-curricular activities include intramural and intercollegiate athletics, social and recreational events, clubs and special interest groups. Standards of eligibility for participation in co-curricular activities have been established by the faculty. Consult the Concordia University Student Policies Handbook for additional information.

THE STUDENT ASSOCIATION

All students, full-time and part-time, are members of the student association and are privileged to participate in all activities sponsored or controlled by the association.

FINE AND PERFORMING ARTS

ALL STUDENT JURIED ART EXHIBITION

The department of art annually sponsors a show of student art work in the main art gallery on campus. It is open to all students from all colleges and is judged by an outside juror. The work should have been completed within the last year, but need not have been done within the context of course work on campus. The exhibition is traditionally displayed in the months of April and May.

MUSIC GROUPS

The Christus Chorus, Jubilate choir, Concert Band, Jazz Ensemble, Shades of Harmony Multicultural Gospel Choir, Chapel Band, Chamber Choir, Jazz Combo, Handbell Ensemble, Beginning Handbells, Brass Ensemble, Chamber/String Ensemble, Flute Ensemble, Guitar Ensemble, Percussion Ensemble, Saxophone Quartet, Woodwind Ensemble, and vocal ensembles are open to those students who meet eligibility requirements for the respective organization. Auditions for new students are normally held during summer orientation and registration sessions and at the beginning of each academic year during Welcome Week. Choral auditions are also available at the end of each semester. Students participating in instrumental groups usually are expected to furnish their own instruments, but a limited number of instruments are available for a nominal rental fee.

THEATRE ARTS OPPORTUNITIES

The department of theatre arts offers students the opportunity to participate in the theatre arts under the supervision of the artistic and technical faculty and staff. A full schedule of major productions is presented throughout the year including student directed plays and showcases. The theatre program is especially committed to the presentation of musical theatre.

OTHER ACTIVITIES AND ORGANIZATIONS

BOOK OF THE YEAR

Each year Concordia University, Saint Paul selects a "Book of the Year" for students, faculty, and staff to read. The Book of the Year selection committee is comprised of faculty from various academic departments, staff members, and students. Some previous years' selections have been The Greatest Generation Speaks by Tom Brokaw, Pay It Forward by Catherine Ryan Hyde, Profiles in Courage For Our Time introduced and edited by Caroline Kennedy, Choice of Weapons by Gordon Parks, and Growing An Inch by Stanley Gordon West.

The Book of the Year committee selects books based on the following criteria:

- quality of the literature
- connection to classes
- potential to involve students, faculty and staff and to generate meaningful campus-wide activities; connection to fine arts
- relevance to our university's mission, vision and strategic priorities
- potential for convocations and presentations

CENTER FOR HMONG STUDIES

In the fulfillment of Concordia's mission to prepare students for thoughtful and informed living, for dedicated service to God and humanity, and for the enlightened care of God's creation, the Center for Hmong Studies was founded in 2005 to provide a significant place to cultivate the heritage of the Hmong people, promote education and empower the Hmong community to pursue their respective vocations, recognize their strengths and abilities, and utilize their skills for service. The Center for Hmong Studies seeks to cultivate the past, interpret the present, and enrich the future through research and publication, curriculum and teaching, and conference and convening.

MISSION

The mission of the Center for Hmong Studies is to cultivate the past, interpret the present and enrich the future through research and publication, teaching and curriculum, and conferences and convening.

VISION

The Center for Hmong Studies strives to create a high academic program that will strike a balance between academic study and community engagement.

GOALS

1. Make Concordia University, Saint Paul a higher educational institution of choice for Hmong as well as for non-Hmong students throughout the world who have an interest in Hmong history, culture and language.
2. Make Concordia University, Saint Paul the place "to go to" for Hmong scholars, researchers, the media, businesses and government institutions on Hmong related issues and topics.
3. Enrich the lives of each graduating student and expand their knowledge about the Hmong people through the teaching and learning of Hmong history, culture and language.
4. Encourage, promote and facilitate scholarly research in the Hmong community.

OBJECTIVES

1. Offer an academic minor in Hmong Studies.
2. Offer an academic conference every other year for scholars to promote and share their research findings on the Hmong people and society.
3. Initiate one scholarly research project a year on topics that would be beneficial and of interest to the Hmong and the community at large.
4. Conduct one Hmong study tour a year to Asia.

For further information, contact Professor Lee Pao Xiong, Director of the Center for Hmong Studies, at xiong@csp.edu or (651) 641-8870. The center's website is www.csp.edu/hmongcenter

OSWALD HOFFMAN INSTITUTE FOR CHRISTIAN OUTREACH

This organization was formerly known as the Oswald Hoffman School of Christian Outreach. The Institute is the center for Evangelism and Mission studies creating mission vision and equipping outreach leaders centered at Concordia University. The purpose of the Hoffmann Institute is to:

1. prepare students for professional outreach ministries
2. encourage and develop an active outreach consciousness within the campus community and
3. raise outreach vision, commitment, involvement and leadership throughout the church

In partnership with Concordia University, the Hoffmann Institute faculty serve as professors in the classroom and teach courses offered in the undergraduate outreach major and minor which lead toward certification as a Director of Christian Outreach (DCO). In addition, the Hoffmann Institute developed and manages the Master of Arts in Christian Outreach Leadership (MACOL) which also offers DCO certification for satisfactory completion of all requirements. These degrees prepare students for outreach in:

1. congregational based cross-cultural and same culture ministries
2. cross-cultural outreach ministries in the states and around the world and
3. Bible translation and literacy ministries in foreign contexts

Outreach education for mission-minded students pursuing other careers also enroll in these courses such as Directors of Christian Education, Directors of Parish Music, Lutheran Classroom Teachers, Pre-pastoral, and liberal arts students.

The contact information for the Hoffman Institute is: (651) 641-8701 and <http://www.hoffmann-institute.org/>

As a separately funded, donation-supported outreach organization of the university, the Hoffmann Institute develops programs on- and off-campus to serve the church in outreach through the following:

- Courses, convocations, and workshops including distance education
- World Mission and Evangelism Weeks
- Mission Fairs and other special events
- Participation in the work of the church
- Student projects
- Intentional in-depth outreach training

ACADEMIC INFORMATION – UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS

DEFINITION OF ACADEMIC TERMS

There are three 14-week semesters offered at Concordia University. The traditional academic year consists of fall and spring semesters plus final examination days each semester, fall and spring.

Bachelor of Arts degree consists of a major of typically 32 to 44 credits or two minors, general education courses, and elective courses totaling a minimum of 128 credits.

Bachelor of Business Administration degree consists of a major in Accounting, Business Management, Finance, or Marketing, general education courses, and electives courses totaling a minimum of 128 credits.

Bachelor of Science degree consists of a major of typically 45 to 60 credits, general education courses, and elective courses totaling a minimum of 128 credits.

A certificate of proficiency is awarded by the faculty when prescribed courses are met and proficiencies are demonstrated.

Certification for church work is the process by which the faculty approves candidates for placement in the public ministry of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod (LCMS); including teacher, Director of Christian Education, Director of Christian Outreach, and Director of Parish Music.

A credit means a semester hour credit. It represents one class meeting of 50 minutes or a laboratory double period of one hundred minutes each week for one semester of the academic year.

An elective course is a course chosen in addition to major, minor, or emphasis requirements.

An emphasis consists of 12 to 16 credits taken in courses in one area or related areas of study.

The Framework for Learning is a statement of the “university outcomes” that the faculty have determined are the essential “learnings” for any student who attends Concordia University, Saint Paul. The function of the Framework for Learning is to make explicit how Concordia University understands and applies its mission statement. The Framework for Learning includes goals and competencies in eight areas: aesthetic, intellectual, physical, spiritual, communication, interpersonal, civic, and global.

The purpose of the General Education program of coursework in 10 different “goal areas” that includes 47 to 52 semester credits of coursework that is designed to provide Concordia University students with the opportunity to grow in their ability to:

- A. discover, confront and explore unfamiliar information and ideas;
- B. use available academic resources and skills to think analytically, critically, and synthetically;
- C. use appropriate and current technology for research and problem solving; and
- D. ideally move beyond the academic data itself to formulate and express new insights and ideas.

An academic hour is a 50-minute period per week required in a given course to earn a semester hour credit.

An integrative course is comprised of two or more disciplines, is team-taught, and makes connections to life beyond academic material.

A teaching licensure is recommended by the university after completion of requirements for the desired license and is granted by the state of Minnesota.

An academic major normally consists of 32 to 44 credits taken in courses in one area or related areas of study prescribed by the faculty.

An academic minor normally consists of 20 to 24 credits taken in courses in one area or related areas of study prescribed by the faculty.

A prerequisite is a course which students are required to take before being eligible to enroll in an advanced course.

A specialization or specialty is a focused group of courses required in addition to a major to attain a certification such as for teaching licensure.

Summer school for traditional academic programs consists of three, three-week course sessions in May, June, and July. Courses typically meet daily for 14 days and can usually be completed in one of the summer sessions. Undergraduate degree completion programs and graduate programs have seven week summer sessions as a part of the regular calendar.

A track is one of two or more alternative sets of courses prescribed by the faculty within a major. The purpose of a track is to provide direction to a student in meeting interest, vocational, or other needs while fulfilling the requirements of a major.

A transcript of credits is a certified record of all grades earned and all courses attempted at a given school, college or university.

ACADEMIC POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

REGISTRATION

The requirement for completion of an undergraduate degree at Concordia University, Saint Paul, is 128 semester credits. Graduate degrees can be earned for 30 or more semester credits depending on the program. The average academic load for a full-time undergraduate student is 16 credits. The maximum load for undergraduate students without payment of additional fees is 19 credits. Students who desire an academic overload without the required cumulative grade point average must petition through the advisor for permission.

Ordinarily freshmen and sophomore students register for courses numbered from 100 to 299. Faculty and/or Staff Advisors assist in the planning and approval of course registration. Credits earned in courses numbered less than 100 are not applicable to graduation requirements.

In undergraduate degree completion programs, enrollment is considered continuous throughout the program or until the student informs their academic advisor about a discontinuation. Students who stop participating but have not officially discontinued are liable for the cost of attendance.

TIME LIMITS FOR COMPLETION

There is no time limit for completion of a degree in undergraduate programs at Concordia University.

CLASSIFICATION OF STUDENTS

FULL-TIME STUDENTS

Full-time students are those who have satisfied the entrance requirements, have been admitted to the university and are registered for a minimum of 12 credits per semester. The Minnesota State Grant program defines a full-time student as one who is registered for a minimum of 15 credits per semester.

PART-TIME STUDENTS

Undergraduate students are considered part time when they carry 11 credits or fewer during a semester. Undergraduate students carrying 9 to 11 credits are classified as three-fourths time students; students carrying 6 to 8 credits are classified as half time students.

Undergraduate students are placed in a class according to the total number of credits earned:

Freshman	up to 31 credits
Sophomore	32 to 63 credits
Junior	64 to 95 credits

REPEATING COURSES

Students may repeat a course. If students repeat a course, both courses remain on the student's transcript but only the higher/highest grade is used in computing a student's cumulative grade point average (CGPA).

AUDITING COURSES

Students who satisfy the requirements for admission may register to audit a course without receiving academic credit for the course. Registration procedures are the same as for credit-bearing courses. The course fee is at a reduced rate unless the course fits under the regular credit limit of 19 credits per semester. Auditing students need not meet regular course requirements but should confer with the instructor as to their privileges and responsibilities in the course. Upon completion of the course, an entry is made on the student's permanent record along with other classes. Students may find it helpful to audit a course to review materials for a more advanced course or to enrich an interest area. Auditors are excluded from laboratory and studio participation. Students may change regular registration to an audit before the end of the eighth week of the semester. Registration may be canceled for non-attendance.

CO-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Members and managers of an intercollegiate team (one complete season) and cheerleaders and drill team members may apply a maximum of three credits in three different athletic activities toward graduation requirements as electives. Any additional credit earned in the same or other co-curricular activities will be indicated on the transcript but will not meet graduation requirements.

INDEPENDENT STUDY

Independent study is an educational experience conducted for credit outside the regularly scheduled classroom offerings. It may be an existing course or an approved student/faculty designed course. Either experience must be conducted under the supervision of an instructor who is responsible for the academic soundness of the proposal. Each credit awarded must represent approximately 35 clock hours of academic work.

Credit for independent studies may be used to fulfill any curriculum requirement. Only four credits of independent study may be taken at one time. No more than 12 credits of independent study may be counted toward graduation requirements. Students are responsible for completing an application form that specifies course goals/objectives and projected outcomes, learning strategies and evaluation procedures. The proposal must be approved by the advisor, instructor, department chair and the dean of the college. An independent study application form may be submitted during regular registration times but no later than the end of the second week of a class. Forms are available in the academic advising office, on the university website, and in the Office of the Registrar.

INTERNSHIPS

Students may apply for internship programs with the approval of the instructor, the advisor, the department chair, the director of advising and the registrar. Internship guidelines are available from the appropriate department. Application blanks are available in the academic advising office and on the web. No more than one-third of a major or a minor may consist of internship credits; normally, no more than 12 field-based experience credits may be applied toward the minimum of 128 credits required for the baccalaureate degree. The number of credits applicable to a major, minor or emphasis is determined in advance by the appropriate department(s). Separate learning contracts are written with the department(s) and work is evaluated by a faculty member or an adjunct faculty member from each department involved. The Director of Christian Education and Director of Christian Outreach programs require an internship. Separate guidelines apply to these internships. The Pass/No Pass grade is given for all field-based learning experiences.

ATTENDANCE IN CLASS AND COMPLETION OF ASSIGNMENTS

The university assumes that all registered students have freely accepted personal responsibility for regular class attendance. Students are expected to attend all class meetings and laboratory sessions for the courses in which they are enrolled. In cases of emergencies and/or unforeseen circumstances students are expected to notify their instructors and arrange for any possible “makeup” assignments; however, instructors are not required to allow for such “makeup” assignments. Instructors will record attendance and specify procedures for handling absences in course syllabi.

The undergraduate degree completion programs are unique and typically offer an accelerated calendar for adults which require fewer but more intense class sessions, chats sessions, and the like. Since these courses are only seven weeks in length, missing “class” is highly discouraged and may affect the final grade and/or course completion. In cases of extreme emergencies and unforeseen circumstances students are expected to notify their instructors and arrange any possible “makeup” assignments; however, instructors are not required in any way to allow for such “makeup” assignments.

All course assignments are also to be completed according to established deadlines. Instructors are not required in any way to accept coursework beyond the established deadline. Missing assignment deadlines will most certainly impact a grade in a course.

Additional attendance guidelines and requirements for degree completion undergraduate students:

- If a student must miss a class/chat because of an emergency or illness, he/she is required to complete his/her regular assignments(s) and complete a make-up assignment that contributes to the subject being studied and enhances the class-learning environment. A missed class/chat may result in a grade reduction.
- If a student misses two classes/chats, the instructor and the student need to discuss the student's ability to complete the course. In addition, the student will be required to complete his/her regular assignment(s) and extra work. Two missed classes/chats will result in additional grade reduction.
- Any additional absences will require retaking the course. The student will be billed and a grade will be issued each time the course is taken.
- Regular attendance is a key factor in determining the continuing financial aid support.
- Instructors understand the uncertainty of military requirements and other contractual obligations, and they will work with the student to meet educational goals.
- It is the student's responsibility to contact the instructor to make appropriate arrangements.

ASSESSMENT OF STUDENT LEARNING AND OTHER MATTERS

Concordia University conducts a series of activities to assess – among other things – student learning, program effectiveness, and student perceptions of faculty effectiveness. The assessment program at Concordia University, Saint Paul is a process for educational improvement that helps both the institution and the individual student. Assessment results help determine how well the institution is meeting its mission and goals for students, what is working and where changes need to be made. In addition, assessments provide students with feedback to monitor progress toward their own educational goals. This assessment program uses a variety of tools to measure students learning and development beyond what simple grades can indicate. In some cases, assessment results will demonstrate how Concordia University students compare in certain subject areas to students across the country. Many of the assessment activities are part of courses and some will be a part of the process of applying for an academic major. Other assessments will involve student participation in surveys, focus groups or interviews. As part of the general education program and at the completion of the academic major and minor, students will also complete an outcomes assessment. As alumni, students will be asked to participate in assessment surveys that inquire about the impact their Concordia University education has had for them. More information about assessment activities can be obtained from academic advisors or the associate dean for academic affairs.

DROP REGISTRATION FROM COURSES WITHOUT ACADEMIC RECORD

FULL SEMESTER COURSES

Students may withdraw from a course without record during the first two weeks of the course.

HALF SEMESTER COURSES (7 WEEK COURSES)

Students may withdraw from a course without record during the first week of the course.

WITHDRAWAL FROM COURSES/WITHDRAWAL WITH ACADEMIC RECORD

FULL SEMESTER COURSES

Students may withdraw from full semester courses any time after the second week of the course through the eleventh week and receive a "W" grade.

HALF SEMESTER COURSES

Students may withdraw from half semester courses any time after the first week of the course through the fifth week and receive a "W" grade.

WITHDRAWAL PROCEDURES

- Students are able to drop courses online through the drop dates posted on the academic calendar.
- After the drop period is over, students must submit a signed Course Change Form with instructor and advisor signatures.
- Effective dates for withdrawals will be determined by the date when the properly completed Course Change Form is received in the Registrar's Office.
- Withdrawal from coursework may have financial implications. Students will receive 100% tuition refunds only for courses from which they withdrew prior to the course starting. See financial policies for further information.

WITHDRAWAL FROM THE UNIVERSITY

Students who desire to discontinue from the university, take a leave of absence, or changing their cohort must discuss their plans with their advisor. Traditional undergraduate students will contact the Director of Academic Advising, Renee Rerko at (651) 603-6318 or rerko@csp.edu for an exit interview. It is the student's responsibility to fulfill all necessary obligations by contacting the following: financial aid office, student accounts, library/information services/help desk, security, and offices issuing special equipment, such as laptops, instruments, keys, and athletic equipment. Students who officially withdraw from school will receive refunds and grades according to the standard schedule. Students who discontinue without notice will be liable for any financial obligations.

Students who are asked to leave Concordia University as a result of administrative dismissal or academic disqualification, may appeal. Contact the Director of Academic Advising, Renee Rerko at (651) 603-6318 or rerko@csp.edu.

GRADING SYSTEM – UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS

A	Superior	4.00 grade points
A-		3.67 grade points
B+		3.33 grade points
B	Above Average	3.00 grade points
B-		2.67 grade points
C+		2.33 grade points
C	Average	2.00 grade points
C-		1.67 grade points
D+		1.33 grade points
D	Below Average	1.00 grade points
D-		.67 grade points
F		zero grade points
P	Pass
N	No pass
X		Continuing registration for more than one term
V	Audit
W	Withdrawal	Student officially withdrew from a course during the third through eighth week of the semester.
I	In progress	This grade is given to students who have missed part of their assigned work due to circumstances beyond their control, but who are otherwise doing satisfactory work.

REQUESTING AN “IN PROGRESS” GRADE

An In-Progress grade may be given to students who have missed part of their assigned work due to circumstances which are beyond their control and who are otherwise doing satisfactory work. Note that any in-progress grade could affect the students' probationary and disqualification status (See Satisfactory Progress Policy). Process:

- Prior to the end of the term the student files a form with the professor requesting an "I" grade and indicating a planned completion date.
- Students and instructors develop an agreement including the guidelines for completion of the necessary coursework. In degree completion programs, an "in-progress" grade should be removed within two weeks.
- In traditional programs, an in-progress should be completed and removed by the seventh week of the following semester in which the "I" grade was incurred or at a date set by the professor on the form provided. In degree completion undergraduate programs and graduate programs, all course requirements must be completed within four weeks from the last day of class.
- The grade of "I" will be changed to the grade of "F" by the registrar unless an instructor assigns a passing grade or requests an extension beyond the normal time limit.
- Permission may be granted by the instructor to extend the time of an "I" grade to a maximum of one year.
- The maximum number of In-Progress grades students may carry at one time is two.
- When extenuating circumstances warrant. Any further extension must be approved by the instructor and the Vice President for Academic Affairs and filed with the registrar.

PASS/NO-PASS GRADING

A course usually graded A through F may be taken Pass/No Pass by a student if the course is an elective and not part of the general education curriculum or part of a major or minor. A course is designated as elective when it is not used by a student to meet any specific area or course requirement including the general education program, major, minor, emphasis, or professional courses. To take a course usually graded A through F as a Pass/No Pass course, a student must file the appropriate form with the Office of the Registrar before the course is half over – the end of the third week for a seven week class or the end of the seventh week for a full semester course. Pass/No Pass courses transferred in by students as required courses (a course is designated as required when it is used by a student to meet any specific area or course requirement including the general education program, major, minor, emphasis or professional courses) are acceptable only from colleges where the grading system is the normal system as described above.

There is a four-credit limit of P-N courses per semester for sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Internships (see below) which are normally graded by the Pass/No Pass system do not count towards these limits.

Field experiences, internships, and co-curricular athletic activities are offered ONLY on a Pass-No Pass basis. A student may earn a maximum of eight credits in the combined music/drama area and one credit in each area of athletics that are applicable to the total credits for graduation requirements. The maximum credit limit applies to students who are not completing a music/drama major, minor, or emphases. Although these courses apply toward graduation requirements, they are not calculated into the cumulative grade point average.

ACADEMIC GOOD STANDING

A student in good standing is one who:

- Is registered for the current term
- Is attending class in accordance with the class attendance policy
- Has no financial obligations to the university
- Is not on disciplinary probation and
- Is not on academic probation.

Eligibility to participate in certain interscholastic activities necessitates the fulfillment of additional requirements.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS POLICY

This policy provides early identification and intervention for students of Concordia University who have difficulty maintaining satisfactory academic progress. In an effort to help all students achieve satisfactory academic standards and successfully progress through their chosen curriculum, the university will extend professional assistance.

Students are expected to meet satisfactory academic progress standards for each term. Students not maintaining the specified standards will be required to meet with their advisors to assist in detecting and alleviating problems they may be experiencing.

To be eligible to register continuously without conditions, a student must achieve satisfactory progress by maintaining a 2.00 Cumulative Grade Point Average AND a minimum of 12 credits each term. Incompletes (I) and withdrawals (W) do not count toward completion. Students taking 9 to 11 credits will need to pass 9 credits and students taking 6 to 8 credits will need to pass 6 credits.

To be eligible to return for a second term, a student must achieve at least a 1.0 GPA their first term. When a student does not maintain satisfactory progress, the university will impose certain restrictions that will affect the student's eligibility for enrollment and financial aid:

1. Academic Probation: Academic probation is a formal warning that students did not achieve satisfactory progress. Students will be notified of their probation status in writing by the registrar. Students placed on academic probation may enroll for no more than 16 credits for the following term. Academic probation status appears on the student's internal records, but it is not part of the permanent transcript. A student on academic probation must see his or her advisor within the first two weeks of the new term to complete a Student Success Plan. All students on academic probation are required to take and successfully complete SSS 120 – College Turning Points (a student success course) during their probationary term. Students who achieve a 2.5 term GPA and complete the minimum required credits while on probation will be allowed to register for a subsequent term on probation without disqualification.
2. Disqualification: Disqualification occurs when students do not meet satisfactory academic progress requirements for two consecutive terms, or first-term students do not achieve a 1.0 GPA. Students will be notified of their disqualification in writing by the registrar. Students are ineligible to register for subsequent terms. Students may appeal to be readmitted by completing the Disqualification Appeal Form.

DISQUALIFICATION APPEAL PROCESS

A Disqualification Appeal Form must be submitted to the academic appeals committee. The academic appeals committee will decide approval or denial of students who are appealing their academic disqualification. Appeals must be submitted to the academic appeals committee at least two weeks before the start of the term for which the student desires readmission. The appeal must state what undue hardship caused the student's inability to meet satisfactory progress standards. The hardships could include illness, injury, or death of an immediate relative. Only special extenuating circumstances will be considered. Students must also explain how they propose to remedy their situation. If the appeal is successful, the student is readmitted on probationary status. Appeals are approved for one term only. Students may also show successful completion of 12 semester credits with a CGPA of 2.0 or higher from another accredited institution to indicate that they have overcome the challenges that caused the original disqualification.

HONOR RECOGNITION – DEAN'S LIST

Traditional program full-time students, who earn a grade point average (GPA) of 3.50 and above in a given academic semester, are included on the dean's list. To be considered, all course incompletes must be removed by the end of the second week after the week of final examinations.

GRADUATION HONORS

Full-time students in bachelor degree programs at Concordia University who have earned at least 64 credits at Concordia University and who have earned a cumulative grade point average of 3.90 or higher are designated as graduating summa cum laude; those students with a cumulative grade point average of 3.75 to 3.89 are designated as graduating magna cum laude; those students with a cumulative grade point average of 3.60 to 3.74 are designated as graduating cum laude.

Students in bachelor degree programs who have earned fewer than 64 credits at Concordia University and have at least a 3.90 GPA at Concordia will be recognized as graduating "with high distinction." Students who have earned fewer than 64 credits and have a GPA between 3.75 and 3.89 will be recognized as graduating "with distinction."

ACADEMIC HONORS CONVOCATION

Students receiving dean's list recognition, special departmental awards, and merit scholarships will be recognized at the annual Academic Honors Convocation held during the spring semester.

HONORARY SOCIETIES FOR STUDENTS

LAMBDA PI ETA

Lambda Pi Eta is the official communication studies honor society of the National Communication Association (NCA). The Nu Beta chapter of Lambda Pi Eta was chartered at Concordia University in 2001. As an accredited member of the Association of College Honor Societies (ACHS), Lambda Pi Eta has nearly 300 active chapters at colleges and universities worldwide. Lambda Pi Eta was founded in 1985 at the University of Arkansas, became a part of the National Communication Association (NCA) in 1988, and became the official honor society of the NCA in July 1995. Lambda Pi Eta represents what Aristotle described in his book, Rhetoric, as the three ingredients of persuasion: Logos (Lambda) meaning logic, Pathos (Pi) relating to emotion, and Ethos (Eta) defined as character credibility and ethics. The goals of Lambda Pi Eta are to:

- recognize, foster, and reward outstanding scholastic achievement;
- stimulate interest in the field of communication;
- promote and encourage professional development among communication majors;
- provide an opportunity to discuss and exchange ideas about the field;
- establish and maintain close relationships and understanding between faculty and students; and
- explore options for further graduate studies.

SIGMA TAU DELTA

Sigma Tau Delta, The National English Honor Society, was founded in 1924. In 1987, the Mu Chi Chapter was established at Concordia University. Membership is open to students who have completed at least five semesters of college work with a minimum of 3.00 grade-point average in English and who rank in the top 35 percent of their class in general scholarship. The purposes of the society are to:

- confer distinction for high achievement in English language and literature;
- to promote interest in literature and the English language on the campus and in the surrounding community; and
- to foster the discipline of English in all its aspects, including creative and critical writing.

PARTICIPATION IN COMMENCEMENT CEREMONIES

Students who have 15 or fewer credits left to complete at the time of the annual commencement ceremony in May are allowed to participate. Contact the Registrar's Office for more information.

CHANGE OF STATUS

A Change of Status form must be completed by your advisor if you drop or add a course, discontinue, or take a leave of absence. Most students never use a Change of Status during the entire program. You are allowed two, and after those two, a fee of $75 will be charged for each Change of Status.

FINANCIAL HOLD

Students who are not current in their financial obligations to Concordia University, are placed on financial hold. While on financial hold, students:

- are NOT allowed to attend any classes

- have their course management system (CMS: WebCT, Blackboard, Moodle) disabled
- are subject to late fees on any and all unpaid balances
- have financial aid for the next terms canceled (since they are not current students)
- are de-registered so all student loans move into repayment status
- are unable to receive grades, transcripts, or diplomas
- who receive veterans benefits have those benefits discontinued.

In these situations, students do not receive grades for courses attended while on financial hold even if coursework is completed.

RESEARCH WITH HUMAN SUBJECTS

All research projects employing human subjects must be reviewed by the Human Subjects Review Committee. No research project should be implemented without the approval of the Human Subjects Review Committee. Students and faculty who are planning to conduct research are directed to use and follow the procedures in the Faculty Handbook Section 8, Appendix D: Concordia University Saint Paul, MN Protocols and Procedures for Research Involving Human Subjects Application and Information Packet and Appendix E: Protocol Form Research Involving Human Subjects.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Academic integrity is essential to any academic institution and is in keeping with the mission of the University. In order to protect the rights of students, the disciplinary procedure for dealing with cases of academic dishonesty follows these broad guidelines.

Academic integrity includes working honestly on tests and assignments, honestly reporting research findings, properly citing the source of any materials quoted, paraphrased or modified in the work one submits. A popular handbook for writers defines properly citing source material in this manner:

“To plagiarize is to present another person's words or ideas as if they were your own. Plagiarism is like stealing. The word plagiarize comes from the Latin word for kidnapper and literary thief. Plagiarism can be intentional, as when you submit as your own work a paper you did not write. Plagiarism can also be unintentional, but not less serious an offense if you are unaware of what must be acknowledged and how to do so with documentation.” (Troyka, L. Handbook for writers, Simon and Schuster, 6th ed.)

Violations of academic integrity include “cheating” and “plagiarism” as defined by the university’s Student Code of Conduct (SCC).

OFF-CAMPUS STUDY

Concordia University encourages students to broaden their horizons and explore their surrounding world through off-campus study programs. In order to apply for off-campus study, students must meet certain criteria dependent upon the study option. Concordia University will allow only two semesters of off-campus study or a maximum of 32 off-campus study credits to be applied to the 128 credits for the bachelor’s degree. The university’s Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Business Administration graduation requirements will remain in effect. Students enrolled in pre-approved off-campus study will also be considered in the financial aid process. In no way will program leaders or instructors of programs/courses be responsible for personal injury or property damage arising out of the act or negligence of any direct carrier, hotel, or travel service or any other person rendering any service offered in connection with off-campus study.

OFF-CAMPUS ENROLLMENT

Students wishing to apply for Off-Campus Enrollment (OCE) for required courses must be:

- currently registered for six or more credits
- maintaining satisfactory progress as defined in this academic catalog
- have a serious unavoidable class conflict which prevents them from graduating on time, or
- planning to take a course that is a part of their approved major and/or minors but not currently taught at Concordia University.

Although new courses, majors, and minors will not be created through an OCE, the student may earn majors and minors at other institutions and transfer them to Concordia University. Students who meet these criteria may complete the OCE form and have it signed by their academic advisor. Following approvals, the student accounts office will provide authorization to register at the host institution. Students must request the host institution to send a transcript to the Registrar at Concordia University for final documentation. If the transcript is not received by the Registrar within three months of the OCE completion, the student's account will be assessed the fees paid to the host institution.

GLOBAL OFF-CAMPUS ENRICHMENT STUDY

Another off-campus study option available to students is the Global Off-Campus Enrichment (GOE). New programs are approved annually. In order to participate, students must be in good standing. For further information, contact the Community Action, Leadership, and Learning Center (CALL Center) at (651) 641-8236.

RESERVE OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS (ROTC)

AIR FORCE ROTC

A cooperative program between Concordia and the University of Saint Thomas provides Concordia students with the opportunity to concurrently enroll in credit courses in aerospace studies at Saint Thomas. Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps is an educational and leadership development program designed to prepare students for commissioning as second lieutenants in the United States Air Force. Air Force ROTC complements the academic major of the student's choice and increases the student's career options. Students incur no obligation by enrolling in the courses; the Aerospace classes are free and are paid by a University of Saint Thomas grant. Credit is transferable. Scholarships are available, especially in engineering, mathematics, physics, computer science, and nursing. For more information, contact the Department of Aerospace Studies at the University of Saint Thomas, (651) 962-6320 or 1-800-328-6819, ext. 6320.

ARMY ROTC

ROTC trains and prepares men and women for a commission as an officer in the regular Army, Army Reserve and National Guard. In addition to instruction in military fundamentals, ROTC develops leadership qualities and self-confidence essential to success in today's world.

Concordia's program, six semesters in length, is completed concurrently with course work required for a B.A. degree through the University of Minnesota. The first two semesters constitute the Basic Program, while the four remaining semesters are the Advanced Program.

Cadets/students are under no legal obligation while in the Basic Program. Upon entrance into the Advanced Program the students sign a contract and begin receiving a monthly stipend from the ROTC program. Traditional Concordia University students who are also Army ROTC scholarship winners shall receive a room and board scholarship assurance each term while they are on a scholarship contract. Non-traditional degree completion students enrolled as cadets in the University of Minnesota Corps of Cadets by means of a scholarship contract shall receive a $500 per semester stipend for each semester they are enrolled in an undergraduate degree completion program. For further information, call (612) 626-1584.

NAVAL ROTC

Naval ROTC two-year scholarship and non-scholarship programs allow students to earn a commission in the U.S. Navy or U.S. Marine Corps. Concurrent completion of degree requirements at Concordia and Naval Science requirements at the University of Minnesota results in an active duty commission. Career options include aviation, submarine warfare and surface warfare (Navy), or aviation and ground office positions (Marines). For further information, call (651) 625-6677.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

ASSOCIATE OF ARTS DEGREE (A.A.)

Students may obtain the Associate in Arts (A.A.) degree at Concordia University, by completing a 64-credit program that includes the equivalent of the 47 credits of general education curriculum. A minimum of 24 credits must be earned at Concordia University. In addition, students must:

1. Earn a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.00 at Concordia University.
2. Complete all general education requirements.
3. Complete all assessment activities and outcome examinations required for general education.
4. Complete, if desired, an area of emphasis to complete the total number of credits required for graduation.

Areas of emphasis as a part of the A.A. program are 16 credits. Students may select an area of emphasis with the approval of their academic advisor. The academic department and the Registrar must approve the area of emphasis in order for it to be listed on the student's transcript.

BACHELOR OF ARTS DEGREE (B.A.)

The Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree from Concordia University, carries the following general requirements. Students will:

1. Complete 128 total credits applicable to graduation of which 32 must be completed at Concordia University and 20 in the senior year.
2. Complete the course requirements for the 47 credits of general education program distributed according to the "Framework for Learning" goals and competencies.
3. Complete the course requirements for an academic major – typically 40 to 44 credits for the BA – or two academic minors – typically 20 to 24 credits each. At least 50% of a major, minor, or emphasis must be completed in residence unless approved by the appropriate department(s).
4. Complete petitions for any and all substitutions for general education courses and courses in the major and/or minor(s).
5. Earn a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or above, a cumulative grade point average of 2.50 or better in the major and all minors. If the 2.50 cumulative grade point average is not attained in a minor, the minor will not be listed on the transcript. Two or more majors, minors, or emphases can be requested in related areas, with a maximum of three courses, or one-fourth of the total credits, whichever is higher, in common. An exception may be granted for multiple teaching licenses.
6. Complete all assessment activities and outcomes examinations required for general education and/or majors and minors.
7. Traditional undergraduate students – meet with the Registrar after applying for graduation to review final requirements. It is recommended to apply and meet with the Registrar before registering for the entire senior year to allow for any contingencies. The deadline for the graduation application is set for the Friday before Thanksgiving for students planning to complete the following spring, summer, or fall to participate in the upcoming May ceremony. Students in the undergraduate degree completion programs are to communicate with an academic advisor on a continuing basis.
8. Be approved as a candidate for a degree by the faculty, upon the recommendation of the Registrar.

NOTE: Special requirements for Teacher Education majors are listed in the College of Education section.

BACHELOR OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION DEGREE (BBA)

Admission to the degree programs for all Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) majors:

1. Complete all freshman/sophomore required business and prerequisite courses.
2. Earn no more than 8 credits of D/F grades in the freshman/sophomore required business and prerequisite courses. All D/F credits from all prior enrollments in courses that a student repeats are counted as D/F credits for the purposes of admission to the majors in the BBA program. Accounting and Finance majors also earn B, C or C, B in ACC 201 and ACC 202.

The BBA degree from Concordia University carries the following general requirements. Students will:

1. Complete 128 total credits applicable to graduation.
2. Complete all requirements for the degree within eight (8) years of entering Concordia University. The 128 credits consists of general education courses, basic business core courses, major courses, elective courses, and all necessary prerequisites.

3. Complete all upper-level (300- and 400-level) basic business core courses and all major courses in residence.
4. Earn a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or above, a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or better in the major and a 2.50 in all minors.
5. Complete the Major Field Test in Business.

If a student has earned the grade of D in a course that is part of the BBA basic business core and has taken that course at a school other than Concordia University, the course will not substitute for a course that is part of the business core. A student may earn transfer credit for a lower-level (100- or 200-level) course that is part of the business core only if the student took the course at an accredited institution of higher education.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE DEGREE (B.S.)

The Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree from Concordia University carries the following general requirements. Students will:

1. Complete 128 total credits applicable to graduation of which 32 must be completed at Concordia University and 20 in the senior year.
2. Complete the course requirements for the 47+ credits of general education program distributed according to the "Framework for Learning" goals and competencies.
3. Complete the course requirements for a Bachelor of Science academic major – typically 45 to 60 for the B.S. At least 50% of a major, minor, or emphasis must be completed in residence unless approved by the appropriate department(s).
4. Complete petitions for any and all substitutions for general education courses and courses in the major and/or minor(s).
5. Earn a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or above, a cumulative grade point average of 2.50 or better in the major and all minors. If the 2.50 cumulative grade point average is not attained in a minor, the minor will not be listed on the transcript. Two or more majors, minors, or emphases can be requested in related areas, with a maximum of three courses, or one-fourth of the total credits, whichever is higher, in common. An exception may be granted for multiple teaching licenses.
6. Complete all assessment activities and outcomes examinations required for general education and/or majors and minors.
7. Traditional undergraduate students – meet with the Registrar after applying for graduation to review final requirements. It is recommended to apply and meet with the Registrar before registering for the entire senior year to allow for any contingencies. The deadline for the graduation application is set for the Friday before Thanksgiving for students planning to complete the following spring, summer, or fall to participate in the upcoming May ceremony. Students in the undergraduate degree completion programs are to communicate with an academic advisor on a continuing basis.
8. Be approved as a candidate for a degree by the faculty, upon the recommendation of the Registrar.

FRAMEWORK FOR LEARNING – UNIVERSITY OUTCOMES

The function of the General Education program – known as the “Framework for Learning” – is to make explicit how Concordia University understands and applies its mission statement. To help realize the goals of the mission statement, the total educational experience of Concordia University students – both in and out of the classroom – is placed within an overarching structure called the Framework for Learning. The Framework for learning includes goals and competencies in eight areas: aesthetic, intellectual, physical, spiritual, communication, interpersonal, civic, and global.

The Framework for Learning is designed to introduce “students to academic content areas central to the classical liberal arts and to the university’s identity, as expressed in its mission statement, and to the most essential components of these areas; it develops and cultivates skills requisite to any intellectual or professional endeavor; and it does so in a manner attentive to the abstract or methodological dimensions of the subject at hand” (Faculty Handbook).

GOALS AND COMPETENCIES

AESTHETIC

Goal: to increase awareness, understanding and informed critical appreciation of artistic expression and to foster creative talents within the student.

Competencies: With the help of the Concordia community the student will:

- A. understand the importance of artistic expression in reflecting and shaping the life of human communities;
- B. appreciate the arts by exploring them in relation to philosophical, religious and social thought;
- C. appreciate the arts by experiencing major forms of artistic communication;
- D. appreciate and examine the relationship of the arts and ineffable aspects of human experience;

As indicated above, the Framework for Learning shapes the entire Concordia University educational experience, entailing not only overt academic work but also chapel and spiritual life opportunities, service learning, foreign study, internships and a wide array of campus life activities. All academic coursework – majors and minors, study in professional programs, electives and especially the general education curriculum – is explicitly guided and informed by the Framework for Learning and is designed to support its goals.

GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

The general education curriculum is represented by the areas listed alphabetically below. The purpose of the general education curriculum is to provide Concordia University students with the opportunity to grow in their ability to:

- A. discover, confront and explore unfamiliar information and ideas;
- B. use available academic resources and skills to think analytically, critically, and synthetically;
- C. use appropriate and current technology for research and problem solving; and
- D. ideally move beyond the academic data itself to formulate and express new insights and ideas.

FINE ARTS (A TOTAL OF 4 CREDITS OVER TWO AREAS REQUIRED)

The fine arts curriculum increases students' awareness, understanding and critical appreciation of varied aesthetic expression; and seeks to foster their creative talents.

MATHEMATICS AND NATURAL SCIENCE (8 CREDITS REQUIRED)

Mathematics offerings are designed to develop students' understanding of basic mathematical concepts, to develop their abilities to analyze and solve mathematical problems and to promote mathematical awareness in the analysis of problem solving strategies and the interpretation of results. Natural science courses examine the physical nature of the world. Biology involves plant, animal and human life; physical science deals with the processes of the earth; while earth science studies the earth and the universe.

All students must take a total of 8 credits of mathematics and natural science, with the prescribed number of credits in each of the following three areas.

MATHEMATICS (MINIMUM 3 CREDITS REQUIRED)

A Mathematics Placement Examination is required of all incoming students. Students who do not pass this examination must successfully complete Intermediate Algebra (MAT 100) before taking a general education math course.

UNDERGRADUATE MAJORS

ACCOUNTING MAJOR: 76 CREDITS (BBA TRADITIONAL)

Program Overview – The Bachelor of Business Administration degree is available with an Accounting major. Because the BBA requires more business courses than a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree, it is considered the degree of choice for students planning a career in accounting, better preparing students to excel in the business world. Accounting majors benefit from close contact with instructors who have extensive practical experience in the business world. The classroom structure stresses ethics and the practical application of accounting knowledge. The major will prepare students to take the Certified Public Accountant (CPA) examination.

ACCOUNTING MAJOR: 44 CREDITS (BA ADULT)

Program Overview – The degree completion program in Accounting prepares students for accounting careers in business, government or non-profit organizations. The major builds upon a strong liberal arts and business core foundation and prepares students for professional certifications such as the Certified Public Accountant (CPA) and the Certified Management Accountant (CMA). This program has been designed for students who have completed an AS, AAS, or equivalent degree, in Accounting.

This degree completion program has been designed with two tracks:

Track One: Students who have NOT completed an AS or AAS in Accounting

Students on this track will complete all courses designed in the Accounting program.

Track Two: Students who HAVE completed an AS or AAS in Accounting

Students on this track have completed an AS or AAS in Accounting and are presumed to have completed the following courses: Macroeconomics, Principles of Accounting I and II, Federal Income Tax, Legal Environment of Business, Microeconomics, and Intermediate Accounting I.

Students holding an AS or AAS in Accounting that have not completed one or more of the mentioned courses will be advised accordingly.

ATHLETIC TRAINING – AN EMPHASIS IN EXERCISE SCIENCE; SEE EXERCISE SCIENCE MAJOR

BIOLOGY MAJOR: 39 TO 40 CREDITS (BA TRADITIONAL)

Program Overview – Biology majors develop a strong foundation in biology by exploring cell biology, genetics, chemistry, molecular biology, ecology, evolutionary theory, scientific methodology, research techniques and more. The coursework encourages students to sharpen their analytical, problem-solving, scientific reasoning, critical thinking, communication, and laboratory skills. Students have the opportunity to work in Concordia University's research laboratory to get hands-on experience early in their coursework and to develop mentoring relationships with fulltime faculty who are experienced in cutting-edge research. Experience in the human cadaver laboratory is an important part of the program.

BUSINESS MANAGEMENT MAJOR: 31 CREDITS (BA ADULT; “MINI” PROGRAM)

Program Overview – The BA in Business Management program prepares students for leadership roles in business and non-profit organizations. It emphasizes applying effective management in real world situations based on sound theory. A problem solving approach is applied using appropriate management tools for specific situations. Efficient management of resources is needed in every organization in today's environment and students learn to think creatively and critically about how to achieve organizational goals. Sustainable, "green" business concepts are integrated into all the courses in the program. A key application of both personal and organizational ethics, stressing the college's stewardship principles, is a theme throughout the program.

This degree completion program has been designed for those students who have either:

1. Completed an AS or an AAS in Business Management, or
2. Completed the following prerequisite courses (or equivalents):
 - Principles of Accounting I
 - Principles of Accounting II
 - College Algebra or Business Math
 - Introduction to Statistics

CHEMISTRY MAJOR: (BA TRADITIONAL AND SELF-DESIGNED)

Program Overview – Chemistry coursework at Concordia University gives students a framework of knowledge that allow them to learn and incorporate new facts and concepts as the field evolves. Chemistry students benefit from a low faculty-to-student ratio that allows direct personal attention from faculty who focus primarily on teaching. Students often combine majors and minors in Chemistry, Biology and/or Mathematics to gain breadth and additional depth of knowledge.

ENGLISH WITH AN EMPHASIS IN CREATIVE WRITING: 41 CREDITS (BA TRADITIONAL)

Program Overview – In the English major, students will gain broad-based knowledge of literature from all periods and from around the world. They will learn to write clearly and persuasively, think independently, create original ideas, present alternative viewpoints and solve problems. Concordia University students develop these skills by working closely with knowledgeable faculty dedicated to relationship-based education through discussion, debate, course presentations, one-on-one consultations with professors and supervised writing projects. Students have many opportunities to apply the skills learned in the classroom to practical hands-on situations, such as writing for The Sword student newspaper, tutoring students in the Writing Center, student teaching or gaining internship experience at a local business. Creative Writing is one of the three areas of emphasis available to students.

GRADUATE DEGREES AND PROGRAMS

ACADEMIC INFORMATION – GRADUATE PROGRAMS

DEFINITION OF ACADEMIC TERMS

A credit means a semester hour credit. It represents one class meeting of fifty minutes or a laboratory double period of one hundred minutes each week for one semester of the academic year.

An academic hour or credit is equivalent to a 50-minute period per week for 15 weeks or 750 minutes total. One credit requires 1500 additional minutes of engaged time.

An endorsement is a focused group of courses within a graduate program that leads to a state licensure.

An emphasis is a focused group of courses within a graduate program that may or may not lead to a certification or a licensure.

Full-time graduate students are students who have been formally accepted into a graduate degree program and enrolled in a minimum of 6 credits in a semester. Half-time Graduate Students are students who have been formally accepted into a graduate degree program and are enrolled in three to five credits in a semester. Visiting students” are those students who have registered for graduate courses but have not been admitted to a program.

A Master of Arts degree consists of at least 30 semester credits. All programs include a survey of the academic field, ethics, diversity, research, and a capstone course.

There are three 14/15-week semesters offered at Concordia University. Graduate students typically take two seven-week courses in each semester.

A transcript of credits is a certified record of all grades earned and all courses attempted at a given school, college, or university.

ACADEMIC POLICIES AND PROCEDURES – GRADUATE

FULLTIME STATUS

Graduate students are considered full-time students when they have been admitted to the university and are registered for a minimum of 6 credits per semester.

TIME LIMITS FOR COMPLETION

Master of Arts degree programs at Concordia University must be completed within five years of the first date of the first class of attendance.

REPEATING COURSES

Students may repeat a course. If students repeat a course, both courses remain on the student's transcript but only the higher/highest grade is used in computing a student's cumulative grade point average (CGPA).

AUDITING COURSES

Students who satisfy the requirements for admission may register to audit a course without receiving academic credit for the course. Registration procedures are the same as for credit-bearing courses. Auditing students need not meet regular course requirements but should confer with the instructor as to their privileges and responsibilities in the course. Upon completion of the course, an entry is made on the student's permanent record along with other classes. Students may find it helpful to audit a course to review materials for a more advanced course or to enrich an interest area. Auditors are excluded from laboratory and studio participation. Graduate students may change regular registration to an audit before the end of the fourth week of the semester. Registration may be canceled for non-attendance.

INDEPENDENT STUDY

Independent study is an educational experience conducted for credit outside the regularly scheduled classroom offerings. It may be an existing course or an approved student/faculty designed course. Either experience must be conducted under the supervision of an instructor who is responsible for the academic soundness of the proposal. Each credit awarded must represent approximately 35 clock hours of work.

Credit for independent studies may be used to fulfill any curriculum requirement. Only four credits of independent study may be taken at one time. No more than 12 credits of independent study may be counted toward graduation requirements. Students are responsible for completing an application form that specifies course goals/objectives and projected outcomes, learning strategies and evaluation procedures. The proposal must be approved by the advisor, instructor, department chair, and the dean of the college. An independent study application form may be submitted during regular registration times but no later than the end of the second week of a class. Forms are available in the academic advising office, on the university website, and in the Registrar's Office.

ATTENDANCE IN CLASS AND COMPLETION OF ASSIGNMENTS

The university assumes that all registered students have freely accepted personal responsibility for regular class attendance. Students are expected to attend all class meetings and laboratory sessions for the courses in which they are enrolled. In cases of emergencies and/or unforeseen circumstances students are expected to notify their instructors and arrange for any possible "makeup" assignments; however, instructors are not required to allow for such "makeup" assignments. Instructors will record attendance and specify procedures in the course syllabus for handling absences.

Additional attendance guidelines and requirements for degree completion undergraduate students:

- If a student must miss a class/chat because of an emergency or illness, he/she is required to complete his/her regular assignment(s) and complete a make-up assignment that contributes to the subject being studied and enhances the class-learning environment. A missed class/chat may result in a grade reduction.

- If a student misses two classes/chats, the instructor and the student need to discuss the student's ability to complete the course. In addition, the student will be required to complete his/her regular assignment(s) and extra work. Two missed classes/chats will result in additional grade reduction.
- Any additional absences will require retaking the course. The student will be billed and a grade will be issued each time the course is taken.
- Regular attendance is a key factor in determining the continuing financial aid support.
- Instructors understand the uncertainty of military requirements and other contractual obligations, and they will work with the student to meet educational goals.
- It is the student's responsibility to contact the instructor to make appropriate arrangements.

DROP OF REGISTRATION AND WITHDRAWAL FROM COURSES

Students may drop their registration from a course without record during the first (1st) week of the course. Students may withdraw from courses any time after the first (1st) week of the course through the fifth (5th) week and receive a "W" grade.

WITHDRAWAL PROCEDURES

1. Students are able to drop courses online through the drop dates posted on the academic calendar.
2. After the drop period is over, students must submit a signed Course Change Form with instructor and advisor signatures.
3. Effective dates for withdrawals will be determined by the date when the properly completed Course Change Form is received in the Registrar's Office.
4. Withdrawal from coursework may have financial implications. Students will receive 100% tuition refunds only for courses from which they withdrew prior to the course starting. See financial policies for further information.

WITHDRAWAL FROM THE UNIVERSITY

Students who desire to discontinue from the university, take a leave of absence, or change their cohort must contact their academic advisor. It is the student's responsibility to fulfill all necessary obligations by contacting the following: financial aid office, student accounts, library/information services/help desk, security, and offices issuing special equipment, such as laptops, instruments, keys, and athletic equipment. Students who officially withdraw from school will receive refunds and grades according to the standard schedule. Students who discontinue without notice will be liable for any financial obligations.

Students who are asked to leave Concordia University as a result of administrative dismissal or academic disqualification, may appeal. In this case, students should contact their academic advisor.

I	In progress	This grade is given to students who have missed part of their assigned work due to circumstances beyond their control, but who are otherwise doing satisfactory work

COMMENCEMENT

Students will be invited to participate in the annual commencement ceremony in May providing all course work will be completed by the last day of August. Students who are unable to participate in the May ceremony may graduate in absentia. The graduation/capstone fee will be assessed regardless of participation in the graduation ceremony.

REQUESTING AN “IN PROGRESS” GRADE

An In-Progress grade may be given to students who have missed part of their assigned work due to circumstances which are beyond their control and who are otherwise doing satisfactory work. Note that any in-progress grade could affect the students' probationary and disqualification status (See Satisfactory Progress Policy). Process:

1. Prior to the end of the term the student files a form with the professor requesting an "I" grade and indicating a planned completion date.
2. Students and instructors develop an agreement including the guidelines for completion of the necessary coursework. The grade of "I" will be changed to the grade of "F" by the registrar unless an instructor assigns a passing grade or requests an extension beyond the normal time limit.
3. Permission may be granted by the instructor to extend the time of an "I" grade to a maximum of one year when extenuating circumstances warrant. Any further extension must be approved by the instructor and the Vice President for Academic Affairs and filed with the Registrar.
4. The maximum number of In-Progress grades students may carry at one time is two.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS POLICY

1. To remain in good standing, a master's degree graduate student must maintain a 3.0 grade-point average for all courses in the graduate program with no more than two grades of "I" outstanding.
2. Failure to maintain this average will result in loss of good standing.
3. Students not in good standing must return to good standing during the next semester or be dropped from the program.
4. Academic Probation: Academic probation is a formal warning that students did not achieve satisfactory progress. Students will be notified of their probation status in writing by the registrar.
5. Disqualification: Disqualification occurs when students do not meet satisfactory academic progress requirements for two consecutive terms, or first-term students do not achieve a 1.0 GPA. Students will be notified of their disqualification in writing by the registrar. Students are ineligible to register for subsequent terms. Students may appeal to be readmitted by completing the Disqualification Appeal Form.

DISQUALIFICATION APPEAL PROCESS

A Disqualification Appeal Form must be submitted to the academic appeals committee. The academic appeals committee will decide approval or denial of students who are appealing their academic disqualification. Appeals must be submitted to the academic appeals committee at least two weeks before the start of the term for which the student desires readmission. The appeal must state what undue hardship caused the student's inability to meet satisfactory progress standards. The hardships could include illness, injury, or death of an immediate relative. Only special extenuating circumstances will be considered. Students must also explain how they propose to remedy their situation. If the appeal is successful, the student is readmitted on probationary status. Appeals are approved for one term only.

FINANCIAL HOLD

Students who are not current in their financial obligations to Concordia University, are placed on financial hold. While on financial hold, students:

- are NOT allowed to attend any classes
- have their course management system disabled (i.e., Blackboard)
- are subject to late fees on any and all unpaid balances

- have financial aid for the next terms canceled (since they are not current students)
- are de-registered so all student loans move into repayment status
- are unable to receive grades, transcripts, or diplomas
- who receive veterans benefits have those benefits discontinued.

In these situations, students do not receive grades for courses attended while on financial hold even if coursework is completed.

RESEARCH WITH HUMAN SUBJECTS

All research projects employing human subjects must be reviewed by the Human Subjects Review Committee. No research project should be implemented without the approval of the Human Subjects Review Committee. Students and faculty who are planning to conduct research are directed to use and follow the procedures in the Faculty Handbook Section 8, Appendix D: Concordia University Saint Paul, Minnesota Protocols and Procedures for Research Involving Human Subjects Application and Information Packet and Appendix E: Protocol Form Research Involving Human Subjects.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Academic integrity is essential to any academic institution and is in keeping with the mission of the University. In order to protect the rights of students, the disciplinary procedure for dealing with cases of academic dishonesty follows these broad guidelines.

Academic integrity includes working honestly on tests and assignments, honestly reporting research findings, properly citing the source of any materials quoted, paraphrased or modified in the work one submits. A popular handbook for writers defines properly citing source material in this manner:

“To plagiarize is to present another person's words or ideas as if they were your own. Plagiarism is like stealing. The word plagiarize comes from the Latin word for kidnapper and literary thief. Plagiarism can be intentional, as when you submit as your own work a paper you did not write. Plagiarism can also be unintentional, but not less serious an offense if you are unaware of what must be acknowledged and how to do so with documentation.” (Troyka, L. Handbook for writers, Simon and Schuster, 6th ed.)

Violations of academic integrity include “cheating” and “plagiarism” as defined by the university’s Student Code of Conduct (SCC).

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

MASTER OF ARTS DEGREE (M.A.)

The Master of Arts (M.A.) degree from Concordia University carries the following general requirements. Students will:

1. Successfully complete all required courses in a Master of Arts degree program with a cumulative grade point average in the courses of a 3.0 or higher.
2. Complete petitions for any and all substitutions made in the program.
3. Complete all assessment activities and outcomes examinations required by the program or for the degree.
4. Be approved as a candidate for a degree by the faculty, upon the recommendation of the Registrar.

Students who complete all course requirements within 30 calendar days following the end of a regular academic term at Concordia University are listed as graduates of that term.

TRANSFER CREDIT

Up to 6 semester credits may be accepted for transfer from an accredited graduate school for the MA (MS). The credits must be appropriate to the student's program and the course outcomes (objectives) need to match a course in the student's program. Application for transfer of credit is made by the student to the Advisor. The credits must be certified by the Registrar and approved for the degree program by the program director. Up to 9 semester credits may be accepted for transfer from an accredited graduate school for the Ed.S. Up to 12 semester credits may be accepted for transfer from an accredited graduate school for the Ed.D.

Only courses with a grade of B or better will be accepted for transfer credit and normally credits older than five years will not be accepted. The chair of the graduate program or designee will make the determination whether a student is required to audit a course in place of taking the course for a grade.

CREDIT FOR PRIOR EXPERIENCE

No credit for life experience is given for work at the master's degree level. Up to 6 credits for educational specialist degrees and up to 12 credits for educational doctorate degrees may be accepted as evidence for prior work experience (examples may be individuals with leadership experience from the military, corporate, or non-profit world). Credit for prior work experience is in addition to transfer credits from another institution (see Policy 9.37). The application procedure for credit for prior experience requires an interview with the program director, documentation of prior experiences, and a letter of support for such credit from a prior supervisor.

GOOD STANDING

To remain in good standing, a master's degree students must maintain a 3.0 grade-point average for all courses in the graduate program with no more than two grades of "I" outstanding. To remain in good standing, an Ed.S. or Ed.D. graduate student must maintain a 3.25 grade-point average for all courses in the graduate program with no more than two grades of "I" outstanding. Students not in good standing must return to good standing during the next semester or be dropped from the program.

ATTENDANCE POLICIES

Absence from more than two weeks of any course shall be grounds for requiring the repeat of the course.

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

A master's degree at Concordia University shall require a minimum of 30 semester credits with a grade-point average of 3.00 or better.

An Educational Specialist degree at Concordia University shall require a minimum of 30 semester credits beyond a master's degree with a grade point average of 3.25 or better.

An Educational Doctorate degree at Concordia University, St. Paul, shall require a minimum of 60 semester credits beyond a master's degree with a grade point average of 3.25 or better.

Graduate students must complete 80% of their credits in the program from which they graduate.

APPEAL OF POLICY AND PROCEDURE

Graduate students may appeal decisions made by program faculty or administrators regarding admission to the program or questions that may arise as a result of a candidate's academic performance. Steps for appeal include:

1. The student should first consult directly with the instructor or administrator involved.
2. If this does not satisfactorily resolve the conflict, appeals may also be made to the following in the sequence listed as the need or circumstances would dictate: program director, the dean of the college, the dean of the Graduate School, the president of the University.
3. Any appeal shall be initiated within 30 calendar days after the contested judgment was made. All appeals must be processed within 60 calendar days after the initial appeal was filed.

UNIVERSITY AND PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

Students must complete all requirements as specified by the program with a minimum of a 3.0 cumulative grade point average in the courses transcribed at Concordia University. In order to be granted a degree, all grades for courses must be filed and recorded with the Registrar and students must also make full payment of all tuition and fees. Candidates who complete all course requirements within 30 calendar days following the end of a regular academic term at Concordia University are listed as graduates of that term.

COMMENCEMENT

Students will be invited to participate in the annual commencement ceremony in May providing all coursework will be completed by the last day of August. Students who are unable to participate in the May ceremony may graduate in absentia.— The graduation/capstone fee will be assessed regardless of participation in the graduation ceremony.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY FOR GRADUATE STUDENTS

Definition of Terms

1. Academic integrity is essential to any academic institution and is in keeping with the mission of Concordia University. In order to protect the rights of students, the disciplinary procedure for dealing with cases of academic dishonesty follows these broad guidelines. Violations of academic integrity include “cheating” and “plagiarism” as defined by the university’s Student Code of Conduct (SCC).
2. The term “cheating” includes, but is not limited to: (1) use of any unauthorized assistance in taking quizzes, tests, or examinations; (2) dependence upon the aid of sources beyond those authorized by the instructor in writing papers, preparing reports, solving problems, or carrying out other assignments; or (3) the acquisition, without permission, of tests or other academic material belonging to a member of the University faculty or staff (4) academic deception (e.g. fabricating data, misrepresenting sources, misleading presentations, lying) in written or oral form.
3. The term “plagiarism” includes, but is not limited to, the use, by paraphrase or direct quotation, of the published or unpublished work of another person without full and clear acknowledgement. It also includes the unacknowledged use of materials prepared by another person or agency engaged in the selling of term papers or other academic materials.

Implementation of Academic Integrity Policies

1. The instructor will gather and document all evidence of academic dishonesty in a clear and concise manner.
2. The instructor will present this evidence to the student.
3. The instructor may prescribe academic penalties, including but not restricted to, the requirement of additional work, an assignment of a failing grade on the work in question, or a failing grade for the entire course. Any prescribed penalties must be in writing and include instructions for the appeal process.
4. The instructor will send documented academic dishonesty violations and prescribed penalties to the Department Chair, the Dean of their college, and the Dean of the Graduate School, and will notify the student in writing that this has been done and will provide instruction for the appeal process. The Dean of the Graduate School will file the documentation in the academic advisor’s file.
5. If this is a repeated occurrence, the Department Chair, Dean of the College and the Dean of the Graduate School may impose additional penalties, including but not limited to dismissal from the departmental program, suspension from the university, or expulsion from the university.
6. A student has the right to appeal the academic penalties imposed by the instructor by filing an appeal with the Dean of the Graduate School within three university business days of the documented imposition of penalties. A response regarding the appeal is normally received within 15 business days. See the Student Code of Conduct at the following link: <http://concordia.csp.edu/Portal/Students/index.html>.

7. Decisions made by the instructor are appealed to the Dean of the Graduate School. Decisions by the Dean of the Graduate School are appealed to the Graduate Academic Appeals Committee. The Graduate Academic Appeals Committee does not serve to evaluate university policy, but to determine facts and apply stated policies. See the Student Code of Conduct at the following link: <http://concordia.csp.edu/Portal/Students/index.html>.

PRE-PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMS

Concordia University provides opportunities for students to pursue a professional degree beyond the undergraduate degree at Concordia by establishing pre-professional programs in specific areas such as those listed below.

PRE-ENGINEERING STUDIES

Students who wish to pursue a degree in Engineering but do not want to begin their education at a large college or university have an option to attend Concordia University in the Pre-Engineering program. The program was designed in consultation with the Institute of Technology at the University of Minnesota to ensure that course credits meet the program requirements. Pre-engineering students fulfill general education requirements and build a solid foundation in mathematics and the sciences, including calculus-based physics courses. When students complete their first two years at Concordia, they are prepared to study engineering as upper level students.

Recommended for Pre-Engineering:

Chemistry

CHE 115, CHE 116, CHE 221, CHE 222, CHE 326, CHE 327

Computer Science

CSC 301

Mathematics

MAT 135, MAT 145, MAT 230, MAT 255, MAT 310, MAT 365

Physics

PHS 221, PHS 222

For further information, contact the coordinator of pre-engineering studies, Dr. Rob Krueger at (651) 641-8848 or rkrueger@csp.edu.

PRE-DENTAL

Pre-dental students can best prepare for dental school by completing either a biology major or a biochemistry major. Most students take the DCAT (dentistry) in April of their junior year. For further information, contact the coordinator of pre-dental studies, Dr. Leanne Bakke at (651) 641-8750 or bakke@csp.edu.

PRE-PHARMACY

Students interested in pursuing a doctorate of pharmacy degree can meet the admission requirements for any program by completing a biology major or a chemistry major with a biology minor. For further information, contact the coordinator of pre-pharmacy studies, Dr. Leanne Bakke at (651) 641-8750 or bakke@csp.edu.

PRE-PHYSICAL THERAPY

Each physical therapy graduate program varies in specific requirements but all require a bachelor's degree. It is highly recommended that students interested in physical therapy complete a major in Biology. For further information, contact the coordinator of pre-law studies, Dr. Eric LaMott at (651) 641-8729 or lamott@csp.edu.

PRE-LAW STUDIES

Pre-law students at Concordia University should complete the Bachelor of Arts degree in one or more fields of study. Law schools prefer that students complete a broad, diverse, and challenging undergraduate curriculum and reserve legal study for law school. Undergraduate programs should reveal the student's capacity to rise to intellectual challenge and perform well at an academically rigorous level whether in the sciences, the liberal arts, the business curriculum, or other fields. For further information, contact the coordinator of pre-law studies, Dr. Paul Hillmer at (651) 641-8215 or hillmer@csp.edu.

PRE-MEDICAL STUDIES

To enter professional programs in medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, chiropractic, pharmacy, physician's assistant, and physical therapy, students normally complete a Bachelor of Science degree or a Bachelor of Arts degree in a related field. Pre-medical education should be considered a field of interest rather than a major. The Biology major allows students to select a track appropriate to the chosen professional program (health sciences, general biology, biotechnology and environmental science).

Students who are planning a pre-medical program should consult with the pre-medical faculty advisor in the Department of Science. Interested students should contact the college or university where they intend to complete their degree program for a list of acceptable courses for transfer. Students typically take the Medical College Admission Test (MCAT) in April of their junior year.

CERTIFICATIONS

DIRECTOR OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

The purpose of the Director of Christian Education certification program is to prepare students for professional Word and Service ministry as lifespan educational leaders and equippers in the Church.

LUTHERAN CLASSROOM TEACHER

The purpose of the Lutheran Classroom Teacher (LCT) certification program is to prepare students for professional Word and Service ministry integrating faith and learning in the lives of children, youth, and families served by Lutheran schools. Students complete a teaching licensure program in order to be licensed as a teacher and the Confessional Lutheranism minor in order to be certified for service in the Church.

DIRECTOR OF CHRISTIAN OUTREACH

The purpose of the Director of Christian Outreach certification program is to prepare students for professional Word and Service ministry as equippers of the Church to carry out God's mission to seek and save the lost throughout the world.

DIRECTOR OF PARISH MUSIC

The purpose of the Director of Parish Music certification program is to prepare students for professional Word and Service ministry which uses music to praise God, proclaim the Gospel, and lead the song of the people in the life and worship of the Church.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS

LAY LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE

The College of Vocation and Ministry seeks creative, innovative ways to help church professionals, lay leaders and congregations thrive and grow in an environment of change. The Iowa West Lay Leadership Institute's two-year program is offered over the course of 10 weekends per year. Concordia faculty and District personnel currently teach all courses. Support classes also are available in congregational leadership, Law and Gospel interpretation, parish education, youth and family ministry, congregational outreach, cross-cultural outreach and care ministries. For more information about the lay training or other partnership opportunities, contact the College of Vocation and Ministry (651-641-8841; cvm@csp.edu; www.csp.edu/cvm/) or contact Dr. Stephen Stohlmann 651-641-8824; stohlmann@csp.edu.

PROFESSIONAL CHURCH WORK PROGRAMS

Under the auspices of The College of Vocation and Ministry, Department of Christian Ministries, Concordia University supports four professional church work programs that prepare students to be placed on the roster of Commissioned Ministers of The LCMS: Director of Christian Education; Director of Christian Outreach; Director of Parish Music; Lutheran Classroom Teacher; as well as Pre-Pastoral and Pre-Deaconess Studies. For further information contact the College of Vocation and Ministry at 651-641-8841; www.csp.edu/cvm/ or Dr. David Lumpp, Dean of the College of Vocation and Ministry (641-641-8217; lumpp@csp.edu).

SPECIALTY STUDIES

The Department of Church Careers offers two areas of special study leading to further preparation and formation for service in the Church as deaconesses or pastors.

PRE-PASTORAL EDUCATION

The pre-pastoral program at Concordia University, Saint Paul equips students for seminary success, where they will receive their formal education for service in Word and Sacrament ministry. Students interested in pre-pastoral studies at Concordia should contact the College of Vocation and Ministry (651-641-8841); www.csp.edu/cvm/ or the program's director, Dr. Richard Carter (651-641-8271; carter@csp.edu).

PRE-DEACONESS EDUCATION

The pre-deaconess program at Concordia University, Saint Paul prepares students for Word and Service ministry as a Deaconess. Beginning the program at Concordia University, Saint Paul, the pre-deaconess student may transfer at the beginning of the junior year for continued preparation in the Concordia River Forest Deaconess program, or she may graduate from CSP with a major in theology and may continue preparation at Concordia Seminary, Saint Louis or Concordia Theological Seminary, Fort Wayne, Indiana, earning a Master of Arts degree and the Deaconess certification. Students in the pre-deaconess studies at Concordia should contact the College of Vocation and Ministry (651-641-8841; www.csp.edu/cvm/), or Dr. Richard Carter (651-641-8271; carter@csp.edu).

DIRECTOR OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

The Director of Christian Education (DCE) program prepares men and women to serve as lifespan educational leaders in various team ministry settings in the congregation. With different emphases and specializations, the DCE is there to help teach the Christian faith to children and adults across the lifespan. The DCE program is five years in duration, entailing the core Bible and theology component, a cluster of more specialized courses, and one year devoted to a supervised internship. Students interested in or with questions about the DCE program should contact the College of Vocation and Ministry (651-641-8841; www.csp.edu/cvm/) or Director of the DCE Program, Professor Kevin Hall (651-603-6165; khall@csp.edu), or Ms. Kathryn Hagen (651-641-8892; hagen@csp.edu).

DIRECTOR OF CHRISTIAN OUTREACH

The Director of Christian Outreach (DCO) program prepares outreach specialists for service to the church. A DCO helps to assess outreach opportunities unique to a ministry setting and to equip each congregation to bring the Gospel to people in the most winsome and effective ways possible. The DCO may serve in North America or on a foreign mission field. The DCO program entails a core of academic work in Lutheran theology, a core of specialized courses, and a supervised internship. Interested students should contact the College of Vocation and Ministry (651-641-8841; www.csp.edu/cvm/) or contact Professors Phillip Johnson (651-641-8246, pjohnson@csp.edu), or Mark Press (651-603-8830, press@csp.edu).

DIRECTOR OF PARISH MUSIC

The Director of Parish Music (DPM) program uses music of all forms and times while drawing on the rich liturgical tradition of the Lutheran church in the leadership and enhancement of the worship of the Church. The DPM program helps men and women serve God and God's gathered people through the gift of music. The Director of Parish Music will be active in worship planning, while equipping, leading, and teaching others in worship and music. A DPM program entails a core of academic work in Lutheran theology, its own curriculum in music and music education, and a supervised fieldwork experience. Interested students should contact the College of Vocation and Ministry (651-641-8841; www.csp.edu/cvm/ or Dr. David Mennicke (dmennicke@csp.edu).

LUTHERAN CLASSROOM TEACHER

The Lutheran Classroom Teacher program is a partnership between the College of Vocation and Ministry and the College of Education, preparing men and women for teaching careers in one of the more than 2,500 pre-school, elementary or secondary schools of The Lutheran Church – Missouri Synod. A student preparing to be a Lutheran Classroom Teacher meets the requirements for Minnesota state licensure as a teacher through the College of Education and meets the requirements for church certification through the College of Vocation and Ministry. The programs between the two colleges are integrated and coordinated in such a way as to benefit the student in achieving ministry goals. Interested students should contact the College of Vocation and Ministry (651-641-8841); www.csp.edu/cvm/ or Dr. Michele Pickel, (651-641-8786; pickel@csp.edu).

SCHOOL OF CONTINUING STUDIES

Concordia University's School of Continuing Studies (SCS) offers learning experiences and other training in a variety of academic disciplines and in a variety of ways which are designed to fit the schedule of the working adult student. Over 400 courses are offered each year for currently enrolled or visiting students. The School of Continuing Studies offers:

- credit and noncredit courses
- general education courses and elective courses
- in-class weekday or weekend classes and online courses
- Associate of Arts degree (64 credits)

GENERAL EDUCATION AND ELECTIVE COURSES THROUGH THE SCHOOL OF CONTINUING STUDIES

Concordia's School of Continuing Studies offers undergraduate general education and elective courses delivered in accelerated in-class, online, or self-paced formats. The courses are designed for adult students and to assist students in building enough general education credits (minimum 36 credits) to start one of Concordia University's adult accelerated degree programs. Through these intensive courses learners can earn up to 36 semester credits in approximately one calendar year. There are no educational prerequisites to enroll in these classes and visiting students are welcome to enroll.

Accelerated general education courses allow learners to:

- efficiently obtain general study requirements to prepare for an accelerated learning program;
- develop skills to be successful in academic work;
- earn foundational credits for a liberal arts education; and
- work towards a college degree, regardless of geographic location or time.

APPLICATION PROCESS

Contact the School of Continuing Studies for registration information at (651) 603-6268.

COURSE DELIVERY

Some courses are available in a face-to-face format but most are delivered online. Many are also offered in a self-paced format. In the online accelerated classes learners collaborate with a community of peers through chats, discussion boards, and email. Weekend courses are offered in an accelerated format for seminar college credit, certificate of attendance, or personal enrichment. Credits will be for undergraduate electives unless otherwise stated in the course description. Self-paced study courses are online courses that have no face-to-face or synchronous meeting times.

COURSE SELECTION

Participants will be teamed with an advisor who will assist in creating a class schedule that fits with the student's work and personal life.

HOW TO REGISTER

Registrations are taken in the order received until classes are full. School of Continuing Studies office hours are Monday through Friday from 8:30 am to 5:00 pm. Request a bulletin of all courses – including a registration form – by email, telephone, or fax. All courses and special events are listed on the School of Continuing website as well.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

ACC	201	Principles of Accounting (Financial Accounting)	4
This class introduces the student to the role of accounting in the business world. The principles and concepts of financial accounting and analysis of accounting statements are covered. Accounting cycles, procedures and balanced sheet classifications are emphasized.
ACC	202	Principles of Accounting (Managerial Accounting)	4
This course is continuation of ACC 201 with an emphasis on liabilities, corporate equity measure measurement and earnings per share calculations. The course examines the evaluation of financial goals with an introduction to managerial accounting topics including cost/volume/profit analysis, responsibility accounting, allocation methodologies, budgets and cash flow. (Prerequisite: ACC 201)
ACC	311	Intermediate Accounting I	4
This course is an expansion of topics covered briefly in Principles of Accounting. The course develops the student's ability to analyze complex financial accounting reporting problems and discusses financial accounting measurements, revenue and expense recognition, inventory cost and valuation, long-lived assets, costing valuation and amortization. The student is also introduced to selected topics in international accounting. (Prerequisite: ACC 202)
ACC	312	Intermediate Accounting II	4
This course is a continuation of ACC311 with emphasis on liabilities, corporate equity measurement and earnings per share. The course also explores the areas of evaluation of financial goals, performance review and special topics in financial reporting, such as: accounting for income taxes, leases, pensions and cash flow. (Prerequisite: ACC 311)
ACC	411	Advanced Accounting	4
This course covers the advanced study of accounting principles including: accounting for combined corporate entities, consolidated statement preparation and analysis, branch accounting, partnership accounting, accounting for international transactions, governmental accounting, non-profit accounting and accounting for bankruptcies, estates and trusts. (Prerequisite: ACC 312).
ACC	412	Auditing	4
This course defines the ethical and legal responsibilities of the auditor and covers the topics of the preparation of the audit program and working papers for the audit of the financial statements in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards (GAAS). (Prerequisite: ACC 312)
ACC	413	Cost Accounting	4
This course develops and uses accounting data for managerial decision-making. Cost concepts for planning and control, cost/volume/profit relationships, responsibility accounting and inventory planning and control emphasized. (Prerequisite: ACC 202)
ACC	415	Biblical Christianity	4
Students study selected Old and New Testament texts and explore the historical Biblical perspective of Christianity in the context of grace and the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Students learn how religious issues have been addressed and incorporated throughout different eras of history. Students learn how Christianity has shaped elements of management, how Biblical principles can shape individuals for strong leadership, and how to better understand Christians in the workplace within a Judeo-Christian culture.
ACC	435	Philosophy of Values and Ethics	4
Students examine issues of accountability in business regarding human rights and ethics through readings, classroom discussions, and debates. Students develop a system for making ethical decisions in their personal lives as well as in public and employment situations. In particular, financial ethics in public and private sector are explored. Both ethical theory and personal values are explored.
ACC	498	Accounting Internship	1
ANT	101	Cultural Anthropology	2
Anthropology examines the perspectives of human existence in all places and time. Cultural anthropology looks particularly at the patterned behavior that people learn and practice in society. Both non-literate societies are studied as well as the complex ones of Western cultures. While the course focuses on basic anthropological concepts, students may also learn by doing original fieldwork.
ARB	101	Arabic Language and Culture I	4
This course will introduce students to the basics of the Arabic language. The focus will be on learning the fundamentals of classical Arabic and on practicing conversational Arabic. Students will learn both written and spoken Arabic, Level 1. In addition to learning the Arabic language, students will also be introduced to Arab culture and will explore the mutually influential relationship between Arabic language and culture.
ARB	201	Arabic Language and Culture II	4
This course is an intermediate Arabic course. Students will expand on their learning from Arabic 101 and continue learning the grammar, vocabulary, and uses of the Arabic language. The focus will be on learning intermediate levels of classical Arabic and on gaining more practice in conversational Arabic. Students will learn both written and spoken Arabic, Level 2. In addition to learning the Arabic language, students will also learn more about Arab culture and will explore the mutually influential relationship between Arabic language and culture.
ARB	488	Arabic Independent Study	4

ARC	101	Introduction to Biblical Archaeology	2
This course surveys the history and methods of the discipline of archaeology. It examines the relationships between historical records and material remains, and it provides hands-on experience with material remains.
ARC	250	Near Eastern Archaeology	4
The course surveys the archaeology of the Levant from prehistoric times into the Islamic periods. It explores sites, monuments, and artistic remains as expressions of each society's institutions, beliefs, and self- understanding. This course also introduces the main issues in the practice of Near Eastern archaeology.
ARC	301	Palestine and Its Material Remains	4
Students pursue a selective acquaintance with the geography, history and material remains of Palestine. Extensive reading, travel to Israel, volunteer participation in a dig and reflective writing enable students to grasp the significance of the land, its cultures, religions, and remains.
ARC	351	Field Archaeology	4
Through work at a field site, students gain experience in the excavation, recording, collection, conservation, and interpretation of material remains.
ARC	488	Archaeology Ind. Study	1
ARC	498	Archaeology Lab Internship	2
This internship provides the student with an in-depth experience in a lab setting that processes and documents archaeological finds. The student learns to apply standard techniques and practices.
ART	100	Fine Arts Colloquium	1
A Pass/No Pass lab course designed to directly introduce students to some of the Twin Cities arts communities. Students will interact with professional and amateur artists and activities from a variety of fine and performing arts disciplines. Learning will be assessed through written expression and limited oral communication.
ART	101	Approaching Art	2
This seven-week course lays the foundation for approaching visual art by introducing fundamental aspects of the nature of art and art making. The course will investigate four areas which are key to appreciating art. These four units will include the importance perceptual skills, the nature of the creative process, the place of art in its cultural context, and the role and processes of abstraction. The course will involve looking at art, reading, writing and speaking about art using acquired vocabulary and knowledge.
ART	102	2D Design	3
This course introduces the foundation design elements and principles for two-dimensional design. Compositional problems are introduced and solved in a studio setting. In addition basic two-dimensional media are introduced and explored during the different units of the course of study.
ART	103	3D Design	3
This course introduces the foundation design elements and principles for three-dimensional design. Compositional problems are introduced and solved in a studio setting. In addition basic three-dimensional media are introduced and explored during the different units of the course of study.
ART	104	Introduction to Art History	3
ART	105	Color Theory	3
Traditional and contemporary approaches to color theory will be taught. These ideas will be beneficial for most studio areas and of particular importance to careers in design.
ART	111	Drawing I	3
This introductory studio course is designed to familiarize beginning students with fundamental techniques and concepts of drawing. In that basic skill building is the core of this course it is a very approachable class for non-art majors. Although some history of drawing will be presented learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio production and review. (Prerequisite: ART101 or instructor consent)
ART	121	Painting I	3
This course is designed to introduce students with fundamental concepts in oil and/or acrylic painting. Historical and contemporary approaches to painting will be addressed. Non-art majors can also succeed in this course.
ART	141	Photography I	3
This course is designed to familiarize beginning students with the fundamental techniques and concepts of photographic practices and processes. The use and operation of the 35mm film camera, experimental and traditional black and white darkroom techniques and new digital technologies will be taught through demonstration and assigned projects. Photographic history and criticism will also be introduced. Portfolio production will be the main form of assessment in this introductory course.
ART	142	Introduction to Digital Photography	3
This course is designed to engage students in the basic practices and techniques of creating images with digital technology. The course will focus on a series of varied projects and include aesthetic lectures and critique, as well as basic image manipulation with digital imaging software.
ART	151	Sculpture I	3
This introductory studio course is designed to familiarize beginning students with the fundamental techniques and concepts of contemporary sculpture. Both additive and reductive sculpture will be explored as students are introduced to both traditional and non-traditional sculpture media. Students will also investigate the relationship of drawing to the sculptural process. Although some 19th and 20th C. sculpture history will be presented, learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio production and review. (Prerequisites: ART 101, ART 103 or instructor consent)

ART	161	Ceramics	3
This introductory studio course is designed to familiarize beginning students with the fundamental techniques and concepts of contemporary ceramic art. Students will see and also investigate sculptural and vessel forms in clay, along with the relationship of drawing to the creative process. Although significant clay art history and technology will be taught, learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio production and review.
ART	171	Survey of Western Art I	3
This course is designed to introduce students to fundamental concepts in art history as well as important masterworks from the western art tradition. Prehistoric work through the 14th C. will be addressed. Non-art majors can enjoy this course.
ART	172	Survey of Western Art II	3
This course is designed to introduce students to fundamental concepts in art history as well as important masterworks from the western art tradition. 15th century work through the present will be addressed. Non-art majors can enjoy this course.
ART	202	Digital Art I	3
This introductory course is designed to familiarize beginning students with the fundamental techniques and concepts of design using computer technology as the primary medium. Students will build on drawing and composition skills to create designs with a variety of design software programs. Although technological and ethical issues in the field will be addressed, learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio production and review. (Prerequisites: ART 102 or instructor consent)
ART	211	Illustration	3
This course introduces the technical and conceptual skills for successful illustration. It is an important foundation for all design and applied arts fields.
ART	212	Illustration	3
This course introduces the technical and conceptual skills for successful illustration. It is an important foundation for all design and applied arts fields.
ART	221	Painting I	3
This course is designed to introduce students with fundamental concepts in oil and/or acrylic painting. Historical and contemporary approaches to painting will be addressed. Non-art majors can also succeed in this course.

This introductory course is designed to familiarize students with the fundamental techniques and concepts of relief and intaglio printmaking. Students will build on drawing and composition skills to create editions of prints. Techniques covered will include woodcut, linocut, collagraph, and monoprints. Although some history of printmaking will be presented learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio production and review.
ART	241	Photography I	3
This course is designed to familiarize beginning students with the fundamental techniques and concepts of photographic practices and processes. The use and operation of the 35mm film camera, experimental and traditional black and white darkroom techniques and new digital technologies will be taught through demonstration and assigned projects. Photographic history and criticism will also be introduced. Portfolio production will be the main form of assessment in this introductory course.
ART	251	Sculpture I	3
This introductory studio course is designed to familiarize beginning students with the fundamental techniques and concepts of contemporary sculpture. Both additive and reductive sculpture will be explored as students are introduced to both traditional and non-traditional sculpture media. Students will also investigate the relationship of drawing to the sculptural process. Although some 19th and 20th century sculpture history will be presented, learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio production and review. (Prerequisites: ART 101, ART 103 or instructor consent)
ART	261	Ceramics I	3
This introductory studio course is designed to familiarize beginning students with the fundamental techniques and concepts of contemporary ceramic art. Students will see and also investigate sculptural and vessel forms in clay, along with the relationship of drawing to the creative process. Although significant clay art history and technology will be taught, learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio production and review.
ART	271	Survey of Western Art I	3
This course is designed to introduce students to fundamental concepts in art history as well as important masterworks from the western art tradition. Prehistoric work through the 14th C. will be addressed. Non-art majors can enjoy this course.
ART	272	Survey of Western Art II	3
This course is designed to introduce students to fundamental concepts in art history as well as important masterworks from the western art tradition. 15th C. work through the present will be addressed. Non-art majors can enjoy this course.
ART	273	Ethnographic Art	3
This course is intended to provide a survey of non-western, world art. It is arranged in multiple units, which will sample ethnographic art from across the world. Cultures from West Africa, the Near East and the Far East, indigenous cultures from the Americas and Oceanic cultures will be surveyed. Special emphasis is placed on relating the art to the cultural contexts from which it came. Influences such as religion and political histories are investigated in their relationship to the art. (Prerequisite: ART 101 or instructor consent)

ART	282	Graphic Design I	3
This course lays the foundations of the discipline of graphic design. The course helps students apply concepts of design and color theory into applied arts areas.
ART	291	Adobe Creative Suite	3
Photoshop, InDesign, Illustrator, Dreamweaver, Acrobat, Bridge, Flash and much more. This project based course will explore the core print, web and interactive design possibilities within the Adobe Creative Suite Design Premium software package. The course material will be tailored to the experience level and interests of the students enrolled. The course is intended to be a jumpstart for the Graphic Design and other digital art courses offered by CSP.
ART	292	Intro to Photoshop	1
This five-week course introduces the student to this commonly used software application in the field of design. It is an extremely versatile art creation and photo editing program.
ART	293	Intro to Illustrator	1
This 5 week course introduces the student to this commonly used software application in the field of design. It is an effective drawing and illustration program.
ART	300	Community Arts	4
This course is designed to introduce students to the variety of forms community arts programs have taken and are taking across the country. Facets of community arts programs such as legal aspects, funding issues, cooperation and collaboration, as well as aesthetic issues will be explored. Many fine and performing arts genre will be addressed and specific programs will be referenced and researched. Guest presenters from the Twin Cities will play a large part in this course.
ART	302	Digital Art II	3
This course is designed to expand students' facility in using the computer to solve more complex problems. Students will build on drawing, composition and computer skills to create designs with a variety of design software programs. Students will be encouraged to develop a personal voice with the computer. Learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio production and review. (Prerequisite: ART 202 or instructor consent)
ART	311	Figure Drawing	3
This course is designed to familiarize beginning students with anatomy and the figure as a subject matter vital in an artist's vocabulary. Students will build on drawing and composition skills to create designs with a variety of drawing media. Although the history of figurative art will be explored, learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio production and review. (Prerequisites: ART 102, ART 111 or or instructor consent)
ART	321	Painting II	3
This is an intermediate level course designed to stimulate and further develop an interest in painting methods and techniques for personal expression. Students are encouraged to create and solve specific problems in painting. Learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio production and review and also class participation. (Prerequisite: ART 221 or instructor consent)
ART	331	Relief Printmaking I	3
This introductory course is designed to familiarize students with the fundamental techniques and concepts of relief and intaglio printmaking. Students will build on drawing and composition skills to create editions of prints. Techniques covered will include woodcut, linocut, collagraph, and monoprints. Although some history of printmaking will be presented learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio production and review.
ART	332	Screen Printmaking	3
This course is designed to familiarize beginning students with the fundamental techniques and concepts of silkscreen printmaking. Students will build on drawing and composition skills to create editions of silkscreen prints. Techniques covered will include cut, painted and photographic stencils. Although some history of printmaking will be presented, learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio production and review.
ART	333	Intaglio Printmaking	3
This course is designed to familiarize beginning students with the fundamental techniques and concepts of intaglio printmaking. Students will build on drawing, composition, and other art skills to create editions of intaglio prints. Techniques covered will include etching, dry point, aquatint, collagraph, monoprinting and photopolymer plates. Although some history of printmaking will be presented, learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio production and review.
ART	334	Lithography	3
This intermediate course is designed to familiarize beginning students with the fundamental techniques and concepts of lithographic printmaking. Students will build on drawing and composition skills to create editions of lithographic prints. Although some history of printmaking will be presented, learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio production and review.
ART	341	Photography II	3
This course expands students' knowledge of the use of the 35 mm camera and black and white darkroom processing and printing. Students learn to control film exposure and development in order to make consistently good prints. Photographic theory is introduced. Students will fully explore their ideas through shooting a lot of film. Learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio development and review, as well as class participation. (Prerequisite: ART 241 or instructor consent)
ART	342	Digital Photography	2
This course will investigate the unique approaches to digital photography as an art form. This field will be compared and contrasted with black and white photography and also explored as its own unique area of artistic investigation. Emphasis will be given to seeing and thinking like an artist.

ART	351	Sculpture II	3
This is an intermediate level course designed to stimulate and further develop interest in sculptural methods and techniques for personal expression. Media exploration and contemporary aesthetic issues such as environmental sculpture or installation are introduced, as students are encouraged to create and solve problems in sculpture in specific areas of the discipline. Learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio development and review. (Prerequisite: ART 251 or instructor consent)
ART	357	Art in Secondary Education	2
This course guides prospective junior and senior high school art teachers in understanding the spirit of art teaching and equips them with knowledge and skills necessary for successful teaching. Students will be involved in practical problems of school art both in the classroom and outside the classroom. The course deals with aesthetics, critical program evaluation, research, history and skill building and idea awareness in Discipline Based Art Education. (Prerequisite: acceptance in Teacher Education Program or instructor consent)
ART	358	Advanced Art Education	2
This course aims to enable future art teachers to relate the general concepts of art education to specific teaching theories. Past and contemporary theories of art education are studied. In addition, historical approaches to art education are presented, as are a variety of artists; philosophies on the nature of art. (Prerequisite: ED 447 or instructor consent)
ART	361	Ceramics II	3
This intermediate course is designed to advance students; knowledge of the techniques and concepts of contemporary ceramic art. Students will investigate both sculptural and vessel forms in clay with special emphasis given to exploration of a wide variety of surface treatments. Students will develop substantial knowledge of glaze technologies. Learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio production and review, along with class participation. (Prerequisite: ART 261 or instructor consent)
ART	370	Mexican Art and Culture	4
This course introduces the student to Mexican art and culture through study and experience in Mexico The social, political and historic context of Mexican culture is emphasized. Required pre-trip and post-trip involvement and observation and discussion carry most of the course content. Students must also complete a project following up on the experiential learning.
ART	372	Early Epoch of Christian Art	3
This course examines in some depth drawing, painting, sculptural and architectural traditions as they emerge from the Roman Empire at the turn of the millennium through the 14th C. The course links artistic developments with cultural influences and tensions between near east Asia and the west in the middle ages.
ART	373	Italian Renaissance and Baroque Art	3
This course examines in depth drawing, painting, sculptural and architectural traditions from the early Renaissance through the 18th C. The course links artistic developments with cultural influences, with an emphasis on Italian art, but also inclusive of northern Europe. (Prerequisite: ART 172 or instructor consent)
ART	376	Ethnographic Art 4	4
This course is intended to provide a survey of non-western, world art. It is arranged in multiple units, which will sample ethnographic art from across the world. Cultures from West Africa, the Near East and the Far East, indigenous cultures from the Americas and Oceanic cultures will be surveyed. Special emphasis is placed on relating the art to the cultural contexts from which it came. Influences such as religion and political histories are investigated in their relationship to the art. (Prerequisite: ART 101 or instructor consent)
ART	382	Graphic Design II	3
This course develops sophisticated applications in the discipline of graphic design. The course helps students develop their professional portfolio for applied arts areas.
ART	383	Web Design	3
The Web Design course is structured to teach the visual, communication and marketing aspects of a good website. It is a project based course where students will create websites and web content using Adobe Creative Suite software (Dreamweaver, Photoshop, Flash) and other web-related tools. Course material will be tailored to the experience level of students enrolled in the course.
ART	411	Advanced Drawing	4
This course is designed to establish personal style in a variety of drawing media. Traditional subjects like the still life and the figure will be investigated along with creative and divergent situations used for expression. Significant emphasis will be placed on developing skills in formal and iconographic criticism. Learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio development and review. (Prerequisite: ART311 or instructor consent)
ART	421	Advanced Painting	4
This course is designed to encourage the individual stylistic development of advanced painting students. Students may explore new painting media and/or figurative painting while applying previously learned techniques in creating complete artistic expressions/compositions. Students will be encouraged to work in series. Learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio development and review. (Prerequisite: ART 321 or instructor consent)
ART	431	Mixed Media Graphics	3
This course is designed to familiarize intermediate students with alternative and advanced graphics techniques, in particular photographic and digital applications for printmaking, as well as digital prints and non-silver photography. Contemporary issues and themes in graphics will be discussed. Learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio production and review. (Prerequisites: ART 102, ART 111, and one of the following: ART 141, 202, 231, 232, 233, or instructor consent)

ART	435	Advanced Printmaking	4
This course is designed to encourage the individual stylistic development of advanced printmaking students. Students may explore new printmaking media while applying previously learned techniques in creating more developed projects. Learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio development and review. This course may be repeated for credit.
ART	441	Advanced Photography	4
This course is designed to establish personal style in photography. Traditional treatment of the medium will be investigated along with creative and divergent photographic expressions. Computer applications in photography will be introduced and explored. Significant emphasis will be placed on developing skills in formal and iconographic criticism. Learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio development and review. (Prerequisite: ART 341 or instructor consent)
ART	451	Advanced Sculpture	4
This course is designed to develop personal style in sculpture. Contemporary issues in sculptural media and theory will be addressed. Learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio production and review.
ART	461	Advanced Ceramics	4
This course provides an in depth study of the techniques and concepts of clay as an art medium. Students build on previous ceramics experience to work in series as a way of developing sophistication in their clay work. Advanced glaze technology, firing options and construction techniques constitute the course content. Learning will be assessed primarily through portfolio development and review. (Prerequisite: ART 361 or instructor consent)
ART	471	The Revolution: 19th Century Art	3
This course examines in some depth the revolutionary developments in painting, sculptural and architectural traditions from the 19th C. The course links European and American artistic developments with revolutionary cultural influences worldwide; from politics and religion through science and trade.
ART	472	19th and 20th Century Art and Design	4
This course examines the revolutionary developments in painting, sculptural and architectural traditions from the 19th C. as well as the Modernist traditions of the first half of the 20th C. and the initial Post-Modern trends that follow. The course links these artistic developments with world-wide cultural influences. In addition, special attention is given to the history of design.
ART	473	History of Photography	3
This course introduces students to 19th, 20th and 21st century photographic technologies, practitioners and images. Emphasis is on Western photographic practices and the impact that the invention of photography has had on our understanding of the world around us from science, history, culture, aesthetics, politics, current events, and every-day life.
ART	481	Topics in Art: _____	4
This teacher directed course will center on advanced and narrowly defined studio or art historical investigations to be announced. The course's focus may introduce unfamiliar or unusual media, or subjects, or provide very advanced level knowledge of a familiar discipline. (Prerequisites: ART 101 and consent of instructor)
ART	482	Graphic Design III	4
This advanced course further develops applications in the discipline of graphic design. Students will work on a series of projects and develop a professional portfolio.
ART	483	Web Design	3
The Web Design course is structured to teach the visual, communication and marketing aspects of a good website. It is a project based course where students will create websites and web content using Adobe Creative Suite software (Dreamweaver, Photoshop, Flash) and other web-related tools. Course material will be tailored to the experience level of students enrolled in the course.
ART	489	Mentored Study	1
This opportunity encourages the student to establish advanced study in an art medium with an internship within the institution in any desired discipline. The mentor relationship will be a guided experience, which encourages the student toward mastery of a studio or historical discipline. Assessment will be through contractual arrangement with the guiding mentor. (Prerequisite: advanced work completed in the field desired)
ART	491	Theories in Contemporary Art	3
This seminar style course discusses theories and ideas that underpin the current art world. The approaches of many current artists and critics are examined.
ART	498	Arts Internship	1
This opportunity is specifically required for Community Arts majors or minors as well as Design Majors. It establishes advanced field study in the discipline in a setting outside the campus context. The internship will be arranged by the student in consultation with the advisor and assessment will be through contractual arrangement with the guiding mentor. (Community Arts majors are encouraged to do this through HECUA.)
ART	499	Art Senior Seminar	1
This course serves as the capstone experience in the Art Department. The course will vary somewhat based on the student's degree sought. It will normally be the production of a solo exhibition, or of a professional design portfolio, or a Community Arts experience. The work produced and presented must be the student's current work. Individual directions will be developed with the professor and student's advisor. (Prerequisite: Senior standing or instructor consent)
BAC	205	Influencing Without Authority	2
How do we establish enough influence over key stakeholders to get our work done when we have no "real" authority over them? We know what needs to be done and we know how to do it, yet we can't get our boss, our colleagues, and yes, even the people who report to us, to do "the right thing."

BIO	100	Biology Today	3
This course challenges students to confront, evaluate, and integrate the major discoveries and principles of the biological sciences within their worldview as members of contemporary society. Major themes of the course include the role of genes and inheritance in human growth and development; health and behavior; human origin and relationship to the Earth's biodiversity; and human impact on, role within, and responsibility for the integrity of the biosphere. Lectures, readings, discussions, films, and laboratory activities comprise the course. (Prerequisites: none. Students planning further study in biology or other natural sciences should complete BIO 120 and BIO 130.)
BIO	102	Biology 102	4
This augmented version of Biology Today challenges students to confront, evaluate, and integrate the major discoveries and principles of the biological sciences within their worldview as members of contemporary society. Major themes of the course include the role of genes and inheritance in human growth and development; health and behavior; human origin and relationship to the Earth's biodiversity; and human impact on, role within, and responsibility for the integrity of the biosphere. Lectures, readings discussions, films and laboratory activities comprise the course.
BIO	120	Biology I: The Unity of Life	4
Emphasizing inquiry and investigation, this course introduces students to the discoveries, both historical and contemporary, that support the unifying theories of modern biological science. Topics considered include the nature and methods of modern biological science; the basis of life in terms of matter, energy, cells, genetics, and reproduction; and the impact of evolution on the unity of life. The course is comprised of lectures, readings, discussions, written assignments, films, and an inquiry-based laboratory component. (Recommended prerequisites: one year of high school biology and chemistry and four years of high school mathematics)
BIO	130	Biology II: The Diversity of Life	4
Current and competing hypotheses explaining the origin, development, and maintenance of the Earth's biodiversity are critically evaluated. Employing a phylogenetic approach and emphasizing the Eukaryota, the major lineages of life are surveyed and compared by considering evolutionary trends and the relationships between structure and function within and among lineages. Abiotic and biotic factors, including human activity, influencing populations, communities, ecosystems and the biosphere are explored. The course is comprised of lectures, readings, discussions, written assignments, films, and an inquiry-based laboratory component. (Recommended prerequisites: one year of high school biology and chemistry and four years of high school mathematics)
BIO	200	Outdoor Biology	2
This course provides students with hands-on opportunities to observe and study biological organisms in their natural habitats including Concordia's Natural Science Research Station near Lindstrom, MN. Students will be learning basic field techniques for identification of plants, birds, mammals, and insects. We will explore some of Minnesota's many plant communities and discuss the importance of habitat to all organisms.
BIO	210	Genetics	4
This course is a study of the principles of heredity based upon concepts and principles of the gene. Major topics include Mendelian genetics, sex determination and sex linkage, gene mapping, structure and function of DNA, translation, transcription, recombinant DNA technology, chromosome mutations and aberrations, transposons, extra-nuclear genomes and quantitative genetics. Problem solving will be emphasized. Three lecture/discussion sections and one three hour laboratory period per week. (Prerequisite: BIO 120)
BIO	220	Plant Biology	4
This course is a study of botany based primarily upon morphological and physiological concepts and principles. Major topics include the plant cell; the ontogeny, structure and physiology of plant tissues and organs; and the forms, phylogeny and life cycles of representative plant groups. Three lecture/demonstration sessions and one two-hour laboratory period per week.
BIO	230	Animal Biology and Physiology
This course provides a comparative study of major animal groups within a taxonomic, morphological and physiological framework. Major topics include animal cells, animal tissues, organ systems, animal phylogeny, life cycles and development. Three lecture sessions and one three hour laboratory period per week. (Prerequisites: BIO 120)
BIO	300	Microbiology	4
This course explores the nature and diversity of microorganisms by considering their structural, functional, ecological and taxonomic relationships. Major topics include microbial structure and growth, metabolism, environmental and ecological interactions, viruses, genetics and representative prokaryotic groups. Three lectures and one three-hour laboratory period per week. (Prerequisite: BIO120)
BIO	315	Human Anatomy and Physiology I	4
This course is part one of a study of the structure and function of the human body. Major topics include the introduction to the human body, cells, tissues and skeletal, muscle, nervous and cardiovascular systems. Three lectures and one three hour lab period per week. (Prerequisite: BIO 120)
BIO	316	Human Anatomy and Physiology II	4
This course is part two of a study of the structure and function of the human body. Major topics include the autonomic nerves and special senses and endocrine, respiratory, digestive, immune, metabolism, reproductive and urinary systems. Three lectures and one three hour lab period per week. (Prerequisite: BIO 316 or instructor consent)
BIO	320	Ecology	4
This course provides the opportunity to study the inter-relationships between organisms, both plant and animal and their environment. These studies include intraspecies and interspecies relationships. The lab consists of field study techniques, collecting, analyzing and interpreting data. Three lecture/discussion sections and one three hour laboratory period per week. (Prerequisite: BIO 120 and BIO 130; Recommended: MAT 110).

BIO	330	Cell Biology
This course is a study of the structure and function of eukaryotic cells from a molecular viewpoint. Major topics include molecular cell structure, energy requirements of the cell, membranes and compartments of the cell, nucleus and information of the cell and specialized cellular organelle functions. Three lectures and one three-hour laboratory period per week. (Recommended prerequisites: BIO 120 and BIO 210 or instructor consent)
BIO	340	Science Issues and Ethics	4
This course includes a short introduction to the study of philosophy and ethics, followed by critical analyses of current issues in health and environmental sciences. Ethical discussions are framed in a solid understanding of the science behind each topic. The course will include a variety of formats, including reading and reviewing papers and/or texts, analyzing case studies, and participating in class discussions. (Prerequisites: BIO 120 and CHE 115).
BIO	350	Medical Terminology	2
This course will help students learn the components of medical terms. Students will learn the basic elements of words, such as roots, prefixes, suffixes, combining vowels, and combining forms in order to understand, the word's meaning. Students will be able to apply the meaning of the word to an anatomical structure, physiological function or pathology, the Course will be mainly online but with several scheduled face-to-face meetings for discussion and examination.
BIO	415	Biology of Aging	3
This 3 credit course will focus on theories of human aging from a biological perspective. The structural and functional changes that occur during the aging process will be investigated at several levels: molecular, cellular, tissue, and organ system. The symptoms and clinical management of age-related diseases will also be explored. This course is targeted for students interested in the health sciences and is required for the gerontology minor/certification. (Prerequisite: BIO120 preferred or BIO 100)
BIO	430	Immunology	3
This course provides a comprehensive study of the immune system. Major topics include passive immunity, cell-mediated immunity, humoral immunity, autoimmune diseases, vaccination strategies and other medically relevant topics. (Prerequisite: BIO 330)
BIO	440	Human Gross Anatomy	4
This course is a comprehensive study of human anatomy which includes dissection of a human cadaver. Skeletal, muscular, nervous, digestive, cardiovascular, respiratory, and urogenital systems will be covered, and emphasis will be placed on the relatedness of structure and function.
BIO	450	Special Topics in Biology	1
The topic for this course will vary each semester, chosen from a wide range of current research in biology. Students will read background material, participate in discussions and complete writing assignments as directed by the instructor. This course will meet for one lecture/discussion hour per week. (Prerequisite: BIO 120)
BIO	455	Research Proposal	1
This course provides the foundation for the Research in Biology Course (BIO 456). The students will engage in a literature survey of research in the instructor's area of expertise and develop a research proposal consisting of a research hypothesis, a rationale for the work and experimental design. Course will meet one hour per week. (Open to students in the last two years of study and with instructor consent. Students will plan to complete BIO 456 in the following semester with the same instructor.)
BIO	456	Research in Biology	4
This course offers students an opportunity to do original research in an area of expertise of one of the biology faculty members. When applicable, the research will be followed with presentation of a poster or a paper at a research symposium.
BIO	488	Independent Study	0
Independent Study courses can be designed by the student and instructor to meet special needs. Presently offered as independent study are Scientific Presentation and Bottle Biology, both one credit experiences.
BIO	497	Biology Teaching Assistant	4
Students enrolled in this course will work with a faculty member to gain teaching experience in biology courses. Activities may include: designing laboratory exercises; working with students in laboratory, classroom and tutoring environment; preparing and delivering lectures; developing course materials; and grading.
BIO	498	Biology Internship	2
This internship is designed to provide students with a work/educational experience which will help them determine their future educational and occupational goals.
BPM	100	Getting Started in Business Process Management	1
To maintain competitiveness in local and international markets, it is increasingly essential to formally manage your business processes. This course explores the need for a business process focus, the essential steps for process management, and the critical success factors for making the effort successful. It provides a practical framework for understanding process and describes tried and true process management concepts and techniques. It explains the foundation of using and developing metrics, and it describes the role of the Process Owner, the most crucial member of a Business Process Management effort. Presented in a methodology-neutral way, participants can easily apply the knowledge and skills to any environment, and use the techniques immediately upon leaving class. Class, team, and individual exercises provide practice based on information gleaned from a detailed case study. It is also the foundation for other BPM courses.
BPM	101	Business Process Modeling	2
To harness the work done in organizations, and to increase productivity, it is essential to understand how to model business processes. This course explores the need for modeling business processes, how process modeling is one part of a larger framework for achieving higher quality through Business Process Management, the essential steps to process modeling, and the critical success factors for making the effort successful. It provides a practical framework for understanding and modeling business processes and describes how to develop a variety of process model types.

BPM	103	Business Process Improvement	2
This course explores the need for a business process focus, the essential steps for process improvement, and the critical success factors for making the effort successful. It provides a practical framework for improving process and describes many tried and true process improvement concepts and techniques. Lastly, it provides valuable tips and techniques to introduce process changes effectively, to get the most from your process improvement effort. Presented in a methodology-neutral way, participants can easily apply the knowledge and skills to any environment, and use the techniques immediately upon leaving class.
BUS	310	Organizational Behavior	4
Organizational Behavior is an interdisciplinary field of study and practice that investigates the impact of individuals, groups, structure, and environments on organizations. Students examine motivation, decision making, organizational structures, and processes that shape organizational culture. Students will be introduced to an ethical framework for decision making and leading management theories and tools.
BUS	330	Business Economics	4
Analytical approaches and tools of the economics discipline are introduced and used to examine current issues and problems that arise in the functioning of economic systems. Microeconomic and Macroeconomic tools, concepts and theories will be applied to analyze real world problems from a variety of perspectives.
BUS	340	Business Analytics I	4
BUS	350	Innovative Marketing and Social Media	4
This course provides an introduction to the study of marketing in business and other organizations. Topics that will be addressed in this course include the marketing environment, marketing ethics, information gathering, product development, pricing strategies, distribution strategies, the promotional mix, decision making, nonprofit marketing, social marketing and international marketing.
BUS	360	Corporate Accounting and Budgeting	4
This class introduces the student to the role of accounting in the business world. The principles and concepts of financial accounting and analysis of accounting statements are covered. Accounting cycles, procedures and balanced sheet classifications are emphasized.
BUS	410	Operations, Technology and Quality Management	4
This course will discuss the theoretical foundations for production management. The course will focus on the management of resources such as the production process, the management of equipment and machinery, facilities and maintenance, materials management, inventory control, quality control, scheduling, and purchasing. The course will also introduce students to theories and tools for quality management and the management of technology and information systems.
BUS	420	Corporate Finance	4
This course explores the basics of financial management. Topics include the capital markets, the cash budget, pro forma statements, analysis of financial statements, and the time value of money. Students also complete a research project.
BUS	430	Legal and Ethical Environment of Business	4
This course examines the administrative and common law regulation of business. Constitutional Law, Title VII, and product liability are covered. Students also examine contract law and the Uniform Commercial Code provisions on sales and secured transactions. Students will also learn about the connection between law and ethics.
BUS	450	Business Analytics II	4
In this course students will learn to use various tools to analyze data and make predictions. These tools include probability analysis, hypothesis testing, regression analysis, linear programming and tools for financial analysis.
BUS	490	Business Strategies	4
In this course students will apply core business skills and their ethical framework for decision making to solve real world challenges through various techniques such as case studies, business plans and field work.
BUS	499	Internship
CHD	261	The Meaning of Inclusion: Practical and Philosophical Implications	1
This course examines inclusion as both a philosophy and a real-time practice. The course offers a look at the benefits and challenges to including children with special needs in community settings.
CHD	310	Growth/Development Child	4
CHD	320	Role Early Childhood Educator	4
CHD	330	Best Practices in EC	4
CHD	400	Introduction to Early Childhood Education	3
This seminar helps students grasp the breadth, depth, and foundations of early childhood education.

CHD	401	Returning Student Seminar	2
This seminar course covers five areas that are critical to learner success: goal-setting, library, writing, personal life balance, and computer literacy. Each of the five areas are covered briefly, and then learners choose an area to explore with an instructor. This course models the collaborative learning and the self-directedness of the program.
CHD	402	Writing for Educators	3
Early childhood staff of all levels (directors, teachers, assistants, aides, family child care, etc.) must demonstrate professionalism as strong communicators not only verbally, but as writers, as well. This course will lay the ground work of writing expectations in the program, and serve to remediate as needed.
CHD	410	Growth and Development of Children	3
This is a broad sketch of human growth and development from pre-natal stages to elementary age. Developmental processes are studied from a biological and developmental perspective. Personality development and the effects of temperament on learning are discussed.
CHD	411	Child Social and Emotional Growth	3
CHD	415	Biblical Christianity	4
This course studies the social, psychological, and emotional growth of children from pre-natal to elementary ages. Issues of attachment, perspective-taking, and friendship are discussed.
CHD	422	Human Diversity and Relations	3
The purpose of this course is to expand our understanding of the influences of gender, culture, economic situation, learning styles, and language on the socialization of children, and then how to use this new understanding to form the way we program for and interact with children.
CHD	430	Infants and Toddlers	3
In this course, students will study the emerging skills and developmental characteristics of infants and toddlers. Course topics include environments that foster development, appropriate practices, and promoting the development of autonomy.
CHD	435	Developmentally Appropriate Practices in Early Childhood Education	3
This is a historical, present, and future perspective of developmentally appropriate practices. Appropriate classroom practices and current topics are discussed.
CHD	440	Children's Play and Learning	3
Theories of Piaget, Parton, Erickson, and Vygotsky are studied to determine how children learn to play and the effect that play has on the child's development. Historical perspectives and effects of play on learning are reviewed.
CHD	445	Language Development and Emergent Literacy	3
The research and stages of language development from birth through age seven are extensively explored. Students will understand how to guide children through the language acquisition process.
CHD	450	Children's Literature	3
Using children's books to develop literature-based curriculum is the emphasis of this course. There is a review of authors of children's literature and an exploration of books for a variety of purposes.
CHD	451	Dual Language Learners	3
This course will address the needs of the early childhood classroom professional. The course will move beyond the basics of child development to help educators understand the natural progression of second-language acquisition in young children.
CHD	460	Behavior Guidance in Early Childhood	3
In this course, students examine the concept of mistaken behavior, and the levels of mistaken behavior. How to promote an encouraging classroom is discussed. The short- and long-term effects of logical and natural consequences for prosocial development are reviewed.
CHD	461	Ethics in Early Childhood	3
CHD	470	Parent Education: Methods and Materials	4
This course explores the issues of educating parents. Parenting is a process, and has a variety of rights, responsibilities, and roles that change across the life span. Needs of parents, the resources available, and the helpful interactions between the parent and the educator are discussed. Variations in parenting practices based on heritage, culture, and ethnicity are also reviewed.
CHD	482	Young Child with Special Needs	3
This course is designed to introduce the student to the information and techniques needed to develop curricula and instruction to meet the unique needs of individual children in early childhood settings. Special emphasis is given to the theories, research, and practical application from the fields of both early childhood education and special education.
CHD	490	Portfolio and Synthesis	3
This final course is designed to help learners reflect on all they have done in the BA program. Through guest speakers, research study, and reflection on practice, students will synthesize all they have learned. Preparation of a professional portfolio will cap the learning experience.

CHD	610	Growth and Development of Children	4
CHD	620	Role of the Early Childhood Educator	4
CHD	630	Best Practices in Early Childhood Education	2
CHE	110	Chemistry in Perspective	3
Chemistry principles will be developed on a “need to know basis” within the context of selected societal problems. Class format will encourage students to contribute knowledge from non-scientific fields to expand the base of applicability. This course is especially designed for the non-science major and may not be used for credit in any of the science majors or minors. Three lectures and one two-hour laboratory period per week.
CHE	115	General Chemistry I	4
Systematic introduction to the conceptual and symbolic aspects of chemistry. Critical and quantitative thought as applied to the topics of measurement, formula and equation writing, stoichiometry, atomic structure and periodicity, bonding and molecular geometry, gases, phases and phase changes. Brief introduction to Organic Chemistry. Three lectures and one two-hour laboratory period per week. (Prerequisites: High School chemistry and one year of algebra or consent of instructor)
CHE	116	General Chemistry II	4
Continuation of General Chemistry I. Solutions and Colligative Properties, Equilibrium, Thermodynamics, Qualitative Analysis, Kinetics, Reduction, Oxidation, Nuclear Chemistry. Three lectures and one two-hour laboratory period per week. (Prerequisite: CHE 115)
CHE	141	Household Chemistry	0
A general education course emphasizing applications of chemistry to daily living. Topics range from “baking to medications,” from “cleaning to cosmetics” and from “secrets under the sink” to “close encounters with clothing.” Hands-on lab activities supplement the topics. (Prerequisites: A high school chemistry course and access to a kitchen and basic utensils)
CHE	150	Real World Chemistry	4
This general education course explores applications of chemistry outside of the laboratory to typical living environments. This includes chemicals used in the kitchen, garage, bathroom and work places. Hands-on lab activities supplement the topics.
CHE	221	Organic Chemistry I	4
This course is an introductory study of organic compounds using a functional group approach and stressing basic principles. Topics covered include the covalence of carbon, isomerism, stereoisomerism and the structure, properties, nomenclature and reactions of the common functional groups. The determination of molecular structure is introduced.
CHE	222	Organic Chemistry II	4
This course is a continuation of Organic Chemistry I. Topics covered include additional functional group chemistry, reaction mechanisms, heterocyclic compounds, proteins, lipids and synthetic macromolecules. Three lectures and one three-hour laboratory period per week.
CHE	230	Environmental Chemistry	3
This course considers the chemistry of earth’s natural environment: air, water, and soil. Systems will be examined to contrast their natural chemistries with potential environmental pollution effects. Three lectures per week and several field trips are taken to various laboratories. (Prerequisite: CHE 116)
CHE	326	Analytical Chemistry I	4
Introduction to the wet and instrumental techniques of analytical chemistry. Emphasis on Gravimetric and Volumetric Analysis, Statistical Evaluation of Data and Quality Assurance. Three lectures (150 minutes) and one four-hour laboratory period per week.
CHE	328	Introduction to Biochemistry	4
Molecular determinants of structure and function of biomolecules. Biological processes at the molecular level. Enzyme catalysis, bioenergetics, and metabolism. Three lectures (150 minutes) and one laboratory period (180 minutes) per week. (Prerequisite: CHE 321)
CHE	431	Advanced Inorganic Chemistry	3
Introduction to ligand field theory, group theory, organometallics, and catalysis. This lecture course will provide students with an introductory look at appropriate molecular theories and related descriptive chemistry. (Prerequisites: CHE 115, CHE 116, CHE 321, CHE 326, MAT 135, MAT 255, PHS 221, PHS 222, or permission of instructor.)
CHE	450	Special Topics in Chemistry	4
The topic for this course will be chosen from a wide range of current research and development in chemistry. Student will read background material, participate in discussions, and complete labs and/or writing assignments as instructed.
CHE	456	Research in Chemistry	0
This course offers students an opportunity to do original research in an area of expertise of one of the chemistry faculty members. When applicable, the research will be followed with presentation of a paper at an undergraduate research conferences and submission of a paper for publication. Two to three hours of laboratory and/or library work per credit per week.

CHE	497	Chemistry Teaching Assistant	4
Students enrolled in this course will work with a faculty member to gain teaching experience in chemistry courses. Activities may include: designing laboratory exercises; working with students in laboratory, classroom and tutoring environment; preparing and delivering lectures; developing course materials; grading.
CHE	498	Internship in Chemistry	2
The internship is designed to provide students with a work/educational experience that may help determine future educational and occupational goals.
CHI	101	Chinese Culture and Language	2
This course is an introduction to Chinese culture and language. It focuses on both historical and current issues in the development of a modern China. Specifically the course will explore Chinese art, philosophy, politics, and history. There will also be an introduction to some basics of the Chinese language. Ideal for students planning a trip to China, wanting to know more about China, interested in beginning the study of the Chinese language, or individuals who may be doing business with Chinese companies now or in the future.
CHM	120	Exploratory Lab in Christian Ministries	1
Students explore Christian ministry through various roles and are introduced to the portfolio process leading toward consideration of and entry into the Christian Ministry professional programs.
CHM	266	Formational Models for Christian Ministries	3
Through an exploration of the scriptural, theological, historical, and social foundations of Christian ministry, students develop a personal philosophy of ministry and mission statement. Flowing out of this philosophy, students explore essential leadership skills for effective Christian ministry practice and service. As a major project throughout the course, students develop a professional Christian ministry portfolio.
CHM	280	Caring Christian Witness	2
Students are equipped with practical ways to share the Gospel in the context of a growing friendship with others. Students develop skills in nurturing relationships, recognizing barriers and opportunities, dealing with fears, listening actively, and applying Law and Gospel to the needs of the hearer.
CHM	281	Principles for Christian Outreach	4
This course is an overview of outreach principles and strategies. Specific attention will be given to those factors in the life and activity of the church which hinder or enhance its growth. Included in the overview will be an analysis of the life and activity of a Christian congregation, steps toward mobilizing the laity, the development of a church growth consciousness, basic planning procedures for church growth, church planting theory and strategies, and basic cross-cultural insights.
CHM	310	Equipping God's People	3
Students study the theological framework of volunteer ministry, understand the connection of vocation and gifts-based volunteer ministry, explore the best practices in volunteer management, and apply learning to the design of a volunteer ministry program for a specific ministry site.
CHM	312	Youth Ministry	3
Students develop the insights and skills necessary to facilitate a relational and integrated approach to youth ministry with and for youth in a congregation, which emphasizes peer, family, and congregational support networks.
CHM	314	Family and Children Ministry	3
Students explore the societal and cultural contexts of family and children's ministry, apply foundational Christian educational theory, and work with current and emerging approaches to Christian education across the lifespan.
CHM	316	Leadership I	4
This course presents a systematic study of the principles of administration for effective servant leadership. The foundations, role and functions of effective Christian team leadership will be discussed and practiced.
CHM	317	Outdoor Ministry	2
This course explores ministry in the outdoors setting. Participants will learn about utilization of outdoor sites and activities as ministry. Time is spent in learning how experiential learning can be incorporated into the study of the faith. Participants will also learn retreat planning.
CHM	320	A Nurturing Christian Ministry	3
Students explore the scriptural, theological, and historical role of Christian education within the church. This exploration will equip students to nurture Christians in the faith across the lifespan through an intentional implementation of Christian educational programs and experiences.
CHM	322	Leadership in Christian Ministry	3
Students study and apply leadership models for guiding Christian ministry organizations into the future. Servant and team leadership, founded upon scriptural and contemporary study, serve as foundational leadership models for student exploration. The course equips students with key managerial and administrative skills essential for organizational leadership.
CHM	324	Strategic Approaches in Christian Ministry	3
Students explore and apply current strategic planning theories, methods, and tools to help Christian ministry organizations fulfill their missions within ever-changing communities and cultural contexts.

CHM	326	Healthy Congregational Change	2
Students study how to guide and assist congregations through the necessary process of productive change. Through case study analysis and projects, students apply organizational change and systems theory to congregations and ministry organizations.
CHM	361	DCE Practicum	2
The student seeking certification as a Director of Christian Education is assigned to a Lutheran school in order to teach religion, assist in planning and leading chapels, conduct devotions, and observe the ministry of the Lutheran school and the Lutheran classroom teacher.
CHM	366	Parish Education I	3
Through class discussion, readings, presentation and involvement in Christian education agencies in a local congregation, students grow in understanding the purpose and function of life-long parish educational ministries. Various approaches to religious and Christian education will be studied with particular application to the Lutheran setting. (Required concurrent registration in CVM 370.)
CHM	367	Parish Education II	3
Students observe and participate in a broad range of educational, youth, music, family, adult and children's activities in an assigned local parish while having opportunity to explore the theory and literature of the field. Students are expected to develop knowledge and skills to develop as an educational leader. This course will introduce various models for the delivery of Christian education in the parish community. Participants will explore teaching the faith, utilizing Scripture and Luther's Small Catechism as a foundation throughout the life span and will explore various ways to provide Christian education in the contemporary setting. One area for intensive leadership involvement is selected, designed and carried to completion. Class sessions provide opportunity for sharing insights, experiences and concerns with other students and the instructor. A discussion of relevant subjects and literature is included. (Required concurrent registration in CHM 371.)
CHM	368	Pre-Internship	2
Through class discussion, readings, presentations and retreats the student is prepared to structure and begin a DCE Internship.
CHM	369	Outdoor Ministry Practicum	2
The practicum experience takes place in a Lutheran camp for those who have been selected and hired as counselors for the summer camp setting. In addition to the on-site training, support and guidance is provided through a university instructor.
CHM	370	Christian Ministry Field Work I	1
Participants will have opportunity to work in a local congregation under the supervision of a parish professional. A minimum of five hours of service per week, in addition to one seminar hour, is required.
CHM	371	Mission of God in Christian Ministry	3
This course traces the mission of God through the Old and New Testaments. It explores God's intent for his mission people in the past, present, and future; and it discloses that intent in biblical narratives and texts as well as in Lutheran theology and the Lutheran Confessions.
CHM	372	Christian Ministry Field work II	1
Participants will have opportunity to work in a local congregation under the supervision of a parish professional. A minimum of five hours of service in addition to one (seminar) per week is required.
CHM	381	Congregational Outreach	3
Students explore a multi-phase organizational strategy for outreach, analyze a variety of approaches to outreach and, by means of class and field experiences, design a model of congregational outreach suitable to a chosen contextual setting.
CHM	382	Congregational Discipleship	3
Students explore and apply the biblical principles of and methods for welcoming, discipling, and incorporating people into a Christian congregation. Students also develop an understanding of a congregational ministry to people who have withdrawn from Word and Sacrament ministries.
CHM	384	Entrepreneurial Ministries	3
Students explore and analyze biblical principles and entrepreneurial strategies for the formation of ministries that can lead to church starts in various settings and contexts.
CHM	401	Faith Development Across the Lifespan	3
Students study the practice of teaching the faith across the lifespan, paying particular attention to principles of biblical interpretation from a Lutheran perspective. The participant will develop a philosophy of teaching that incorporates an understanding of educational theory and practice, and uses tools and skills needed for appropriate biblical study and teaching within a Lutheran framework.
CHM	411	Leadership II	4
This course provides students with teaching and learning experiences that use leadership, planning, and change processes to help them grow and mature as leaders in congregations and non-profit organizations. Within the context of the Christian Gospel, students will understand the cultural context of transformational leadership, apply learning disciplines to transformational leadership, expand ability to apply micro-leadership skills and learn how to equip and empower others to be leaders, planners and change agents. A major project and presentation are required.
CHM	416	Issues in Christian Education	1
Students collaborate with faculty to explore selected topics and issues within the contemporary Christian education context. Participants develop practical responses and explore organizational and personal change strategies.

CHM	418	Adult Ministry	3
Students explore theories of adult learning, spiritual formation, and effective teaching and adult spiritual direction strategies. Participants utilize a planning process for initiating adult education programs in the congregational setting for faith formation.
CHM	420	Capstone in Christian Ministry	2
Students reflect on and formalize their understanding of Christian ministry in the context of their personal identity in Christ, the broader ministry of the Gospel, and their vision of future ministry and personal growth, in the process incorporating their understanding of faith and learning with vocation.
CHM	433	The Role of the Director of Christian Education	2
The role of the Director of Christian Education as an educational minister is explored and considered. Calling and placement procedures, professional ethics and expectation, the constitution and by-laws of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, role of the DCE in Synod and District, and the role of the DCE in team ministry are examined. The professional portfolio is completed and ready for final interview review by faculty and field professionals as part of the certification process.
CHM	472	Living and Working in God's Mission Field	3
Students apply the biblical mission mandate to the challenges and joys of every believer's life as a missionary in various cultures and contexts and North America and around the world. Students become familiar with issues related to being missionaries, such as culture shock; spiritual, physical, and emotional health; language and culture learning; team ministry; and developing support networks.
CHM	473	Cross-Cultural Outreach	4
Students are introduced to the world of cross-cultural mission work in foreign fields and in the United States. The course provides theories and strategies for effectively proclaiming the Gospel to peoples of different cultures. The course will address cross-cultural insights in foreign, ethnic and social-economic contexts and includes field trips to government-funded and private organizations working in cross-cultural contexts, language learning insights and an African feast.
CHM	480	Foundations for Urban Ministry	3
Students focus on the distinct outreach opportunities and approaches of an urban context and develop a theological perspective that moves them to connect human care and evangelistic ministry in 21st century urban centers.
CHM	481	Christian Response to Religions of the World	2
Students review the core tenets of the major religions of the world and how Christian witnesses develop skills to listen sympathetically, analyze critically, and respond appropriately from a Lutheran theological perspective to people of other major faith systems.
CHM	486	Issues in Christian Outreach	1
Students collaborate with faculty to explore selected topics and issues within the contemporary context of outreach leadership. Participants develop practical responses to personal experiences and explore organizational and personal change strategies.
CHM	488	Independent Study	1
CHM	495	DCO Internship I	6
This internship is a full-time, supervised parish or cross-cultural outreach experience in the ministry of a cooperating congregation, mission organization, or Bible translation agency, extending from two to three semesters.
CHM	496	DCO Internship II	6
This internship is a full-time, supervised parish or cross-cultural outreach experience in the ministry of a cooperating congregation, mission organization, or Bible translation agency, extending from two to three semesters.
CHM	497	Introduction to International Mission Director of Christian Education Internship	6
This experience prepares the individual for an internship in the international mission field. The experience includes mission orientation, language acquisition, basic training in English as a Second Language, local enculturation in the host culture.
CHM	498	DCE Internship I	6
CHM	499	DCE Internship II	6
The internship provides DCE students a full-time supervised involvement in the educational ministries of an approved congregation-based site for a 12-month period, emphasizing active leadership in a variety of professional tasks.
CI	550	History of Ideas in Education	3
A review of the ideas and philosophies, past and present, which influence educational practices.
CI	551	Psychology of Learning and Teaching	3
An advanced overview of the application of psychological principles, theories, and methodologies to issues of learning and teaching.

CI	552	Curriculum Theory	3
An examination of the history of the school curriculum, the fundamentals of curriculum design, and methods of implementation.
CI	553	Instructional Strategies	3
Theory and strategies of designing technology-rich environments to support active learning in schools.
CI	554	Curriculum and Instruction	3
An examination of the history of the school curriculum, the fundamentals of curriculum design, and methods of implementation as well as the theory and practice of the developmentally effective classroom.
CI	555	Instructional Technology	3
Theory and strategies for designing technology-rich environments to support active learning in schools.
CI	556	Supervision and Improvement of Instruction	3
Theory and practice of supervision of educational programs and personnel with a focus on improvement.
CI	560	Curriculum and Instruction in Literacy	3
An examination of the history of the school curriculum, the fundamentals of curriculum design, and methods of implementation for literacy.
CI	561	Foundations of Literacy	3
A survey of the historical and theoretical development of literacy education and expectations for becoming an effective literacy teacher.
CI	562	Literacy Strategies for Grades K-6	3
An investigation of literature and effective literacy strategies for the elementary classroom.
CI	563	Literacy Strategies for Grades 7-12	3
A review of adolescent literature and effective literacy strategies for learners in grades 7-12.
CI	564	Assessment , Evaluation and Supervision in Literacy Programs	3
Administration and analysis of individual and group assessments and strategies for supervising literacy programs and communicating student progress.
CIT	500	Foundations and Trends in Educational Technology	3
A survey of the historical and theoretical development of educational technology and an examination of future trends in K-12 education.
CIT	505	Designing and Implementing Educational Technology	3
An examination of how to best enhance student achievement through effective incorporation of various software and hardware.
CIT	510	Utilization of Social Media in the Classroom	3
The study of various social media modes to engage the learner and enhance instruction
CIT	515	Professional Development and Leadership in Educational Technology	3
A focus on leadership and professional development in planning and integrating educational technology.
CJU	402	Returning Student Seminar for Criminal Justice	4
This course will provide each student with an opportunity to reflect on their decision to return to college. Emphasis will be on preparations for their return to college and their development of a learning plan. Students will focus on time management, organizational skills, and practical writing for criminal justice practitioners. Extensive time will be devoted to writing fundamentals, such as mechanics, sentence structure, academic and professional prose and APA style.
CJU	404	Practical Writing for Criminal Justice Practitioners	3
This writing course, designed for criminal justice practitioners, will explore various writing fundamentals, such as mechanics, sentence structure, academic and professional prose, and APA style.
CJU	411	Community Oriented Criminal Justice	4
This course examines the role expectations of criminal justice and the communities it serves. Research and trends in community and problem-oriented criminal justice will be discussed, and a variety of programs examined. Learners in this course will provide insight from their experience throughout the country and explore how these community-oriented initiatives can be applied throughout the criminal justice system.
CJU	412	Criminal Justice and the Media	2
This course explores the relationships between criminal justice and the media depicted in various ways including news and entertainment. Roles, responsibilities, and legal issues will be explored.

CJU	415	Biblical Christianity for Criminal Justice	4
Students study selected Old and New Testament texts and explore the historical Biblical perspective of Christianity in the context of grace and the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Students learn how religious issues have been addressed and incorporated in different eras of history. Students learn how Christianity has shaped elements of culture and organizational life, how Biblical principles can shape individuals for strong leadership roles, and how to better understand Christians in the workplace within a Judeo-Christian culture
CJU	422	Information Literacy in Criminal Justice	4
Information today grows exponentially. This course teaches students to identify information needs in their profession, know and access criminal justice data bases, discern legitimate information, manage the data, and present information in an articulate, professional manner. Students will effectively integrate sources in academic writings using APA style.
CJU	431	Inside the Criminal Mind	4
This course explores theories and research of criminal behavior. Students will examine how past and present understanding of criminals has determined responses of society and the criminal justice system.
CJU	435	Philosophy of Values and Ethics	4
Students examine the issues of accountability in government and business regarding human rights and ethics through readings, discussion and debates. Exploring both ethical theory and personal values, students develop a system for making ethical decisions in their personal and professional lives. This course also explores the emotional and physical risks associated with their work and helps develop strategies that will nurture maintaining physical and emotional health.
CJU	437	Systems Thinking in Criminal Justice	4
Given the dynamic complexity of organizations, it is vital that professionals have an understanding of how organizations and systems interact. This course provides the skills to diagnose interactions and engage in finding solutions to problems. "Systems thinking" serves as one of the threads of continuity running throughout this degree program.
CJU	451	Diversity in Criminal Justice	4
While multiculturalism is a popular term in today's society, diversity issues play a particularly important role in criminal justice. This course provides an understanding of diversity from theoretical, organizational, and personal perspectives to impact the effectiveness of those employed in criminal justice and mitigate the risk of legal liability and public perception issues that negatively impact this profession.
CJU	452	Constitutional Law	4
This course will develop the understanding and working knowledge of constitutional law that professionals in this field are expected to have. Students will review constitutional history and basic concepts to understand interpretations of the Constitution by the United States Supreme Court impacting criminal justice, and learn practical research strategies to find law.
CJU	453	Troubled Youth in the Criminal Justice Corrections System	4
This course explores why and how governments have always treated children differently than adults. Theories of delinquency and the corresponding responses by society through the criminal justice system are addressed, as are current data, trends and programs. Students will also explore the challenges facing juvenile corrections in a society that continues to change in demographics, norms, and expectations of criminal justice.
CJU	454	Criminal Justice Wellness	2
While part of the job, the unique nature of what people employed in criminal justice are subjected to impacts professional and personal lives. In this course students explore the emotional and physical risks associated with their work, and develop strategies that will assist in maintaining physical and emotional health.
CJU	455	Contemporary Issues in Criminal Justice	4
Current criminal justice related events occurring nationally and locally will provide the scenarios for students to apply the knowledge acquired during this degree program in a thoughtful and scholarly manner. Students will draw upon their understanding of systems thinking, constitutional law, religion, modern trends, ethics, and individual and community behavior.
CJU	466	Contemporary Issues in Corrections for Criminal Justice	4
Students will discuss the challenges facing corrections in a society that continues to change in demographics, norms, and expectations of criminal justice. Institutional and community-based programs will be addressed and their relationship to other areas of the criminal justice system explored.
CJU	490	Criminal Justice Portfolio	4
This final course is designed to help learners reflect on all they have done during this degree program. Students will synthesize all they have learned. Preparation of a professional and educational portfolio or e-portfolio will cap the learning experience. Students will participate in group activities to provide closure to the program.
CJU	500	Administration of Criminal Justice	4
This course is a scholarly consideration of the concepts, principles, and analytical tools for effectively administering criminal justice agencies. Students will examine the critical application of strategic management skills in operational environments that are ever-changing, under intensive scrutiny by the public and media, and limited by legal, financial, and political constraints.

CJU	502	Correctional Design	4
The philosophies, roles, and designs of juvenile corrections continue to evolve. This course expands upon the basics of institutional and community corrections by exploring modern research and trends in modern corrections. Students will address leadership, legal, political, and financial issues impacting the effectiveness of corrections in a society with increasing demands and expectations of the criminal justice system.
CJU	505	Reflective Adult Learner and Leadership	4
The premise of this course is leaders must have an understanding of who they are and why they are here. Students will devote considerable time to self-examination and reflection to gain greater awareness and understanding of who they are, and how their life and professional experiences influence their paradigms and leadership qualities. There is an emphasis on attitude and emotional intelligence and how they influence leadership effectiveness and results.
CJU	512	Criminal Justice and Media Relations Politics	3
This course examines the relationships, roles, and responsibilities of criminal justice politics and the media. Included is a critical review of the tension that exists between the two, and how effective relationships can be fostered. Students will also learn to write press releases, organize and facilitate press conferences, and effectively utilize media resources.
CJU	520	Research Methods in Criminal Justice	4
This course will provide an understanding of the dynamics of problem-solving with special attention to research methodologies which result in finding creative and productive solutions.
CJU	540	Organizational Behavior in Criminal Justice	2
As one of the threads of continuity throughout this degree program, "systems thinking" provides a means to better understand and work more effectively with individuals and organizations. This course provides advanced perspectives of how to identify interactions and best select a means of responding from the position of manager and leader.
CJU	543	Contemporary Issues in Criminal Justice Leadership	4
This course examines stress from a leadership perspective by asking why and how employers should respond to mental health issues. Theory, research, and trends in employee assistance are discussed as students consider how employers can help prevent, mitigate, and respond to emotional issues impacting personnel on the job.
CJU	545	Legal and Legislative Issues	4
Those in leadership positions find themselves with a greater duty to recognize and respond to legal issues. This course examines how law defines policy in areas impacting the business of criminal justice, including due process, civil rights, equal protection, employment law, civil liability, and criminal procedure. In addition to identifying emerging law, this class addresses the political science of public policy at jurisdictional levels, including the United States Supreme Court.
CJU	551	Strategic Leadership	4
Effective leaders understand and leverage their leadership strengths to positively influence people and, in turn, an organization's success. This course will focus on learning your personal leadership style, how to positively impact others, and how to continue to grow and develop as a leader to bring out the best in yourself and others. Acknowledging the frequent challenge to ¿run government like business,¿ students will learn the strategies of successful private sector and government leaders.
CJU	570	Applied Ethics in Criminal Justice Leadership	4
Students will be introduced to models of ethical decision making, including the vocational ethics of Christianity. The emphasis is on the interplay between historical methods of ethical decision making and the problems professionals face every day. This course will also examine relationships and responsibilities of criminal justice politics and the media, a critical review of tensions that exist and how effective relationships can be fostered.
CJU	584	Accessing Criminal Justice Resources	4
This course familiarizes students with online academic and professional criminal justice leadership periodical indexes. Students will employ secondary research techniques in a criminal justice topic area of their choice. Students will evaluate and ethically report the body of research and informational landscape related to the topic in APA style. Students will learn to integrate knowledge navigation into academic, professional, and personal application. Students will also reflect on program objectives and personal learning and identify a direct link between the new knowledge they have acquired and their career field. Students will also begin steps to set up their final project (eFolio) due at the end of the master's program.
CJU	585	Synthesizing Seminar I	1
The culminating project of the master's program is the capstone, a research project designed to help learners generate new information for their field. Explanation of the capstone process will take place, along with a dialog regarding possible capstone topics.
CJU	586	Synthesizing Seminar II	1
This course continues the process of selecting and implementing the capstone project. Issues of epistemology and social change are discussed and explored.
CJU	596	Criminal Justice Capstone	4
The Capstone course is the concluding event of the program. This course assists students in synthesizing previous coursework and research leading to greater self-reflection, application to their career field, and an assessment of their learning throughout the duration of the program. The student will present and discuss the final M.A. Capstone E-folio.

CLQ	699	Communication in Leadership	4
This course familiarizes students with the four principles of interpersonal communication – communication is inescapable, irreversible, complicated, and contextual. Communication is the cornerstone to understanding and far too often leaders in the 21st Century lack proper understanding of empowering and inspirational dialogue with coworkers. Students will gain knowledge how to hone their skills and develop into leaders that employees will follow and trust.
CLQ	200	Introduction to Commissioned Ministry	1
Through class discussion, readings, presentations and involvement with field-based commissioned ministry, students will explore and consider the function of a Commissioned Minister in multiple settings. The program portfolio is developed and made ready for program exit interviews. Emphasis is placed on the development of a philosophy of ministry, personal mission statement, and professional ethics review.
CLQ	330	Theory and Practice. in Christian Education	2
Students explore and analyze faith development theory, cultural and generational influences, curricular evaluation models, and strategies for the application of Law and Gospel within Christian education. Students apply this theory on effective methods of teaching the Christian faith from the Lutheran perspective at the elementary and secondary levels.
CLQ	476	DCO Colloquy Internship I	3
DCO Colloquy Internship Applied Experience
CLQ	477	DCO Colloquy Internship II	3
DCO Colloquy Internship Applied Experience.
CLQ	478	Colloquy Internship I	3
The Colloquy DCE Internship provides the colloquy DCE student a supervised experience at a local ministry site. The colloquy student receives consultation and assessment for self-directed growth. Students may enroll in this class up to three times to help fulfill internship requirements.
CLQ	479	Colloquy: Internship II	3
The course is a continuation of CLQ 578 Colloquy Internship I. The DCE colloquy student receives continued consultation and assessment for self-directed growth. Students may enroll in this class up to three times to help fulfill internship requirements.
CLQ	512	Colloquy: Gifts-Based Volunteer Ministry	3
Students will explore the theology of volunteer ministry; understand the connection of vocation and gifts-based volunteer ministry; explore best practices in volunteer management, including gift assessment, database creation and maintenance, job descriptions, recruitment, screening, training, supervision, evaluation, affirmation, and thanking volunteers; and apply learning to the design of a volunteer ministry program for a specific ministry site.
CLQ	513	Colloquy: Ministry Teams/Parish	3
This course explores a team approach to ministry with particular emphasis on collaborative leadership models that utilize an individual's gifts and have a strong link to the mission of the organization. Small group dynamics, life cycles of a group, roles, covenanting and personality styles will be explored in looking at how ministry teams are used in the Parish.
CLQ	515	Colloquy: Teaching the Faith Across the Lifespan	3
This course will provide a study of Catechesis throughout the ages with particular attention to principles of Biblical interpretation from a Lutheran perspective. The participant will work toward a definition of Lutheran Catechesis that will incorporate an understanding of educational theory and practice, utilize tools and skills needed for appropriate Biblical study and teaching within a Lutheran framework while displaying an understanding of the relationship between Christian education and the worship and devotional life of the Church.
CLQ	519	Colloquy: Teaching Strategies for Adults	3

COM	101	Intercultural Communication Experiential Workshop	2
COM	102	Exploring Communication Styles	2
COM	103	Communication Fundamentals: Interpersonal	4
Students examine their methods of interpersonal communication in various contexts including dyadic, small group, and mediated communication. Individual activities and group work include both oral and written components. Class discussions and small group activities provide opportunities to practice and refine interpersonal communication skills. Objective exams and quizzes focus on cognitive learning of the principles and concepts in the various communication contexts. (COM103 is one of the two choices for the communication general education requirement for all students. It is also a requirement for all communication majors.)
COM	104	Communicating Organizational Change	2
COM	105	Listening as a Communication Tool	2
COM	106	Proactive Management	2
COM	107	Managerial Communication	2
COM	108	Sales Presentation Skills	2
This course focuses on presentation skills to achieve specific objectives including getting the sale, sharing important information, gaining approval and taking action. Skills include audience analysis, presentation format, tools, and techniques. In-class feedback allows for real-time evaluation of skills.
COM	200	Collaborative Team Skills	2
COM	205	Group Communication and Facilitation	3
Students study and practice communication in small task groups, including leadership and facilitation of groups and group dynamics. A group project examining small groups is required from task groups. Course units include goal setting, cohesion and norms, power, leadership, decision-making and problem solving, conflict and facilitating task and interpersonal relations in groups. (Prerequisite: COM 103 or COM 212)
COM	208	Presentations Skills with Power Point	2
COM	210	Exploring Communication Styles Across Cultures	2
This course explores communication style differences and examines models of understanding and strategies for dealing with those differences in greater depth. Cultural communication styles such as direct/indirect, elaborate/succinct, high context/low context, speaker-centered vs. listener-centered, and personal/contextual will be explained, analyzed, applied, and evaluated.
COM	212	Public Speaking and Performance	4
Students prepare and deliver various types of public performances including speeches and oral interpretation. The evaluation and criticism of speeches is studied. Videotape helps students adjust to their performance style and improve presentation delivery. Course units include speech construction, presentation and delivery, audience and text analysis, informative, persuasive and special occasion speeches as well as visual aid construction. (COM 212 is one of the two choices for the communication general education requirement for all students. It is also a requirement for all communication majors.)
COM	221	Laptop Video Practicum	1
This course is for the student who wants to learn the most basic video production skills using their laptop webcam and free editing software. Students will produce several short group projects. Video production projects develop the skills of video recording, editing, and titling. This class meets with students enrolled in COM222.
COM	222	Mass Communication	4
Students study and learn to critically appraise various media by exploring the weaknesses and strengths of each. The content of the course includes newspapers, magazines, books, radio and recordings, television and the new electronics, films, advertising and public relations. Media law and regulation, media ethics, and social responsibility will also be studied. Video production projects develop the skills of video recording, editing, switching, and titling. (Prerequisite: COM 103 or COM 212)
COM	223	Broadcast Production	3
Students are familiarized with equipment within the television studio and field production truck. Through hands-on training and simulations students gain a full understanding of how the various components of the control room work together to produce studio and remote productions. Students will crew studio shows and several athletic webcasts as part of the hands-on training. Athletic webcasts require some evening and weekend commitments. Each student will draft a plan for a studio or remote show and produce a 25 minute stand-alone production.
COM	224	Introduction to Video Production	3
This course will introduce students to the fundamentals of video production. They will learn the basic uses of production equipment, both recording and editing, and will apply that knowledge to their own hands-on projects. Production theory will be studied both as it applies to their own projects and to classic and contemporary media examples.

COM	225	Relationship Communication	2
COM	228	Public Speaking: Overcoming Fear	2
COM	230	The Role of Psychology	2
COM	309	Intercultural Communication	4
Students explore the principles and processes of communication between cultures. Course topics include intercultural communication models, the impact of different cultural patterns on the communication process, the anthropological concept world view and its impact on intercultural communication, detection of communication problems in intercultural situations, gender and diversity issues in intercultural communication, and constructing valid strategies for communicating inter-culturally. (Prerequisite: COM 103 or COM 212)
COM	322	History of Film and Television	3
Students study film and television as it has developed throughout the 19th, 20th, and 21st centuries. Screenings of classic films and television are complimented by class analysis and discussion of how the moving image has changed over time. This is not a production course, as students will focus instead on understanding film theory and aesthetics.
COM	323	TV Producer Practicum	3
Students in this course are responsible for producing original programming for the campus cable channel. Responsibilities include overseeing all production aspects of a show as well as assigning roles to and managing other students during shoots. Students are encouraged to develop projects of personal interest. May be repeated for up to 6 credits.
COM	324	Intermediate Video Post-Production	3
This course is designed to give students intermediate to advanced experience in Adobe Premiere Pro as well as a basic experience in Adobe After Effects and Adobe Encore DVD. Students are responsible for shooting and editing several projects over the course of the semester.
COM	327	Television News Gathering	3
This course is designed to give students both theory and hands-on experience in television news gathering. Students will learn the theories and means of putting a news program together and put that experience to use by taping and airing a news program for the campus cable channel on a weekly basis.
COM	363	Interviewing for the Professional	2
Students study and practice conducting interviews in professional activities such as: diagnostic interviews (as related to sexual harassment), discipline and termination interviews, performance appraisals, and focus groups. The interviewing skills used to develop those activities include preparing and developing a guide, questioning, probing, listening, recording, and concluding the interview. (Prerequisite: COM 103 or COM 212)
COM	364	The Job Interview	2
Students study and practice interviewing skills as interviewee and interviewer in the job selection process. Interviewee skills will focus on résumé writing and building, informational interviewing, interview preparation, verbal and nonverbal responses to questions, and assessing ones fit in an organizational culture. Interviewer skills will focus on creating a job interview guide, legal and illegal questions, nonverbal variables, and professionalism. (Prerequisite: COM 103 or COM 212)
COM	403	Family Communication	3
Students examine communication patterns in functional families and interpersonal relationships. Reading and discussion are combined with experiential activities. Course units include diverse family systems, communication patterns, family roles, power, decision-making, conflict, stress and coping, ecology, and improving family communication. (Prerequisite: COM 103 or COM 212 or consent of instructor)
COM	404	Conflict Management	3
This course offers a broad overview of the study of conflict from a communication perspective. It introduces students to current theoretical and applied issues in the study of conflict management using social science theories to help explain the process of interacting with others. Specifically, the course examines the nature, causes, and techniques for managing conflict across a wide variety of situations including societal clashes, psychological turmoil, group decision-making, intimate relationships, and organizational interaction. While each of these situations differs in important ways, there are commonalities in how conflict functions across them. We will look at those commonalities to understand the role of communication in conflict. The assignments and class activities focus upon the theories, models, principles, and concepts of conflict and their application to a variety of relationships. (Prerequisite: COM 103 or COM 212).
COM	409	Intercultural Communication Seminar	2
Students study and explore special topics in intercultural communication in this advanced seminar course. Students apply intercultural communication concepts, theories, and models to various contexts, including educational, political, social, and religious institutions. The seminar format allows students opportunities to discuss ideas in depth and to cater projects and papers to individual areas of special interest. (Prerequisite: COM 309 or consent of instructor)
COM	423	Advanced Television Production Practicum	3
Students in this course are responsible for producing original programming for the campus cable channel. Responsibilities include overseeing all production aspects of a show as well as assigning roles to and managing other students during shoots. Students are encouraged to develop projects of personal interest. May be repeated for up to 6 credits.

COM	442	Communication Theory and Analysis: Interpersonal (Capstone 1)	3
Students study and apply human communication theories to the study of interpersonal relationships including small groups, gender studies, work relationships, friendships and marital relationships. Perspectives on and methods of critical inquiry and research are an integral part of the course content. Research projects are presented to the rest of the class as well as submitted to professional organizations for review. (Prerequisites: COM 103, COM 212, COM 205, COM 222, COM 309) COM 442 and COM 443 are intended to be a yearlong capstone sequence.
COM	443	Communication Theory and Analysis: Persuasion (Capstone 2)	3
Students study and apply rhetorical communication theories to the study of communication events including speeches, speakers, movements, posters, films, campaigns, television programs, advertising, and other forms of public communication. Students examine the ways in which beliefs, values, attitudes, and behavior are deliberately affected through communication. Both qualitative and quantitative research in persuasion is studied. The major project is an application of theory and research. Research projects are presented to the rest of the class as well as submitted to professional organizations for review. (Prerequisites: COM 103, COM 212, COM 443) COM 442 and COM 443 are intended to be a yearlong capstone sequence.
COM	444	Communication Research Methods	3
Basic quantitative approaches and methods are applied to communication studies. The course includes research question construction, survey research, SPSS, and quantitative comparisons.
COM	445	Communication Ethics	2
This course will engage students in dialogue regarding communication ethics and inherent ethical dilemmas. Students will gain awareness about their own ethical philosophy and their ethical decision making processes. A connection will be made between communication theory, communication philosophies, current events, and personal experiences. It should prove to be an interesting, thought-provoking course. (Prerequisite: COM 103 or COM 212)
COM	470	Health Communication	3
This course provides an overview of the field of Health Communication through the development of an online healthy lifestyles intervention for college students. Students will create portfolio-quality materials while also exploring the relationship between online social communities and health behavior, communication between patients and caregivers, social and cultural health issues, the media's influence on health, and explore career opportunities in health communication.
COM	478	Organizational Communication	3
Students examine theories of communication systems, processes and assumptions in organization structures. Topics include roles, relationships and responsibilities of individuals within organizations as well as skills in and applications of organizational communication. Interviewing skills in the various demands of organizations will be examined and practiced. Values and ethical communication behaviors are explored through a variety of activities including cases, self-assessments and field studies. (Prerequisites: COM 103 or COM 212, and COM 205)
COM	488	Independent Study	1
Independent study offers the opportunity to pursue advanced study in communication. Independent study is open only to students with substantial preparatory course work in communication. It is not intended to be taken in the place of a regularly offered course. (Prerequisite: permission of communication faculty)
COM	498	Internship	1
Students participate in a variety of internship programs in such experiences as editing, publishing, broadcasting, television, human resources, and public relations under the supervision of Communication faculty. Internships are tailored to the needs, interests, and career aspirations of the student. Portfolios, learning logs, and meetings with the internship faculty supervisor are required for all internships. (Prerequisites: COM 103, COM 205, COM 212, COM 222, COM 325, ENG 120 and permission of communication faculty advisor)
COM	500	Strategic Communication Management	3

Emphasis is placed on an understanding of the history and current trends for kindergarten. The focus of the course includes the development of appropriate learning environments, activities, interactions, and strategies for intentional teaching in all curricula areas. This course, like all early childhood courses, includes the themes of developmentally and culturally appropriate practices, play, behavior guidance, and partnerships with parents.
ECE	324	Language Development and Emergent Literacy	3
This course is designed to prepare educators and allied professionals to guide young children through the process of language acquisition and emergent literacy. The research and stages of language development from birth through age seven are extensively explored. Literacy strategies are explained, modeled, and experienced. The process of acquiring English as a second language and supportive strategies from adults and peers is also explored. This course, like all early childhood courses, includes the themes of developmentally and culturally appropriate practices, play, behavior guidance and partnerships with parents. Twenty-five hours working with young children is required. (Prerequisite: PSY 210)

ECE	325	Education of Infants and Toddlers	4
This course includes the study of the emerging skills and developmental characteristics of infants and toddlers (birth to age three) and how to create an educational environment to promote their physical, cognitive, and social-emotional development. This course is designed to provide the skills for working with young children in a variety of settings. Course topics include the impact of the early years, behavior and guidance, health and safety issues, program and teacher licensure, and work with parents. This course, like all early childhood courses, includes the themes of developmentally and culturally appropriate practices, play, behavior guidance and partnerships with parents. (Prerequisite: PSY 210)
ECE	326	Building Primary Classrooms	3
Emphasis is placed on an understanding of the history, goals, and current trends in the education of primary children. The focus of the course includes the development of a creative primary learning environment and strategies in achieving the standards set by the State of Minnesota.
ECE	425	Young Children with Special Needs	2
This course is designed to introduce students to the laws and techniques needed to develop curricula and instruction to meet the unique needs of individual children in the early childhood setting. Emphasis is given to the integration of theories, research, practical application, and promotion of collaboration between early childhood professionals, special educators, and parents. Particular attention is given to authentic assessment which informs instruction, program planning, and individualization of activities. Also included is the presentation and discussion of the theory of behavior guidance in an inclusive early childhood classroom. May be taken in lieu of ED 439. If so, 25+ human relations hours working with students with disabilities are required. This course, like all early childhood courses, includes the themes of developmentally and culturally appropriate practices, play, behavior guidance and partnerships with parents. (Prerequisite: PSY 210)
ECE	426	Organization and Administration of Early Childhood Education	1
This course, which is normally completed during the student teaching semester, deals with the following administrative topics: responsibilities of the early childhood director, supervision and evaluation of staff, staff development, budgeting and finances, health maintenance and safety, parent involvement, and public relations. (Prerequisite: PSY 210)
ECE	427	Authentic Assessment and Guidance in ECE	2
Students will examine the various methods of child study, observation, portfolio development, and other authentic assessment strategies as a way to assess children's growth and the development of knowledge and skills. Classroom management strategies will be explored including the effect of classroom practices and learning environments on children's behavior.
ECE	520	Effective Research Writing	3
This course will emphasize the difference between academic writing for a master's program and writing for personal use. APA Formatting will be emphasized, strategies for developing a literature review, and writing for academic use will be included.
ECE	521	Topics and Research in Early Education	3
This course will explore the current research in early education focusing on the theme of evidence based practices by integrating theory with the activities of teacher researchers. Current empirical studies will be used to apply and understand research methods.
ECE	522	Play: Theoretical Foundations and Applications	3
This course is a study of the various theoretical foundations of play and their application to young children's development and learning. Students examine the role of the teacher in children's play, analyze play environments, and review the issues and research affecting children and curricula.
ECE	523	Topics in Early Childhood Education	2
This course is a study of current issues in early childhood education in an historical context, emphasizing their relevance to and impact on today's programs for children ages eight and under.
ECE	526	Curriculum and Instruction in Early Childhood Education	3
Along with the presentation of curriculum and instruction theory, this course will explore the development and implementation of early childhood curriculum and instruction. The link between assessment and program evaluation will be made.
ECE	527	Observation and Assessment in Early Childhood Education	3
The various methods of child study, observation, portfolio development, and other assessment strategies are studied as a way to assess children's growth and the development of knowledge and skills. In addition, current classroom practices and learning environments are explored to identify changes that benefit children, their families, and communication between program and home.
ECE	541	The Diverse Classroom	3
This course presents studies of education in multicultural settings. Students explore the values, beliefs, customs, and perceptions of racial and ethnic groups which affect social life and the education of children. Concepts of culture, social class, and power are developed.
ECE	544	Language Development and Emergent Literacy	3
Current research is studied in regard to emergent literacy and language development in children with implications for the classroom teacher. Whole language strategies are explored for children from birth through age seven.
ECE	576	Methods in Early Childhood Programming	3
This course is an in-depth look at current literature that supports leadership in early childhood education and then extends learning to the complexities of quality programming in early childhood education.

ECE	577	eFolio and Completion	3
ECE	650	Intentional Teaching in Early Childhood Education	2
Along with the presentation of curriculum and instruction theory, this course will explore the development and implementation of early childhood curriculum and instruction in a child focused way that emphasized a lived curriculum. The link between authentic assessment and program evaluation will be made.
ECO	101	America in the Global Economy: Macroeconomics	4
This course will illustrate the dynamic integration of America within the global economy by focusing on macroeconomics policy areas such as trade, exchange rate policy and domestic economic policy. The course will also introduce students to alternative theoretical frameworks such as classical, Keynesian, monetarism, rational expectations, Marxist, and institutionalist perspectives. The course will explore problems facing the less industrialized countries and the newly emerging countries and the United States; role in their development.
ECO	102	America in the Global Economy: Microeconomics	4
This course will illustrate the dynamic integration of America within the global economy by focusing on the microeconomics issues such as the role of multinational corporations, antitrust policy, and strategic trade policy. The course will first introduce students to basic microeconomics theory such as market structure (perfect competition, monopoly, monopolistic competition, and oligopoly), factor markets, the role of government in the global economy, welfare reform, environmental policy and trade, and exchange rate policy. The course will then illustrate the global dimensions of domestic microeconomics policy. (Prerequisite: ECO 101)
ECO	201	Econometrics	4
This course will introduce students to basic econometrics, such as regression analysis and problems in regression analysis such as multicollinearity, heteroscedasticity, and autocorrelation. (Prerequisites: ECO 102, MAT 110)
ECO	401	Global Economics	4
This course will introduce students to the theories explaining trade and financial (exchange rates, foreign direct investment) markets in the economy. The course will also focus on policy issues in the trade and financial sectors such as the effectiveness of domestic trade and monetary policy, coordination of international exchange rates and the role of institutions such as the Federal Reserve System and the World Trade Organization in the present global economy. The course will also introduce students to national and local ethnic markets.
ECO	498	Internship:
ED	190	Teacher Corps	0
ED	200	Introduction to Teaching	1
An introduction to Concordia's teacher education program including its rationale and procedures for admission, retention and completion of the program. Students are introduced to the teaching profession and explore their own currently held understandings, beliefs and dispositions about teaching. 25 Human Relation hours are required.
ED	201	Foundations of and Introduction to Education	3
Concordia's teacher education program and its conceptual framework are introduced to students in this course. This course introduces students to the philosophical, historical, sociological, and legal foundations upon which current educational theory and practice is constructed. During the duration of the course students need to register for required MTLE Basic Skills Test (additional fee). A 15-hour field experience that satisfies a portion of the university's human relations requirement is included. Admission to Program is an outcome including development of eFolio and admittance to program interview.
ED	290	Language and Society	4
This course examines the diverse nature of human language and the social factors that influence it such as culture, age, gender, social class, setting, topic, and identity. In its study of languages, dialects, codes, and society, the course attempts to foster multicultural understanding and to diminish American ethnocentrism.
ED	330	Human Diversity and Relations	2
This course helps students experience, understand and become sensitive to human diversity and presents strategies for teaching human relations skills in the classroom setting. A 15-hour field experience that satisfies a portion of the university's human relations requirement is included.
ED	336	Educational Psychology	3
This course applies the basic principles of human development and behavior to the classroom situation. Emphasis is given to the teacher education conceptual framework, theoretical backgrounds in learning, and their application to the classroom. Topics include the characteristics of children, student variability, educational planning and instructional objectives, classroom management and assessment. A 15 hour field experience that satisfies a portion of the university's human relations requirement is included.
ED	342	Teaching Literacy	4
The important connection between all the literacy skills reading, writing, listening, thinking and speaking is addressed. An understanding of a balanced reading approach is emphasized. The approach includes methods of embedding a wide variety of children's literature in the classroom through literature circles, thematic units, reading and writing conferences, reading and writing workshops, process writing and authentic assessment. Teaching strategies for building comprehension, word recognition and word analysis skills are presented as well as appropriate developmental and instructional orientation to spelling, grammar and punctuation.(Prerequisite: admission to Teacher Education Program). Enrollment is concurrent with ED 371 Teaching Practicum.

ED	345	The Effective Elementary Teacher	2
Instructional methods and materials that have wide application to the elementary grade levels are examined. Particular emphasis is given to such topics as the decision-making inherent in teaching (CSP model), effective instruction (planning, critical presentation skills, student interest, motivation, and involvement, etc.) and effective classroom management. (Prerequisite: admission to Teacher Education Program). Enrollment is concurrent with ED 371 Teaching Practicum.
ED	346	The Effective Middle School Teacher	2
The historical, sociological, psychological and philosophical aspects of the middle school are studied. Discussion and activities focus on the purposes, functions and implications of the curriculum and the learner. Students explore middle school teaching practice and student learning in the classroom and current middle school organization and practice. (Prerequisite: admission to Teacher Education Program)
ED	347	The Effective Secondary Teacher	2
This course provides a study of the purposes, history, philosophy, organization, operation, students, curriculum, teaching practices, and current problems of secondary schools in the United States. Emphasis is on the knowledge and skills necessary to teach effectively in a secondary school. (Prerequisite: admission to Teacher Education Program)
ED	348	Second Language Acquisition	4
This course examines both the cognitive aspects of second language acquisitions, and the social and cultural ones. The acquisition of the second language and the first language are compared and contrasted. The acquisition of language in a multilingual environment is explored.
ED	351	Teaching of 9-12 Mathematics	2
This course emphasizes the application of educational theory and psychology in the secondary mathematics classroom. Students learn to develop their own teaching styles within constraints of good planning, proper classroom management and appropriate assessment techniques. A variety of teaching strategies are discussed. Prerequisite: Admission to Teacher Education Program. (Prerequisite to Secondary Student Teaching)
ED	352	Teaching 9-12 Social Studies	2
This course provides students with an understanding of how the cognitive and affective dimensions of social studies are combined with learning theory and practice for effective teaching at the secondary level. The professional role of the social studies teacher in and out of the classroom is addressed. Prerequisite: admission to Teacher Education Program. (Prerequisite to Secondary Student Teaching)
ED	353	Teaching 9-12 Science	2
This course emphasizes instructional methods specific to the teaching of science in secondary schools. Topics covered include goals and objectives, individualized instruction, lesson planning, inquiry, lab use and safety, evaluation and testing, science and societal issues, field trips and fieldwork, science fairs, computers and professional organizations. Prerequisite: admission to Teacher Education Program. (Prerequisite to Secondary Student Teaching)
ED	355	Teaching of 9-12 Communication Arts / Literature	2
This course provides students with an understanding of basic theory and practice in teaching literature, speech, communication, and composition in grades 9-12. It includes instruction in unit planning and implementation, the use of media resources, testing and evaluation, individualizing instruction, and curriculum evaluation and planning. It also introduces some study of the history of and present trends in the teaching of literature and communication. Prerequisite: admission to Teacher Education Program. (Prerequisite to Secondary Student Teaching)
ED	356	Teaching Elementary Science/Environmental Education	3
In a laboratory setting, students actively explore science concepts and skills. They become familiar with materials and methodology especially well suited to the teaching of elementary school science and assessment of the associated learning, as well as recognize the central role of science in the development of enthusiastic learning and innovative, integrative and critical thought. (Prerequisite: admission to Teacher Education Program) Enrollment is concurrent with ED 371 Teaching Practicum.
ED	357	Teaching Elementary Social Studies	2
This course reviews the content, methods, materials and research related to the teaching of elementary social studies (K-6th Grade). Attention is given to the content of the social studies curriculum and its basis within the social sciences, global education, experiential learning, concept development, inquiry methods, moral development, assessment, Minnesota standards, and critical thinking. (Prerequisite: admission to Teacher Education Program) Enrollment is concurrent with ED 371 Teaching Practicum.
ED	360	Content and Methods for K-6 Mathematics	3
This course provides opportunity for students to learn and apply the content, conceptual framework, and theories of teaching and learning of the elementary school mathematics curriculum. (Prerequisite: Admission to Teacher Education program.)
ED	363	ECE Practicum	4
ED	371-01	Teaching Practicum (Birth-3)	4
This course provides an early field experience for students prior to student teaching. Students are assigned to work with a cooperating teacher at a grade level appropriate to their license. The course is taken concurrently with methods courses to relate theory to practice. Students are usually placed in diverse, urban classrooms. (Prerequisite: admission to Teacher Education Program)
ED	372	General Education Practicum for Special Educators	2

ED	375	Teaching Practicum: Kindergarten Endorsement Methods Field Experience	1
This course provides a field experience for students taking the Kindergarten Endorsement Methods course. Students are assigned to work with a cooperating teacher at the Kindergarten level and often in diverse, urban classrooms. The course is typically taken upon completion of Kindergarten Endorsement Methods to relate theory to practice. This course will be effective until June 30, 2012.
ED	380	Education of Exceptional Children	3
This course is designed to explore the various areas of exceptionality among children of school age. Awareness of the scope and nature of the exceptionality, essential educational procedures and available rehabilitative and legal resources will be studied. The course will include a series of pre-practicum experiences documenting a variety of grade levels. SPED 580: Graduate students will be required to complete additional reading and research and to prepare a class presentation.
ED	382	Teaching Students with Linguistic Differences and Difficulties	3
This course builds on ED342 Teaching Literacy. In this course students will learn how to facilitate the development of the reading skills in two languages and the transference of the skill developed in one language to a second one. Particular attention will be paid to the specific problems of non-native English speakers learning to read English. SPED 582 Graduate students will be required to complete additional reading and research.
ED	385	Foundations of Education	3
This course introduces students to the philosophical, historical, sociological and legal foundations upon which current educational theory and practice is constructed. Students will demonstrate a clear understanding of: the role of schools as organizations within the larger community, including the historic figures and events that contributed to these understandings; the legal rights and responsibilities of students, teachers and schools within the society; importance of ethics and collaboration as part of educational practice; the diversity of philosophical approach to learning and instruction; and the variety of student needs that schools must address in public and Lutheran schools in the United States. (Prerequisite: upper level standing)
ED	386	Principles of Bilingual Education	4
This course provides a basic understanding of the history and development of the bilingual education in the United States. Students will learn about the different bilingual education program models and their implications for implementation.
ED	389	ESOL Methods: Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages	4
In this course students will become more aware of the nature of language, particularly of English and of how language is acquired/taught. The focus will be on the components of language teaching, as well as methodology and evaluation. Specific goals include students increasing their awareness of the grammar of English and learning to use reference grammars to answer questions; students understanding different approaches and methods to language teaching and incorporating them into a syllabus and/or lesson plans; students learning current basic theories of how language is acquired; students selecting and using materials and ready to teach language; and, students assessing English language proficiency and evaluating language performance.
ED	390	S.E.A.T. Seminar	1
This course provides opportunities for the student in the S.E.A.T. program to explore different topics of interest to educators. It is designed to help participants to move from the roles of para-educator to professional teacher.
ED	418	Adult Education and Development	4
An overview of adult learning theory and development, psychological perspectives of the adult learner, educational implications of the adult system, teaching strategies and program development will be explored. Appropriate roles of leaders in adult education and methods used with adults are analyzed. A planning process for creating, developing, implementing and evaluating adult education programs is utilized. Application is made to adult education in various settings. The service-learning component of this course leads to direct involvement with adults in a variety of diverse learning settings. (Prerequisite: upper level standing)
ED	439	The Inclusive Classroom	2
Prospective educators are introduced to legislation and practices related to the inclusion of students with unique learning needs into regular classrooms. Topics include the classroom teacher's role in assessing, developing, and implementing unique learning experiences and managing group and individual behaviors. A 15-hour field experience that satisfies a portion of the university's human relations requirement is included. (Prerequisite: upper level standing)
ED	446	Teaching Elementary Music	1
This course presents the principles, objectives and materials of music education in the elementary schools espoused by the leading pedagogical methods. (Prerequisites: minimal competency in music as demonstrated by test, successful completion of Class Piano and/or MUS 101, admission to Teacher Education Program.) Enrollment is concurrent with ED 371 Teaching Practicum.
ED	447	Teaching Elementary Art	1
This course seeks to develop in the prospective elementary school teacher the fundamental understandings, attitudes and skills needed for the effective teaching of art in the elementary school. (Prerequisites: ART101 Approaching Art and admission to Teacher Education Program.) Enrollment is concurrent with ED 371 Teaching Practicum..
ED	448	Teaching Methods for Elementary/Middle School Movement Education	1
This course provides students with the basic principles of effective instruction in movement education at the Elementary/Middle School level (K-8). The course addresses curriculum content, philosophy development, objective writing and annual/unit/daily lesson planning teaching skills, methods, class organization, progression of skill, and evaluation as it relates to creating an effective physical education program that promotes lifelong physical activity. Instructional subjects will include locomotor/non-locomotor skills, manipulatives, elementary games, fitness activities, and some sport skill development. (Prerequisite: admission to Teacher Education Program.) Prerequisite to student teaching. (Not required if student completes KHS 330)

ED	454	Teaching the Faith	2
Theories of spiritual growth and development of children and adolescents, organization and distinctive characteristics of various religion curricula, theories and methods of effective teaching of the faith and materials for instruction at both elementary and secondary levels are studied. Classroom management and discipline from the Lutheran perspective is also considered. (Prerequisite: ED 336, upper level standing.)
ED	464	Student Teaching Parent & Family Education and Capstone Seminar	8
Student teaching provides direct teaching experiences for students to develop the understanding, attitudes and skills necessary for facilitating discussion with groups of parents. Students are assigned to work with a licensed parent educator. Seminars are held on campus. A capstone project is part of the experience. (Prerequisites: Admission to Teacher Education Program and completion of all coursework in the Parent Educator major.)
ED	471	Student Teaching	4
Student teaching provides direct teaching experience for students to develop the understanding, skills, and dispositions necessary for implementing developmentally appropriate practices in classrooms for young children. Typically, students are assigned to work with two cooperating teachers in two different classrooms for one full semester. Seminars are held on campus and a capstone portfolio is required. (Birth-Grade 3 Practicum.)
ED	472	Student Teaching 5-12	1
ED	473	Student Teaching 5-12	4
ED	475	Teaching 5-8 Mathematics	1
This course provides opportunities to develop an understanding of the content of middle school mathematics programs and formulate a teaching methodology for the meaningful learning of mathematics by middle school students. Students will be challenged to reflect on their personal views of mathematics, on how middle school children learn mathematics and on classroom environments that help middle school children understand mathematics. Teaching from a problem-solving perspective and making communication, reasoning and connections the primary foci of mathematics learning will be central to the course. (Prerequisite: admission to Teacher Education Program.)
ED	476	Teaching 5-8 Social Studies	1
Teaching Middle Level Social Studies is a methods class that provides the student with the social studies curriculum, and specific methods required to teach in the middle school. The knowledge, skills, and values that provide curriculum content will be identified as well as a variety of approaches and issues for instruction. The student will be able to develop a social studies framework reflecting current thought and provide leadership in the school setting for social studies instruction. This course will provide the middle grade teacher with the concepts needed to make appropriate instructional decisions .(Prerequisite: admission to Teacher Education Program.)
ED	477	Teaching 5-8 Communication Arts/Literature	1
This course will help the prospective teacher understand and apply current theories of communication arts instruction with its focus on practical strategies and skills essential to the teaching of reading, writing, speaking, listening, media literacy, and literature at the middle school level. (Prerequisite: admission to Teacher Education Program.)
ED	478	Teaching 5-8 Science	1
This course is designed to provide teaching methods to use at the middle school level. (Prerequisite: admission to Teacher Education Program)
ED	481	Teaching Students with Learning and/or Behavioral Needs
This course is an examination of the social /emotional needs of learners in contemporary classrooms and research-based practices for meeting those needs. It also provides teachers of students with emotionally/behaviorally disorders an understanding of and practice with positive interventions for the general education classroom. The historical, theoretical, and educational perspectives concerning children and youth who manifest learning disabilities will be considered utilizing diagnostic and remediation of weaknesses in basic content areas. Special emphasis will be placed on teaching cognitive instructional strategies.
ED	483	SPED583 Collaborative Teaching in Inclusive Settings	3
This course is designed to help student develop the necessary skills to manage a program designed to meet the educational needs of children with mild to moderate learning and/or behavior problems in inclusive settings. Emphasis will be placed on referral procedures, collaboration skills, instructional planning, effective teaching strategies and adaptive materials. This experience provides teacher education students with an opportunity to gain specialized field experience in special education. SPED 583: Graduate students will be required to do an action research project and to prepare a written report suitable for publication.
ED	485	Assessment of ESL Students	2
This course prepares the student to undertake testing of students who do not have English as a first language. The course will deal with both the knowledge needed to perform both formal and informal assessments that are meaningful as well as the skills necessary to administer and accurately interpret assessments for limited English proficient students in at least two languages.
ED	487	Reading Across the Content Areas	3
The range of standardized and informal assessment options will be studied. Techniques will include the administration of procedures including analyzing data and making instructional and placement decisions. Communication of results to students, parents, caregivers and other professionals; impact on career skills affecting employability; and ethical issues will be discussed. (Prerequisite to Student Teaching.)

ED	488	Independent Study	0
ED	492	Introduction to EBD	3
ED	493	Children's Literature	2
ED	498	Internship	3
ED	500	Seminar A	2
This course assists students in synthesizing previous coursework leading to greater self-reflection and assessment of learning.
ED	502	Educational Issues	3
A study of historical and contemporary issues in education. Students explore the social and academic goals of education, the current conditions of the nation's educational system, the teaching profession and the future of American education.
ED	505	Seminar B	2
ED	507	Diversity in Education	3
A study of the issues and approaches to educating a culturally and linguistically diverse population and those with learning difficulties.
ED	508	Legal and Ethical Issues in Education	3
A study of legal issues, professional ethics, and moral philosophy with applications to the field of education.
ED	509	Issues in Differentiated and Gifted Education	3
This course is a study of the impact of educational research on the development and the improvement of educational practices in relation to differentiated instruction with emphasis on gifted education. The course continues the process of developing the individual capstone project.
ED	510	Seminar C	3
ED	515	Family Systems for Educators	3
A study of diversity in family systems to include a survey of current developments in the study of the family and the analysis of changes in American society and their influence on family life.
ED	521	Educational Research and Applications	3
Mastering the systematic and rigorous process of posing a focused question, developing a hypothesis, testing the hypothesis, collecting and analyzing relevant data and drawing conclusions.
ED	530	Human Diversity & Relations	2
ED	532	Collaboration in Inclusive Settings	3
A study of applied best practices for implementing and sustaining collaborative teaching in inclusive settings.
ED	534	Teaching Students with Mental Health Needs	3
A study of classroom strategies, state and district initiatives and support resources that help children and youth with mental health needs learn successfully in the inclusive classroom setting.
ED	536	Teaching Students with Linguistic Differences and Difficulties	3
A study of the issues and approaches to educating a culturally and linguistically diverse population.
ED	538	Teaching Students with Math and Literacy Difficulties	3
Awareness and examination of the scope and sequence of math and literacy skills students need to be successful in the inclusive classroom in the academic areas of reading, writing, and speaking.
ED	539	Legal and Legislative Issues	2
ED	540	Legal and Legislative Issues	4
Those in leadership positions find themselves with a greater duty to recognize and respond to legal issues. This course examines how law defines policy in areas impacting the business of criminal justice, including due process, civil rights, equal protection, employment law, civil liability, and criminal procedure. In addition to identifying emerging law, this class addresses the political science of public policy at jurisdictional levels, including the United States Supreme Court.
ED	582	Ethics for Educators	2
This course is a study of ethics and moral philosophy with applications to making decisions regarding current social and personal problems.
ED	586	Synthesizing Seminar II	2
This course continues the process of selecting and implementing the capstone project. Issues of epistemology and social change are discussed and explored.

ED	590	Conducting Research and Completing the Capstone	3
A review and critical analysis of current educational research focused on a specific question. Students complete the capstone project.
ED	594	Effective Practices in Differentiated Learning	3
An examination of brain-based learning practices for differentiating instruction for all learners.
ED	595	Capstone	1
As the final work submitted by a graduate student, and in respect to the guidelines for research base, analysis and synthesis, the students have three options in which they may design their closing assignment. Students may choose from a thesis, portfolio, or project style to complete their graduate experience.
ED	596	Lifelong Learning	3
While this course is the culminating event in the educational experience, it also sets the stage for new beginnings. The focus is on a combined reflection and synthesis on knowledge learned throughout the program. In seminar fashion, students will discuss with each other the significant issues they have studied, and ways they will continue to learn in the future.
ED	598	Directed Studies in Education	3
Key educational topics will be explored and students will make connections between those topics and other program requirements.
EDC	203	Learning and Leading through Understanding the Brain	2
The application of brain research to teaching and learning has positive effects for all learners. Additionally, this research has powerful implications when working with children and adults who may not be performing to their potential. Students will investigate brain structure and processing modes. Using a solid foundation of how the brain functions, participants will discuss brain-compatible teaching/learning strategies and effective classroom/workplace applications.
EDC	381	Leadership Training Workshop	1
EDL	550	Leadership in Education	3
An examination of classical and contemporary theories and styles of leadership and their application to educational settings.
EDL	552	Management of Human and Financial Resources	3
A focus on educational leadership theory and practice related to the management of human and financial resources.
EDL	553	Educational Policy and Administration	3
An examination of legislative issues, policy implications, and the administration of these issues and implications including analysis from multiple perspectives.
EDT	210	Understanding the Adult Learner	4
EDT	220	Design & Facilitate Online Lrn	3
EDT	230	Creating Virtual Educational Materials	2
EDT	240	Creating Online Curriculum	2
EDT	250	Effective Practices Adult/Adult Ment	3
EDT	270	Teaching a Child with Disabilities	2
EDT	271	Childhood Physical Development	2
EDT	310	Assessing Quality for Child Care Accreditation	3
Participants will learn the basic principles of assessing an early childhood and school age care program using materials from national accreditation organizations. Students will complete program observations and improvement action plans based on observations, assessments and surveys.
EDT	320	Action for Quality Child Care	3
Participants will explore basic systems thinking in relationship to daily child care program operations. They will develop daily checklists, staff training, and systems for establishing and maintaining quality child care in line with annual inspections. The class will concentrate on best practice policies and maintaining quality child care.
EDT	330	The Business of Child Care	3
Students will develop an annual operating budget. In the budget process the class will explore staffing to meet ratios, reading and understanding income statements and variance reports. Students will create a marketing plan to attract new families and establish quality customer service to keep customers. Textbook: The Business of Child Care, Management and Financial Strategies. Handouts will be provided on military financial reports.
EDT	340	Establishing a Staff mentoring Program	3
Participants will explore establishing a mentoring program within military child care and youth programs. Coaching, record keeping systems, mentoring that does not create more labor costs, and getting staff to buy into a mentoring program are concepts that will be covered.

ENG	100	Introduction to College Writing	4
This course is designed for students who need writing instruction and practice before enrolling in ENG1 20 College Writing. Focusing on correct and clear sentence construction, organized and developed paragraphs, and significant grammar problems, ENG 100 mixes short writing assignments, class discussion, and individual conferences. Students may be required to take ENG 100 based on their English ACT or their verbal SAT scores. Students who wish to review writing basics may elect, at any point in their college careers, to enroll in ENG 100.
ENG	105	Developing Writing Skills	2
This course is designed to develop confidence and enhance writing skills through examining the learner's writing journey, while addressing common writing problems such as word choice, sentence structure, and paragraphing. Learners will understand the course material through readings, exercises, and proofread their own work.
ENG	112	Fundamentals of Writing, ESOL	4
This course, an English for Speakers of Other Languages course, is designed for students whose writing indicates a need to study writing mechanics, grammar and other sentence-level or paragraph-level aspects of writing. This may be an elective but it is required for students whose high school grades, test scores and/or writing sample indicate a need for such study.
ENG	120	College Writing	4
The content of a writing course is writing. For students to become proficient writers in all disciplines, they need to learn how to read and analyze a variety of texts and then practice reading and analyzing texts from various disciplines. Through research and writing, students learn what others are saying and how to integrate those ideas into their own writing. ITM	330	Systems Analysis and Design	4
An overview is given of the systems development life cycle with emphasis on techniques and tools of system documentation and logical system specifications. CASE methodologies are introduced as well as some advanced strategies and techniques of structured systems development.
ITM	335	Data Management	4
In this course you will learn to use business strategy to lay the foundation for managing data. You will learn the tools to model and create databases that minimize redundant, inaccurate data and provide faster access to strategic information. You will learn to identify the management and knowledge skills needed for enterprise data warehousing (a big reason for Wal-Mart's success!). At the end of this course, you will have expanded your toolset for improving organizational efficiency and for becoming a potential contributor to competitive advantage.
ITM	340	Applied Research Project 1	2
This seminar provides a forum for discussion of issues and problems encountered in the development of the ITM project, a capstone course integrating the information systems knowledge gained through the other courses. Students evaluate each other's project design and plan, organize, and conduct a walk-through exercise. In addition, students are introduced to advanced project management techniques used to manage highly innovative projects.
ITM	341	Project Management and Innovation	4
Students explore the methods used in managing projects and processes. Emphasis is placed on scheduling, tracking, and planning techniques as it relates to working with current and new technologies that require a significant amount of innovation. Computer tools for assisting project management tasks are discussed.
ITM	342	Project and Lifecycle Management	4
Channel effective project management skills to innovate and deliver on business strategy. Utilize a project management simulation to study planning, scheduling, and tracking techniques for effective project management. Apply learning to a draft of the following deliverables for the student's own Applied Research Project: 1) project scope/charter, 2) work breakdown structure, 3) cost-benefit analysis, 4) project schedule, 5) risk register, and 6) quality management plan. Identify the relationships between IT operations, project management and other value-chain functions that manage internal and external relationships among partners, vendors, and outsourcers. Explore the impact of operations management on a firm's competitiveness and management of IT resources.

ITM	350	Managing People/Tech Environment	3
Students will study management tactics designed to focus on the talents and strengths of technical staff by empowering each employee with defined outcomes and the right organizational fit. Students will learn how to mobilize political support. The investigation will identify the sources of power, where power can be lost, and the resources needed to help get things done.
ITM	351	Bridging the Technology-Business Gap	4
Compare technical to non-technical staff in studying ways to build collaborative effectiveness for the business. Investigate sources of power from the local to global setting to better understand how power can be lost or gained within an organization. Empower each employee with defined outcomes and the right organizational fit. Utilize collaborative software tools to practice communicating virtually across diverse settings and maximize teamwork to deliver on business strategy.
ITM	405	Operations Management in the New Economy	3
This course explores the functions of Information Technology (IT) Operations and the impact of operations management on a firm's competitiveness and management of IT resources. A strategic framework will be introduced identifying relationships between IT operations, project management and other value-chain functions that manage internal and external relationships amongst partners, vendors and outsourcers. Students will examine the need for speed and being first-to-market to positively leverage the network effect of new technologies in order to gain competitive advantage with technology-enabled products and services.
ITM	410	Business-Driven Information Systems and Security	4
Analyze how information systems are designed to interact with people and carry out business strategy. Analysis will include a study of enterprise-wide applications, coupled with a discussion of the infrastructure necessary to support these applications. Implications for security and privacy are key threads discussed throughout the module. Topics include business continuity and disaster recovery, virtualization, and the effects of compliance on infrastructure development (e.g. HIPPA, SOX, GLBA).
ITM	415	Biblical Christianity for Thoughtful People	4
The question, What is religious thought? will be explored in the light of American culture. Students wrestle with basic questions of life, such as What is the meaning of life? World religions are discussed from the perspective of a Christian belief system. This course satisfies a general education requirement.
ITM	420	Applied Systems Analysis and Design	4
Study all phases of the project lifecycle with an emphasis on creating a first draft for the Planning and Analysis phases of the student's Applied Research Project. Utilize contemporary case studies such as mobile applications development to compare software and infrastructure development methodologies such as the Systems Development Lifecycle and Agile Methods. Create a common understanding of project requirements by interviewing key stakeholders and diagramming to communicate process workflow. Apply learned skills to key decision-making tasks such as in-house development, outsourcing, software testing, business requirements gathering, and Cloud Computing.
ITM	421	Business Strategy and Technology Innovation	4
Examine strategies that businesses use to be competitive in the marketplace. Determine how tactical strategies for technology support the business strategy. Practice working in teams to develop techniques for innovation management of technologies.
ITM	425	Data Management for Intelligent Business	4
Use business strategy and data-based applications as a foundation for making intelligent business decisions. Utilize a database tool to create a prototype for output that meets real-life business outcomes. Practice working individually and in teams to learn the normalization process, minimizing the potential for losing customers through redundant, inaccurate data. Study the Structured Query Language (SQL), data warehouse team-building, de-normalization, and data-mining for faster access to operational and strategic information leading to a potential competitive advantage.
ITM	430	Network Infrastructure and Security	3
In this course you will analyze network and security architecture for strategic value in a business context. You will create cost/benefit analyses to compare infrastructure options, analyze types of network attacks and design mitigation strategies, describe differing physical network media and topologies, examine privacy from an organizational and global perspective, and propose a network solution that helps to solve a day-to-day issue.
ITM	435	Business Ethics for Information Technology	4
The conduct of technical and business professionals is considered from a moral and ethical perspective. Students develop their capability and depth as a reflective practitioner by using a rich framework for processing ethical decisions. A rare opportunity is provided to prepare a personal moral and ethical statement as a foundation for future decision-making.
ITM	440	Applied Research Project	4
This seminar helps students complete a synthesis project integrating business and technology knowledge gained through the Innovation and Technology Management (ITM) program coursework. The project addresses actual worksite needs, both human and technical. A problem or need is selected and a proposal to solve the problem or meet the need is prepared. A thorough analysis is conducted including cost-benefit, requirements gathering, options analysis, and measured success to address a business need.
ITMC	380	ITIL® V3 Foundations	3
ITIL® (Information Technology Infrastructure Library) is the most widely accepted approach to IT Service Management in the world. ITIL® provides a cohesive framework drawn from the best practices of public and private sectors internationally. This course introduces students to the V3 service lifecycle phases and associated processes. The Foundations' certification exam is administered at the end of the course.

JPN	101	Beginning Japanese	3
The course goal is to provide a basic foundation that will enable students to acquire and develop language skills in listening, speaking, reading, and writing in Japanese. Throughout the process of learning these skills, emphasis will be on the student's ability to perform in real-life situations through task-based practice. Additionally, students are required to engage in regular independent practice.
KHS	100	Walking and Running Basics	1
This course develops the fundamental skills, strategies and experiences to enjoy the health benefits of walking and running.
KHS	103	Strength and Conditioning Activities	1
This course develops the fundamental skills, strategies and experiences in fitness activities such as weight training and cardiovascular conditioning.
KHS	105	Introduction to Social Dance	1
This course will present popular social dances, basic steps as well as advanced variations. Typical dances presented include; Ballroom waltz, Old time waltz, Fox Trot, Rumba, and Swing. Additional dances will be covered as time permits.

This course develops the fundamental skills, strategies and experiences to enjoy the sport of basketball.
KHS	107	Golf	1
This course develops the fundamental skills, strategies and experiences to enjoy the sport of golf.
KHS	108	Racquetball	1
This course develops the fundamental skills, strategies and experiences to enjoy the sport of racquetball.
KHS	109	Volleyball	1
This course develops the fundamental skills, strategies and experiences to enjoy the sport of volleyball.
KHS	110	Health & Dynamic Human Movement	3
The aim of this course is to enhance and expand upon the personal and community benefits of a dynamic health and human movement lifestyle. Further, this course is designed to foster and promote healthy attitudes, behaviors, and skills, which develop informed healthful living and enlightened care for self. This course is designed to optimize informed healthful living, balanced service to God and humanity and enlightened care for self, such that Concordia University students are challenged to increase awareness, understanding, and informed critical appreciation for the six basic dimensions of health and wellness which are: Social, Mental, Emotional, Environmental, Spiritual, and Physical.
KHS	111	Badminton	1
This course develops the fundamental skills, strategies and experiences to enjoy the sport of badminton. Basic skills include serve, forehand, backhand, smash and drop shot. Strategies will be explored in singles and doubles. Understanding the rules and scoring will add to the experience of the sport of badminton.
KHS	113	Kickboxing	1
This is an introductory activity course developed for those who enjoy kickboxing, boxing, and Brazilian Jiu Jitzuground wrestling. Using multiple styles of self-defense, this course covers a variety of concepts and practices to help reduce the risk of bodily harm when faced with various levels of confrontation.
KHS	114	Pilates	1
This course provides students with a basic understanding of the Pilates method, and how to properly perform a wide variety of introductory mat exercises. These exercises will focus on applying the fundamental skills of Pilates, including breathing technique, focus and body alignment. As students progress through exercises they will gain awareness of the mind-body relationship, and the many benefits Pilates offers.
KHS	115	Health and Human Movement for Professionals	3
This course conveys the personal and community benefits of a dynamic health and human movement lifestyle by increasing awareness, understanding, and informed critical appreciation for the six basic dimensions of health and wellness: social, mental, emotional, environmental, spiritual, and physical. Through personal assessment and participation in physical activity, students are expected to foster and promote healthy attitudes, behaviors, and skills, which develop informed healthful living and enlightened care for self. This course also acquaints students with the National Health Education Standards and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) Priority Health Risk Behaviors. Current personal and community health issues and challenges facing society and today's students will be explored. Upon completion of the course, students will be certified in Adult, Child, & Infant CPR and First Aid. (This course meets the Minnesota State Board of Teaching Drug Education and Health Standards).
KHS	125	Introduction to Kinesiology	1
This course provides an introduction to the sub-disciplines of the field of Kinesiology. At the conclusion of the course, students will have an understanding of the various sub-disciplines of Kinesiology and the current issues present in these sub-disciplines, and be award of available employment and graduate school opportunities.
KHS	200	Community Safety and First Aid/CPR	1
This course is designed to give students the fundamental skills and procedures necessary to identify ways to prevent injury and/or illness, recognize when an emergency has occurred, follow emergency action steps, and provide basic care for injury and/or sudden illness until professional medical help arrives. (Prerequisite: KHS 110)

KHS	220	Epidemiological Foundations and Research	4
This course is designed to provide students with a historical background in epidemiological studies. The course is also designed to expose students to the principles and concepts necessary for understanding the basics of epidemiological activity and classical epidemiological investigations. By applying knowledge from a range of disciplines, epidemiologists are able to more adequately study disease, wellness and other health-related events in populations. The ultimate goal of this course is to stimulate a desire for further education in epidemiological course work. (Prerequisite: KHS 110)
KHS	250	Technology, Media, Health and Your Environment	2
This course is designed to provide students with knowledge of technological advancements in health, the influence of the media on health, and a look into how our environment affects our health. Students will be asked to conduct research into all three topics, analyzing data, summarizing findings, and developing opinion statements concerning all three areas. Class discussion and participation is essential to student success in this course. (Prerequisite: KHS110)
KHS	300	Applied Nutrition	3
The study of the interaction of humans with food. Nutritional concepts; current consumer issues in nutrition; nutritional needs through the life cycle; international nutritional concerns and issues are studied. (Prerequisite: KHS 110)
KHS	305	Youth Sports	3
This course will cover the role of sport on the lives of young people in society. Students will be engaged in learning what was and what currently is youth sports today. Topics also covered include youth development, gender, class inequities, and inter-group relations.
KHS	308	Women's Health: Today and Future	3

KHS	391	Law & Sport	3
This course is an overview of legal aspects relevant to managers in the sport and recreation environment. Areas of study include tort law, contract law, constitutional law, legislation and administrative law related to the operation and administration of sport, recreation and athletic programs. Risk management strategies and sport management applications of legal issues are also addressed.

KHS	392	Finance, Marketing, Fundraising in Sports	3
Sport is a multi-billion dollar industry and is evolving. Marketing, finance, and fundraising are becoming more vital to the sport manager. Students learn the financial knowledge and skills to be successful sport managers and how to formulate fundraising plans.
KHS	393	Planning and Managing Sport Facilities	3
This course helps students understand how to plan, design, and maintain sport facilities. In addition, event management and programming will be examined within the context of stadium and arena management.
KHS	400	Health Psychology	3
KHS400 Health Psychology is designed to help students learn those skills necessary in forging a bridge between the client-learner's thoughts, feelings and actions by integrating thought and behavior into one synergistic approach to the delivery of health education that can accommodate the whole person. Cognitive techniques, such as lecture discussion, readings, presentations, collection of data, and specific planning combined with the behavioral components of emotion and action will help in bringing about this synergistic process. (Prerequisites: ED 336, KHS 115)
KHS	401	Kinesiology Teaching/Research Assistant	4
This assistantship is an on-campus experience teaching/research working under a faculty/staff member who has expertise in the area of interest to the student.
KHS	410	Health Methods and Strategies	2
Health Methods and Strategies is designed to help learners identify and practice effective methods of facilitating K-12 health education. Observations of teaching of health lessons in elementary, middle school and secondary school settings are included in the requirements. Learners will explore and assess various educational resources from medical, insurance, health agency, business and private organizations that effectively could be used with K-12 learners. This will include development of a professional telecommunications resource database. Learners will learn strategies for effectively using and evaluating telecommunications and interactive multimedia for K-12 health education. (Prerequisites: ED 336, ED 470)
KHS	415	Biblical Christianity for Thoughtful People	4
Students study selected Old and New Testament texts and explore the historical Biblical perspective of Christianity in the context of grace and the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Emphases on management, assessment, planning of health promotion enhance such study. This course is designed to give students a broad based exposure to the many organizational and administrative duties that accompany Physical Education, Sport, and various Health Program Management. We will start by looking to understand the characteristics of an effective leader and the ability to tap into those characteristics with the people one works with. (Prerequisites KHS 400, ED 470)
KHS	435	Sport Psychology	4
Psychology of sport and its applications for performance enhancement are examined. Special attention is given to theory and techniques for developing and refining psychological skills to enhance performance and personal growth. Content examines personality traits, anxiety, aggression vs. assertion, motivation, and other individual and group variables. (Prerequisite: PSY 101)
KHS	436	Motor Development, Control and Motor Learning	4
This course examines the growth and development patterns of the child from infant, adolescence, adulthood, and through late adulthood. The purpose of the course is to enhance student insight into the fundamental role that the motor system plays in the human condition. There are four broad topic areas: 1) nature and mechanisms of the expression and control of motor behavior; 2) concepts, principles and measurement of motor learning; 3) factors that influence skill and proficiency in motor performance; and 4) practical approaches to studying and learning motor skills. Content will follow motor control through motor development across the life span with special emphasis on early childhood development and late adulthood. (Prerequisite: KHS 110)
KHS	438	Philosophy of Values and Ethics	3
This class will look at processes and strategies for dealing with ethical dilemmas and situations. Students will work on case studies and look at their own roots in developing their ethical positions. Students will wrap up the program and this class with their own statement of ethical beliefs
KHS	439	Physical Dimensions of Aging	3
This course is designed to provide students interested in the gerontology population the knowledge base of physical aging. Physical aging is central to most daily activities and permeates through all aspects of life. Throughout this class, students will study the biomechanical, physiological, and motor effects associated with aging. Students will understand that when society encourages older individuals to stop being active, professions should be encouraging activity, while understanding their physical abilities.
KHS	445	Ethics and Decision Making in Health Care Environments	4
This is a foundational course in ethics for individuals pursuing vocations of service in health care. Students will have a greater understanding of the ethical principles that are applied to the delivery of health care services and the processes for making sound ethical decisions. Students will develop models of decision making that are consistent with core personal values as well as the ethical standards of their professions. Motivations for ethical healthcare decisions will be evaluated. The roles and responsibilities of healthcare professionals will be explored on the basis of Christian values as well as assumptions drawn from reason and societal norms and expectations.

KHS	470	Health Education for Teachers	2
This course investigates personal and community health issues facing society and especially children. The National Health Education Standards and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) Priority Health Risk Behaviors are addressed. (Prerequisite: Admission to Teacher Education Program)
KHS	472	Athletic Training, Injury Prevention, and Safety	4
The practical study of procedures for the care and prevention of injuries sustained during physical activity, including First Aid and Safety principles as dictated by the American Heart Association and the American Red Cross. Designed as a course for students pursuing careers in athletic training, teaching, coaching, physical therapy, or other related fields. Instruction will include lectures, informational presentations, and hands on experience.
KHS	473	Biomechanics	4
This course examines the physics of human movement. Content areas include the structural mechanics of bone construction, muscle contraction, ligament, and tendon plasticity and elasticity. Sport implement mechanics and the mechanics of environmental conditions (e.g. friction, air, and water resistance) are also explored. Sport performance issues will also be analyzed for mechanical efficiency.
KHS	474	Exercise Physiology	4
The physiological basis for human performance and the effects of physical activity on the body's functions are examined in theory and application. Representative experiences include lecture, discussion, group exercises, class teaching, and written projects. (Prerequisite: KHS 110)
KHS	475	Applied Exercise Prescription	3
This course integrates important principles and theories in exercise physiology, kinesiology, nutrition, psychology, and measurement, and then applies them to physical fitness testing and individualized exercise program design for team and individual athletes. Students will learn how to select physical fitness tests, conduct physiological assessments, and design individualized exercise programs and prescriptions. (Prerequisite: KHS 473 Kinesiology and KHS 474 Exercise Physiology)
KHS	479	Coaching Pedagogy	2
This course offers some realistic guidelines and principles that should enable the coach to conduct his/her coaching program successfully. Course content explains the principles of coaching through discussion of the techniques that encompass the philosophical, psychological, and moral issues involved in the administration of athletic programs. (Prerequisite: KHS110)
KHS	481	Adaptives	2
Students study disorders, which limit student participation in physical education and the adapted development approach to a physical education program. Students will describe past and present legislation that has influenced programs for those with special needs, compare and contrast the major theories and models about movement activities, describe the abilities and limitations of the various degrees of visual, hearing impairment, learning disabled, emotional/behavioral disturbances, mentally disabled, speech and language impairments, awkwardness, brain injured and cerebral palsy, epilepsy and convulsive disorders, muscular dystrophy and other muscular disorders, orthopedic impairments, arthritis, heart disease, and asthma and other respiratory conditions. Students will also analyze the latest research in adaptive methodology and specific conditions, which require adaptive assistance in the physical education setting. (Prerequisite: KHS 473)
KHS	482	Advanced Athletic Training	4
This course is geared for the athletic training student pursuing NATA certification or students further interest in knowledge of injury prevention and management. Advanced knowledge and techniques of athletic assessment, treatment/rehabilitation, administration of an athletic training programs and sports medicine experience outside of the classroom will be stressed. (Prerequisite: KHS472)
KHS	488	Kinesiology Independent Study	0
KHS	490	Senior Professional Seminar	1
This capstone course prepares students to chart different paths following graduation with a degree in Kinesiology or physical education: (a) entering the work force in the field of Kinesiology at a bachelor's degree level, (b) enter the work force in the field of teacher education at a bachelor's degree level, or (c) enter a graduate school. In this course student will develop a resume, request letters of recommendation, complete a professional portfolio, and identify job-searching strategies. (Prerequisite: senior status)
KHS	498	Internship	1
This internship places students directly in a setting where students learn to apply entry-level competencies. The student and advisor collaborate with the on-site supervisor in selecting an appropriate internship site that meets the need of the student, the needs of the internship site and the program needs. (Prerequisites: senior status and advisor approval)
KHS	499	Kinesiology Internship	1
KHS	500	Foundations of Sports Management	3
Today the need for sport management professionals is increasing in areas of business, marketing, sales and managing. This course will examine the expanding field of Sport Management. Areas of emphasize include; exploring job specific skills pertaining to sport marketing and sales, facility management, event planning, sport agents and recruiting services, intercollegiate athletics, professional sport, public relations.
KHS	505	Organizational Leadership and Development	3
This course is a scholarly consideration of the concepts, principles and analytical tools for effective administration in sport management. Students will examine how leaders develop themselves and others in a dynamic, changing environment. The course will also examine the topics of communication and conflict management as they relate to successful organizational outcomes

KHS	510	Human Resource Management	3
Discusses critical aspects of human resource management as it relates to sport organizations. An overview is given of major functions and concepts regarding the management and administration of human resources in the organization including: recruitment, development, motivation, compensation, benefits administration, employee relations, and human resource information systems
KHS	515	Management and Leadership	3
Different theories of leadership and management styles are introduced and what their impact is on organizational structure, productivity, and decision making. Students will examine their individual management and leadership styles as they relate to sport management administration. KHS	525	Managing and Planning Sport Facilities	3
This course takes a multi-disciplinary approach to the theories and practices of facility design, construction, and operations. The course will examine a wide variety of both indoor and outdoor sports facilities including stadiums, gymnasiums, golf courses, fitness centers, and athletic fields. Students will also examine event management and programming within the context of stadium and arena management.
KHS	530	Research Design Methods	4
This course examines the various research methodologies used in organizational settings. It provides an overview of quantitative and qualitative research methodologies including research design, data collection and analysis, interviewing, case studies, and action science. The philosophy, ethics, and politics of management research are introduced.
KHS	535	Sports Marketing	3
This course will examine the application of marketing principles in the sport industry. Elements of corporate partnerships related to sport marketing will also be explored along with business strategies of sponsorships, branding, promotions, and event marketing.
KHS	540	Legal Aspects of Sports	3
Legal Aspects of Sports is an overview of legal aspects that will be relevant to sport managers in areas of recreation, athletics, facilities, and business. The course will examine risk management strategies along with law related to operation and administration of sport-related programs. Students will explore case studies relating to the legal aspects of sports.
KHS	545	Ethics and Policy in Sport Management	3
This course explores the topics of ethics and policy for administrators in a sport management setting. Students will critically analyze ethical concepts which influence the development of sport policies. The course will further examine the relevance of ethical considerations in policy development and compliance. Students will use contemporary case studies to examine ethical dilemmas relating to policy enforcement.
KHS	560	Internship	6
Students will complete an internship or a capstone project to complete the requirements for the Master of Arts in Sport Management program. The student will choose which program to complete depending on student interest. They will work with the university to complete course requirements.
KHS	565	Capstone	6
Students will complete an internship or a capstone project to complete the requirements for the Master of Arts in Sport Management program. The student will choose which program to complete depending on student interest. They will work with the university to complete course requirements.

LIT	150	Humor and War in Literature: Slaughterhouse-Five	1
Kurt Vonnegut, who died in April 2007, was a prisoner of war in WWII; he survived the infamous firebombing of Dresden, in which more than 100,000 civilians were killed by Allied troops. Slaughterhouse-Five, a classic in American and anti-war literature, was inspired by that experience. Far from being a strict factual recounting of this event, this novel exhibits great amounts of humor, as well as time travel and little green aliens. We will explore this strange and darkly funny book by examining themes, characters, style, imagery, and its unique structure. Students will read the novel prior to class.
LIT	250	Readings in Contemporary Fiction:	1
Students will discuss the themes, style, character, symbolism and images in contemporary novels.

LIT	255	Flash Fiction: Reading, Writing and Publishing Sudden Fiction	2
Flash Fiction has many names: Sudden Fiction, Flash Fiction, The Short-Short, The Prose Poem and Micro Fiction. While there is no agreed upon definition of what constitutes a work of Flash Fiction, everyone agrees that it's short. Sometimes they are as long as 1000 words, and sometimes they are much smaller. Ernest Hemmingway wrote one that was only 6 words long (For sale: Baby shoes, never worn). In this course, we will read, write and learn how to publish Flash Fiction.
LIT	256	Comedy Writing	2
Comedy Writing is difficult. Many think that funny people can automatically write funny. This is not true. Just like every other artistic medium, comedy writing is a craft. Students will learn how to apply this craft to various mediums.
LIT	257	Reading and Writing the Narrative Poem	2
The narrative poem is the oldest form of poetry. This, though, doesn't mean it's stuffy. Contemporary narrative poetry is hip and edgy. This course will examine contemporary narrative poetry. Students will also learn how to write the narrative poem.
LIT	260	Literary Adaptations: (Selections Vary)	2
This course will examine the literary transformations of books to stage and film.
LIT	300	Understanding Plagiarism	2
This class will help you to avoid plagiarism in an academic context, while also discussing grey areas of plagiarism, including sampling in hip hop and avant garde writing and standards in different academic and professional fields. You will have fun writing and plagiarizing while also learning what is expected from your instructors and developing your own personal philosophy about when and whether plagiarism is acceptable.
LSC	100	Beginning Skiing	1
LSC	101	Intermediate Skiing	1
LSC	104	American Sign Lang: Level 1	1
LSC	106	American Sign Lang: Level 2	1
LSC	107	History of Photography	1
LSC	110	Fundamentals of Sailing	1
LSC	111	Basics of Golf I	1
LSC	112	Basics of Golf II	1
LSC	116	Women's Awareness Life Skills and Self-Defense Education	2
This is an entry level course that is appropriate for any woman that wishes to learn how to be aware and understand how to better protect herself in everyday life. The course goal is to prepare women to avoid/deal with a wide range of attacks that could happen to anyone. Concepts learned will include: awareness education, mindset development, and techniques for physical defense.
LSC	117	Nutrition and Wellness: The Impact of Everyday Foods and Vitamins on our Health	2
Learn natural ways to help cope with stressors. What foods and nutritionals will help calm the brain and increase memory retention. We will discuss the typical 'American Diet', expose hidden dangers and provide healthier alternatives.
LSC	118	Nutritional Wellness: How to Manage Stress and Maintain Health	2
Learn natural ways to help cope with stressors. What foods and nutritionals will help calm the brain and increase memory retention. We will discuss the typical 'American Diet', expose hidden dangers and provide healthier alternatives.
LSC	127	The Hiring Process	2
LSC	130	Historic Architecture St. Paul	2
LSC	131	Introduction to Ceramics	2
LSC	141	History of Rock and Roll: Inception to 1970	2
This course takes up the history of Rock from the beginning and will examine its history from its clear pre-origins in the 19th Century, through the first great maturation of Rock music around 1970; the era in which this music transformed from an artifact of youth culture into an art form, and beyond.
LSC	142	History of Rock and Roll: 1970 to Present	2
This course takes up the history of Rock toward the end of what most historians consider its Golden Age. From the emergence of "progressive" Rock in the early '70s, we will trace the course of Rock and related styles to the present day, considering "arena" Rock, punk, new wave, heavy metal, rap, grunge, and a range of "alternative" styles.
LSC	143	Informational Interview (Career Connections)	1

LSC	146	Creative Leadership: A Look at Leadership in Comic Books	2
The course is intended to show the relationship between effective leadership qualities and comparing it to characteristics of leaders in comic books. Part of being an effective leader is how to be creative. The course focuses on how to see peoples' skill.
LSC	147	Fundamentals of Public Relations	2
Public relations is an effective marketing tactic for any organization. In this course you will learn the basics about public relations and how to design a public relations program. Content in this course includes identifying audiences, creating key messages, developing a media contact list, writing press releases, using wire services and more.
LSC	148	Business Etiquette	2
Business etiquette can play a large role in career success. This course will cover basics of networking and etiquette that will help you feel more comfortable in social and work situations. Content in this course includes networking guidelines, written communications, oral communications, manners, meals and more. This class also includes a luncheon event on campus where you can practice your new-found skills.
LSC	158	Politics and Social Justice: The Role of Documentaries in Awareness and Change	2
LSC	159	The Inner Review	2
This course is based on Victor Frankl's premise that the only thing that cannot be taken away from any of us is our life purpose and that having a purpose is essential to living. Coursework includes: clarifying basic beliefs, defining priorities, and a study and understanding of how we make decisions.
LSC	203	Constructing Life Experience Essays	3
This course teaches students how to construct Life Experience Essays, essays that demonstrate significant real-life learning at a college-equivalent level and may earn college course credit. This course emphasizes understanding and use of the Kolb Model of Experiential Learning. Students will complete guided practice activities utilizing each of the four stages of the Kolb Model. Students will also learn how to identify significant learning experiences, categorize their life experience within general college course areas, and evaluate their learning for credit. Upon successful completion of this course, students will possess the necessary skills to write and submit Life Experience Essays for credit evaluation. This course teaches a model and a process with significant practice and feedback. This is not a writing course, so it is expected that students will have college-level writing skills and a basic understanding of APA formatting and citation. This course prepares students to write and submit Life Experience Essays, but submitting actual Life Experience Essays for additional credit is NOT part of this course..
LSC	207	American Movies: Musical Genre	2
LSC	219	Electronic Money Management	2
LSC	241	Families in Film	2
This course will explore concepts of family and family dynamics in film. By using examples from modern day cinema, family issues including chemical dependency, grief and loss, end of life issues, multicultural families, and blended families will be examined in depth. Learning will be based on family theoretical frameworks including family systems theory, family development theory, feminist theory and social constructionism with a focus on multicultural families. Concepts such as boundaries, rules, triangulation, communication styles, conflict, family secrets, and gender roles will be addressed. The myths and realities of family, as portrayed on the silver screen, will be explored through example and discussion. In addition, the notion of film as a reflection of society will be discussed in terms of the social construction of family and the role of the media in this construction. As a final project, students will have the opportunity to do their own analysis of family dynamics in a film of their choice.
LSC	244	Preschool Fitness	4
Beneficial exercise for young children covers so much more than gross motor skills. This course will detail the need for physical education at the preschool level. Learn how teaching healthy lifestyle habits through physical activity in children ages 3-5 can impact all aspects of development. Current health issues facing children will be discussed along with mental, behavioral, cognitive and social ramifications of inactivity. Current dietary habits will also be covered along with promoting better food choices in children this young. Students will discover why introducing exercise and healthy eating at this age sets the stage for future health and well-being.
LSC	255	American Movies: Crime Genre	2
LSC	256	American Movies: Comedy Genre	2
This course provides an introduction to a special type of Hollywood romantic screwball comedies in which opposites attract and at least one of the lovers is an unconventional or eccentric person. During two class sessions, students will watch two movies. Discussions and supplemental reading will help students understand how these books and movies are related to their historical periods and to other cinematic genres.
LSC	257	American Movies: Horror Genre	2
LSC	262	Theatre Behind the Scenes	2
LSC	265	Innovation: A Methodical Review	2
LSC	267	Peer Group Facilitation Training	2

LSC	268	Exploring World/Global Studies	2
This course on global study provides participants the opportunity to explore different countries while experiencing various aspects of the culture, history, architecture, literature and the traditions of the regions visited. Travelers will prepare with a course of study in history, and events and literature prior to departing, in addition to on-going instruction during the tour. Additional assignments will be completed after returning from the trip.
LSC	271	Women's Symposium:	1
LSC	273	Leveraging and Maximizing Strengths in the Workplace	2
The nations highly-diversified workforce is requiring leaders to fully leverage all relevant talents in each individual within the organization. Students will identify strengths and learn how to maximize unique qualities and abilities in the workplace. Discover the drive and dedication to engage the diverse qualities and abilities of others which helps to create the optimal work environment. This highly interactive course will provide effective tools and theory on how to leverage one's own contributions and strengths in the workplace as well as those of others.
LSC	274	Effective Strategies for Communication Success	2
Professionals bringing the most success to their function and to their organization will possess a broad and rich skill set. Nothing is more important to organizations than having professionals who understand how to handle relationship needs. Students will gain insight on how to manage relationships through effective communication tactics. Identify your preferred thinking style and discover effective strategies that enhance relationships, communication effectiveness and team collaboration. This highly interactive course utilizes a powerful tool and theory for diagnosing, planning, and enhancing communication with people in the workplace. Explore effective communication strategies that help strengthen relationships across teams and departments.
LSC	275	Strategic Problem Solving in the Workplace	2
When brainstorming on how to approach problems do you always gravitate towards one approach? Improve problem solving effectiveness by identifying those approaches that come naturally and learn how to strategically approach problems from new perspectives. This highly interactive course utilizes a powerful tool and theory for diagnosing, planning, and enhancing problem solving in the workplace.
LSC	276	Life and Death in Pompeii	2
Students will discover ancient Pompeii through readings and visual examples at the Science Museum exhibit. Students will research modern Pompeii and compare and contrast life styles then and now focusing on attitudes and behaviors and influences.
LSC	277	Reflection and Synthesis	2
This course is designed for students to reflect upon what they have learned while completing their Associate of Arts degree. Students will examine how their personal strengths, personal limitations, academic goals, and career goals will integrate as they leave the program and begin new endeavors- academic or otherwise. (this course replaces Portfolio and Synthesis)
LSC	280	The Business of Art	2
Commercial or fine arts, if art is your career you need this course. Through readings, discussion, and chats with guest speakers this course will cover: legal and tax considerations, galleries and dealers, contract and commissions, business plans and everyday finances. Recommended for Graphic Arts majors.
LSC	600	Capstone Completion	2
MAN	101	Introduction to Business	2
This is a survey course intended to give students an overview of accounting, economics, finance, management and marketing.
MAN	201	Business Analytics	4
In this course students will learn to use various tools to analyze data and make predictions. These tools include probability analysis, hypothesis testing, regression analysis, linear programming and tools for financial analysis.
MAN	301	Organizational Behavior	4
This course will examine the basic principles of management including planning, organizing, integrating, leading, decision-making, and evaluating performance. Using theories contributed from the behavioral sciences students will examine the behavior of individuals, groups and organizations. Students will learn to analyze problems and develop strategies to deal with organizational growth and change.
MAN	302	Operations and Quality Management	4
This course will discuss the theoretical and practical foundations for operations management. The course will focus on the production process (including service), quality, and supply chain management. The production process includes the management of equipment and machinery, facilities, materials management, inventory control, scheduling, and lean operations. Quality includes quality control and quality management including Six Sigma. Supply chain management includes purchasing, vendor relations, and logistics. The concepts of project management are also reviewed. (Prerequisites: MAN 301, ECO 201)
MAN	310	Managing Teams, Communications and Projects	4
This cross functional course covers forms of business communication including business letters, reports, proposals, resumes and the employment process. Emphasis is on business writing and speaking that is strong, clear, concise and grammatically correct. Project management techniques that will enhance success in leading and completing projects are also covered. Topics include creating a project charter and plan, working as a project team, executing the project and closing out the project. Students will apply project management knowledge, tools and techniques to an actual class project.

MAN	350	Managing in a Global Economy	4
This cross functional course will build on marketing principles and apply them to real world opportunities using market measurement, competitive analysis, managing distribution, product positioning, ethics and decision-making, forecasting, budgeting, performance evaluation and maintaining control. Students also examine relevant theories, concepts, and practices related to the flow of goods and services in and between organizations from the point of view of the total distribution system. Students will learn to create and integrate marketing and logistics strategy.
MAN	401	Business Strategy and Ethics	4
This course introduces the critical business skills of planning and managing strategic activities. Case studies are emphasized. Students learn an executive-level perspective on strategy formulation and implementation. Students also explore the divergent viewpoints one might hold in analyzing the ethical issues likely to confront business practitioners. This course is the capstone course in the Business Program. Therefore, students should take this course only during the last semester of their program. (Prerequisites: ACC 202, ECO 102, FIN 301, MAN 302, MAR 301, and senior standing)
MAN	410	Managing Talent, Change and Negotiations	4
The role of the human resource management function in organizations will be studied in this cross functional course. The changing nature of work and demographic shifts will be of particular emphasis. The course also will focus on increasing the understanding of the negotiating process and on increasing the skill level for negotiating by focusing on preparation, interest identification, strategies and tactics, listening skills, collaborative negotiations, competitive negotiations, and options outside of negotiation. Emphasis will be given to win/win collaborative negotiations and preserving relationships using principled dispute resolution strategies.
MAN	415	Biblical Christianity for Thoughtful People	4
MAN	435	Applied Ethics	4
Students examine the issues of accountability in government and business regarding human rights and ethics through readings, classroom discussion and debates. Exploring both ethical theory and personal values, students develop a system for making ethical decisions on their personal, public and work lives.
MAN	450	Managing Finances and Business Strategy	4
This cross functional course will build on concepts covered in accounting and finance courses with a focus on strategic organizational leadership. Budgeting, resource allocation, and long term investment in human resources will be studied utilizing real world applications for both small and large organizational leadership situations.
MAN	460	Managing Teams, Communication and Projects	4
This cross functional course covers forms of business communication including business letters, reports, proposals, resumes and the employment process. Emphasis is on business writing and speaking that is strong, clear, concise and grammatically correct. Project management techniques that will enhance success in leading and completing projects are also covered. Topics include creating a project charter and plan, working as a project team, executing the project and closing out the project. Students will apply project management knowledge, tools and techniques to an actual class project.
MAN	488	Independent Study	1
MAR	301	Principles of Marketing	4
This course provides an introduction to the study of marketing in business and other organizations. Topics that will be addressed in this course include the marketing environment, marketing ethics, information gathering, product development, pricing strategies, distribution strategies, the promotional mix, decision making, nonprofit marketing, social marketing and international marketing. (Prerequisite: junior standing)
MAR	311	E-Marketing and Entrepreneurship	4
This course will explore small business management and entrepreneurship.
MAR	312	Consumer Behavior	4
This course addresses the theoretical background for understanding consumer behavior. This course will examine the interaction between the environment, consumer's affect and cognition and a consumer's ultimate behavior. Various theories and perspectives on consumer motivation, attitude formation, information processing, and decision-making will be discussed throughout this course. (Prerequisite: MAR301)
MAR	313	Advertising and Promotions	4
This course is designed to provide students with a basic understanding of integrated marketing communications through advertising, promotions, personal selling, public relations and internet marketing. Ethical issues related to these topics will be examined and trends in consumer and business-to-business buyer behaviors will be explored. (Prerequisite: MAR 301)
MAR	413	Marketing Research	4
This course will teach some of the fundamental tools needed to analyze the behavior and attitudes of all types of consumers. Students will acquire an overview of scientific methods and the research process. Skills learned will include learning how to identify problems, formulate problem definitions, define research objectives, choose and develop the research design, analyze data, and write up and present a report. Students will be taught several research techniques including survey, observation, focus groups, in-depth interviews, projective techniques, experimentation, and secondary data analysis. (Prerequisites: ECO 201, MAR 301, MAR 312, MAT 102)
MAR	414	Marketing Strategy	4
This is the senior marketing capstone course. In the class we will discuss how marketing strategy, tactics, theory and practice are integrated. Students will learn to apply strategic thinking through case analysis and through class facilitation and frequent participation.

MAR	470	Social Media Marketing	2
In this course, students will explore the latest tools and trends in social media applied to marketing, advertising, and communication. Using case studies from large corporations, small businesses, and non-profits, students will examine current examples and future opportunities of how marketing professionals use social networks, user-generated content, and blogs for shaping marketing activities.
MAR	471	Global Marketing	2
This course examines the complexities of international marketing. The scope and nature of international and global marketing operations are introduced. The influence of culture on global marketing is explored. The traditional elements of marketing, including price, product, promotion, distribution, and service are examined in the context of international markets. Students are asked to analyze what it takes to introduce a product into a foreign market.
MAR	488	Marketing Independent Study	1
MAR	498	Marketing Internship	0
MAT	090	Math Preparation Skills	1
MAT	095	Mathematics Workshop	3
The goal of this course is to strengthen basic math skills in preparation for future math courses. The course begins by reviewing operations with signed numbers, fractions, decimals, and radicals. The course builds to simplifying algebraic expressions and solving and graphing linear equations.
MAT	100	Intermediate Algebra	3
This course is provided for those students whose preparation in mathematics indicates a need for further preparation prior to completing general education mathematics requirement. Topics include properties of real numbers, algebraic vocabulary, linear equations and inequalities, graphing linear systems, exponents and polynomials, factoring, and rational expressions.
MAT	101	Contemporary Mathematics	3
This course was designed to give the liberal arts student an experience in contemporary mathematics with emphasis on its connection to society. The concepts include management science, statistics, apportionment, decision-making, consumer mathematics and geometric shapes and symmetries.
MAT	110	Introduction to Probability and Statistics	3
This course will explore fundamental topics from probability and descriptive and inferential statistics and apply these to a range of areas of study including business, social science, and biology. Topics include probability and counting rules, probability distributions, hypothesis testing, correlation, regression, chi-square, and analysis-of-variance.
MAT	111	Principles of Contemporary Mathematics	3
This course is designed to give the liberal arts student an experience in contemporary mathematics, with emphasis on its connection to society. The concepts include management science, statistics, coding, social choice and decision-making, and geometric shapes and symmetries.
MAT	125	Precalculus	4
This course emphasizes functions and their applications. We start by investigating graphs and solutions of the algebraic functions including polynomial, rational, and root functions. We continue our exploration with the transcendentals including exponential, logarithmic, and trigonometric functions. Additional topics include vectors, polar coordinates, and conic sections. The course is a good preparation for Calculus and for those students who will encounter functions in their course of study. (Prerequisite: two years of high school algebra or equivalent)
MAT	135	Calculus I	4
This course explores the concepts of limit and continuity, investigates techniques of differentiation and its applications, introduces integration, and provides the framework for the Fundamental Theorem. (Prerequisite: MAT 125 or equivalent)
MAT	145	Calculus II	5
This course is a continuation of MAT 135. We explore techniques of integration, introduce differential equations, and apply them to problem situations. Other topics include parametric equations, polar equations, conic sections, sequences, and series. Students will be introduced to a computer algebra system. (Prerequisite: MAT 135 or equivalent)
MAT	150	Practical Application of Mathematics	4
MAT	200	Foundations of Elementary Mathematics	3
This course includes a study of the development, conceptual framework and applications of arithmetic. Elementary concepts in probability, statistics and geometry are also included.
MAT	220	Discrete Mathematics	3
Topics covered in this course include induction proofs, relations, algorithms, counting methods, and graph theory. (Prerequisite: MAT 125 or equivalent)
MAT	230	Probability and Statistics	4
This is an introductory probability and statistics course designed primarily for math and science students with a Calculus background. Topics covered include descriptive statistics, probability and probability distributions, estimation, hypothesis testing, correlation and regression, and analysis of variance. (Prerequisite: MAT 135)

MAT	255	Calculus III	4
This course is a continuation of MAT145. Topics covered include a review of sequences and series, analytic geometry in three-dimensional space, vector calculus, partial differentiation, multiple integration, the Fundamental Theorems, and the related applications. (Prerequisite: MAT 145)
MAT	305	Foundations of Geometry	3
This course provides a systematic survey of Euclidean, hyperbolic, transformation, fractal, and projective geometries. Through the use of technology, the students are better enabled to construct, analyze, and prove. (Prerequisite: MAT125 or equivalent)
MAT	310	Linear Algebra	3
This course introduces algebraic techniques in vector space. Topics include systems of linear equations, matrices, vector spaces, inner products, linear transformations, and the eigenvalue problem. (Prerequisite: MAT 145 or consent of instructor)
MAT	320	Cryptography	3
This course will focus on protocols (including public and private key encryption schemes, digital signature, zero knowledge proofs, one way function, and a variety of other techniques) used to encrypt and decrypt information. We will explore the mathematics that determines how safe the data you transmit is and what measures you can take to make your data more secure. Along the way, students will get a basic understanding of Number Theory and Error Correcting Codes. The protocols discussed in this course are what make it possible to have digital signatures, to transfer funds electronically, to send information securely over the internet and to devise new applications as situations arise.
MAT	365	Differential Equations	3
The theory, solutions, techniques, and applications of ordinary differential equations will be discussed. A computer algebra system will be utilized to enhance the experience. Topics include first-order equations, higher order linear equations, and some numerical methods.
MAT	450	Abstract Algebra	4
This course is a rigorous introduction to abstract algebra. Topics include mappings, groups, equivalence relations, isomorphisms, rings, and fields. (Prerequisite: MAT 255 and MAT 220)
MAT	460	Foundations of Analysis	4
This course is a formal treatment of functions of a real variable. It covers the topology of the real line, sequences and series, and classic results in continuity, differentiation, and integration. (Prerequisite: MAT 255 and MAT 220)
MAT	478	Mathematics Seminar	2
Students in this seminar will explore a variety of exciting mathematics problems. The course will be offered every spring but the topic will vary depending on the interests of the faculty member and the students. Students will sharpen their mathematical abilities by exploring an assortment of problem-solving strategies and clearly presenting generalized solutions. The opened-ended course number allows for more than one such experience.
MAT	488	Independent Study in Mathematics	0
There are a plethora of topics in mathematics an advanced student could explore such as Difference Equations, Combinatorics, Graph Theory, Chaos Theory, Optimization, Operations Research, or Cryptography to name a few. The opened ended course number allows for more than one such experience. The student will work with a faculty mentor to choose an appropriate course, number of credits, and assessment scheme.
MAT	498	Mathematics Internship	1
An exemplary real-world experience which allows for a deeper understanding of the mathematics used in a student's field of interest.
MBA	500	Organizational Leadership and Development	4
This course introduces leadership in dynamic, changing organizations where customers change, technologies shift, and work processes evolve. In this course students will examine how leaders develop themselves and others and create alignment as an organization changes to meet the needs of the future.
MBA	505	Global Economics	4
The course will apply economic theory to develop a framework to analyze and predict trade, exchange rate, environmental, health, labor and other policies. Strategies will encompass the interaction of American and global economic institutions and policy making entities such as the United States Trade Representative, Congress, Federal Reserve, WTO, and the European Union.
MBA	510	Managerial Research Methods and Design	4
This course examines the various research methodologies used in organizational settings. It provides an overview of quantitative and qualitative methodologies including research design, data collection and analysis, interviewing, case studies, and action science. The philosophy, ethics, and politics of management research are introduced. Students will critique published research, write a literature review, and design research studies.
MBA	515	Applied Business Ethics	4
This course will review and analyze popular models of ethical decision making. Readings, case studies, and special presenters will provide opportunities to investigate current ethical issues facing leaders and managers in business and organizational settings as well as critically apply various ethical theories and decision-making frameworks. Literature relative to Christian vocation, applied ethics, and value-centered leadership will be explored. Student papers and presentations will demonstrate the integration of a personal and vocational ethic.

MBA	520	Integrated Marketing Communication	4
This course will develop marketing strategy and executing diverse communication tactics critical to all enterprises. Consistency in both processes and messages is important. Students will analyze business scenarios and determine strategic objectives, target markets and messages, as well as demonstrate to use and how to apply multiple marketing tactics.
MBA	525	Strategic Human Resource Management	4
This course looks at human resources management from an operating manager's perspective and focuses on the key role strategic human resource management plays in the development and execution of organizational strategy. Emphasis will be placed on the cultural, behavioral, and the legal issues faced by companies as they attempt to compete in an increasingly expanding global economy. Students will work collaboratively to analyze and compare the complexities and challenges of doing business abroad as well as in the United States and discuss approaches, plans, and programs to address those issues strategically.
MBA	530	Managerial Finance and Accounting	4
This course will examine the framework and systems of current accounting and finance principles including preparation of financial statements, accounting cycles and balance sheet classifications. Students will apply these principles along with ethical responsibility and critical thinking skills to management practices of business decision making and strategic planning.
MBA	535	Legal Environment for Managers	4
This course integrates the treatment of law and management. It helps managers and leaders spot legal issues before they become legal problems and emphasizes developing the legal astuteness to craft solutions that attain core organizational objectives without incurring undue legal risk. Traditional legal concepts are discussed as well as current topics in developing areas of the law. An emphasis on ethical concerns stimulates understanding of how managers must incorporate considerations of ethics and social responsibility into their managerial actions.
MBA	605	Operations and Technology Management	4
This course will examine value-chain functions such as product-process design, quality management, supply chain management and workforce management in order to understand the resource-based view of strategic advantage for the organization. Students will examine strategic management of operations utilizing to support the value-chain functions of operations management.
MBA	610	Tools for Managerial Decision Analysis	4
This course will focus on how managers think clearly and make effective decisions. Students will examine and apply several models of decision-making. Innovative, critical, emotional and futuristic thinking will be explored. The students will develop their own tools to become effective decision-makers.
MBA	615	Topics in Organizational Management	2
This course will provide an overview of contemporary topics related to organization effectiveness. Students will be required to leverage application, theory and research as they develop skills in talent management, organization learning, and strategy formation and implementation. Students will obtain skills in identifying and developing high potential talent for the purpose of competitive advantage.
MBA	616	MBA International Topics in Organizational Management	2
This course will provide an overview of contemporary topics related to organization effectiveness as viewed from an international perspective. Students taking this course will participate in one of the international trips for graduate students sponsored by the College of Business and Organizational Leadership and led by one of the faculty. Based on information gathered from international corporate visits, students will be required to synthesize observation, theory, and research as they investigate a variety of organizational topics: talent management, organization learning, and strategy formation and implementation in an international business setting. Students will gain perspectives in identifying and investigating various aspects contributing to global competitive advantage.
MBA	620	Strategic Leadership	2
The strategy process represents an essential opportunity for organizational leaders to establish, implement, and guide the organization's direction. This course introduces students to the principal theorists and practices of contemporary strategic thinking. Students will focus on strategic analysis of case materials and the strategic practices of students' organizations.
MBA	700	Strategic Leadership and Managerial Application Portfolio	4
This course introduces students to the principal practices and theorists of contemporary strategic thinking. Students will focus on strategic analysis of their industry and the strategic practices of the organizations in that industry. The MAP is a process in which students summarize, synthesize and demonstrate knowledge, skills, and competencies as organizational managers and leaders. Students will draw from their MBA coursework, career experiences and synthesizing activities to build a portfolio.
MIS	301	Technology and Project Management	4
This course will focus on two major themes: managing technology in a business environment and tools, concepts and techniques in project management.
MIS	401	Computer Systems for Management	4
MKC	200	Marketing Business to Business	2
This course will analyze how to market and sell products or services to organizations in a "business to business" (B2B) marketplace. Discussion will consist of various marketing and sales approaches to achieving sales to businesses, and an in-depth interpretation of the value based proposition. This course will also give you an opportunity to analyze "if" a product/service should be launch, produced, or developed, for a specific marketplace, or if the idea/product/service should be abandoned.

MKC	310	Innovative Marketing	3
Innovation is essential; that's the rule of business for the new millennium. Students will learn about product development, entrepreneurship, and different types of innovation.
MKC	330	Marketing Research	3
MKC	340	Promotional Strategy	3
MKC	350	Relationship Marketing	3
MKC	360	Electronic Marketing	3
MKC	370	Global Marketing	3
MKC	380	Marketing Strategy	3
MKM	310	Innovation	3
Innovation is essential; that's the rule of business for the new millennium. Students will learn about product development, entrepreneurship, and different types of innovation.
MKM	311	Innovation and Complex Systems	4
This course introduces innovation as an essential for the new rule of business. Students will learn the framework and techniques to systematize innovation allowing them to take advantage of emerging opportunities. They will use the knowledge to understand how innovation affects the way we deploy resources to fulfill customer desires, viewing themselves as agents of innovation within organizations. Within this course of study the student will also examine the underlying dynamics, culture and change within an organizational context.
MKM	315	Personal Resources: Assessment and Application	3
Students investigate their own past, strengths, and weaknesses in order to understand how to best create and develop personal strategic plans for their future.
MKM	320	Systems Management	3
Organizations are unique in and of themselves. Students will examine underlying dynamics, culture, and change within an organizational context.
MKM	321	Marketing Innovation	4
This course is the foundation of the marketing program. It reviews the concepts and application-oriented framework for marketing decision-making in a dynamic environment. Students explore current and emerging trends within a shifting marketplace and economic landscape. The five P's of marketing - place, price, product, promotion and people - are the center of this module. The course emphasizes environmental scanning, target customers and achieving organizational objectives through the intentional and skillful blending of marketing strategies. Students will create their own marketing plans within this module.
MKM	325	Business Ethics	3
Students explore their personal ethics and develop frameworks for addressing tough ethical decisions in business and in marketing.
MKM	330	Integrated Marketing Communications	4

PHS	111	Principles of Physics	0
This is a course for those who have not taken physics in high school. The concepts of mechanics, matter, heat, sound, electricity, magnetism, light, and atomic and nuclear physics are considered. These major concepts of physics are examined by discussion, demonstration, use of current literature and the Internet, and hands-on-activities. Students make use of the computer as a tutorial aid, use a great variety of laboratory equipment (including sensors along with the computer) to procure and analyze data, and use selected software to demonstrate physics' concepts and model practical situations.
PHS	111	Principles of Physics	3
This is a course for those who have not taken physics in high school. The concepts of mechanics, matter, heat, sound, electricity, magnetism, light, and atomic and nuclear physics are considered. These major concepts of physics are examined by discussion, demonstration, use of current literature and the Internet, and hands-on-activities. Students make use of the computer as a tutorial aid, use a great variety of laboratory equipment (including sensors along with the computer) to procure and analyze data, and use selected software to demonstrate physics' concepts and model practical situations.

PHS	112	General Physics I	4
This algebraic-based course deals with the areas of mechanics and mechanical waves. Physics concepts related to mechanics and mechanical waves are developed mathematically, applied to practical situations, and measured and analyzed in the laboratory setting. Students make use of the computer as a tutorial aid, use a great variety of laboratory equipment (including sensors along with the computer) to procure and analyze data, and use selected software to demonstrate physics concepts and model practical situations. The course meets for two lecture periods each week and for 2, 2 period lab sessions each week.
PHS	113	General Physics II	4
This algebra/trigonometry-based course deals with the areas of electricity, magnetism, light, optics, and modern physics. Physics' concepts related to these topics are presented, applied to practical situations, and measured and analyzed in the laboratory setting. Students make use of the computer as a tutorial aid, use a great variety of laboratory equipment (including sensors along with the computer) to procure and analyze data, and use selected software to demonstrate physics' concepts and model practical situations. The Internet and literature are used to obtain current information. The course meets for 2 periods each week and for 2, 2 period lab sessions each week.
PHS	221	General Physics I	4
This calculus-based course deals with the areas of mechanics, thermodynamics, and wave motion. Physics' concepts related to these topics are presented, applied to practical situations, and measured and analyzed in the laboratory setting. Students make use of the computer as a tutorial aid, use a great variety of laboratory equipment (including sensors along with the computer) to procure and analyze data, and use selected software to demonstrate physics' concepts and model practical situations. The Internet and literature are used to obtain current information. The course is applicable to students majoring in pre-medicine, pre-engineering, biology, chemistry, mathematics, and science education. (Prerequisites: One year of high school physics and Calculus I)
PHS	222	General Physics II	4
This calculus-based course deals with the areas of electricity and magnetism, light and optics and modern physics. Physics' concepts related to these topics are presented, applied to practical situations, and measured and analyzed in the laboratory setting. Students make use of the computer as a tutorial aid, use a great variety of laboratory equipment (including sensors along with the computer) to procure and analyze data, and use selected software to demonstrate physics' concepts and model practical situations. The Internet and literature are used to obtain current information. The course is applicable to students majoring in pre-medicine, pre-engineering, biology, chemistry, mathematics, and science education. (Prerequisite: PHS 221)
PHS	488	Physics Independent Study	1
PMP	400	Project Management Intensive	3
It begins with 2 days of practical application of the methods and techniques that project managers use to effectively initiate, plan, execute, control and close projects. The next 3 days include intense preparation for the PMP® examination. Students learn test-taking tips and strategies and get hands-on experience with the tools and techniques they need to understand for the test. Discussion of the extensive materials covering all of the concepts and best practices in project management get reinforced through individual work, group exercises, and practice tests.
POL	131	American Government	4
This course introduces the student to mechanics, institutions, problem and principles of American national government. It stresses the relationship of constitutional principles to American political practice. Emphasis is placed on change in the political environment and judicial interpretation of constitutional tenants as major factors in a viable and dynamic American political system. Racial and Ethnic minorities are also examined in this course.
POL	231	American Political Theory	4
A general introduction to U.S. political theory. Topics might include: peace, justice, civil liberties, war and violence, and utopian ideas. Readings will be drawn from a variety of time periods. Students will read a wide range of authors.
POL	241	Contemporary World Problems: An Introduction to Global Politics	4
Survey and examination of the current issues and problems around the world. Course will also discuss themes and approaches in the study of global politics. Students will specifically examine how the current global system is constructed and how nations interact. Topics include contemporary issues like globalization, trade, immigration, war and peace, arms control, terrorism, climate change, and global poverty.
POL	242	State and Local Government	4
State and local government is the primary contact a citizen has with government. In a creative learning experience students use Minnesota Legislature as their laboratory for learning and participating in the governmental process.
POL	250	Conventional Politics 2008	1
This course will help participants to understand what is happening during a political convention. Each day of the convention week the class will explore "Conventional Politics" and what it all means. The daily informal sessions will include speakers, presentations, and discussions.
POL	325	U. S. Business History	4
The course will primarily examine the role of business in the American economy from the colonial period to the present. The course will focus on the development of capitalism and the corporation, with an emphasis on the interaction between business firms and other institutions in American life—including labor unions and the government. Students will study business, labor, and other economic institutions starting in the 17th century and ending with the modern global corporation. Topics will include the fur trade, early American industrialization, railroads, the slave economy, the Gilded Age and Progressive Era, labor strife, and the modern corporation.
POL	331	The Constitution	4
Examination of American Constitutional developments and its history. Students will specifically study the major branches of government and their development. More specific topics would include: Bill of Rights, civil liberties. Judicial review, war powers, federalism, and the amendments.

POL	332	The Cold War: A Global Perspective	4
This course examines the causes, actions, and results of a conflict between world's superpowers that shaped the direction of global affairs for more than forty years. The course will allow the students to view the Cold War through the eyes of the United States, the Soviet Union, their allies, and many other countries that served as proxies during this period. The international system will be emphasized.
POL	334	U.S. Foreign Policy	4
This course examines the goals and consequences of American foreign policy from the founding of the republic to the present day. Topics include commercial and territorial expansion, America's relationships with other states and nations, World Wars I and II, the Cold War, Vietnam, U.S. Imperialism, and the current conflicts over terrorism and natural resources. Special emphasis will be placed on how foreign policies are formulated. The perspectives of other peoples and nations will also be emphasized.
POL	337	Parties, Campaigns, and Elections	4
Analysis of party organizations, campaigns, and presidential and congressional elections in the United States. Attention will be given to state and local party structures and activities, third-party movements, and historical patterns of voting behavior.
POL	340	Slavery and Freedom in the Americas	4
This course explores the history and demise of chattel slavery in the Americas by using a global approach to examine developments and conditions of slavery and emancipation in Latin America, the Caribbean region, and the United States. By comparing slavery in the U.S. to other slave systems the class will explore whether the legacy of race relations in the Southern U.S. was exceptional or typical. Topics will include: the Atlantic slave trade, slave life and slave culture, the expansion of slavery in the southern United States, resistance to slavery and violent revolution in Haiti, the long demise of slavery in the Americas, and the efforts of freed people to give meaning to their "new birth of freedom."
POL	341	The Civil Rights Movement in the U.S.	4
This course will explore the major campaigns, personalities, organizations, and guiding themes of the Civil Rights Movement in the United States. This course will focus on the "long civil rights movement"; that portion of the struggle characterized by an organized mass movement(s) from World War II through the 1970s, highlighting the shift from protest to electoral politics. The class will place the civil rights movement within the context of American political, economic, and social institutions. It will also analyze the major historical, sociological, and political debates about the Civil Rights/Black Power movements and place those movements in the broader context of national and international developments.
POL	353	Themes in Global Politics	4
This class will explore a specific topic or theme selected by the instructor. The course will expand students' understanding and appreciation of Political Science, relevant global political issues, and the International political system.
POL	390	Vietnam War	4
This course examines, from historical and political perspectives, the Vietnam War era. While an emphasis will be placed on America's role in the conflict; international geopolitical factors will also be investigated. Other topics might include the development of Vietnamese nationalism, the Cold War, French colonialism, Washington's initial commitment to Vietnam, the increase in American involvement from 1954-1965, the Gulf of Tonkin, the failure of military strategy, antiwar protests, the war's legacy, and the impact of the Vietnam War on current politics in Laos, Cambodia, and Thailand, and Southeast Asia. The plight and conditions of the Hmong people, both during and after the war, will be highlighted in this course.
POL	401	Research and Writing in Political Science	2
This serves as research and writing capstone course for all students in the Political Science program. After reading other scholars' ideas and interpretations in various classes, students will now have the opportunity to research, analyze, and write their own original work of scholarship. Students will do original research projects using primary source materials (government documents, policy reports, newspapers, election data, personal correspondence, etc.), rather than scholarly articles or books. Student can select their own topic, but must work with an instructor. Assessment goals include sound research, adequate content and coverage of the subject, strong critical analysis of sources, and writing style.
POL	487	Readings Seminar: Topics in Political Science	2
Readings/Research Seminar in Political Science covering selected topics. This course will emphasize the use of scholarly and primary source materials, individual research, and student participation.
POL	488	Political Science Ind. Study	1
Independent Study provides a more flexible educational experience for the student as well as college credit for work done outside the classroom. These courses are designed and supervised by a faculty member.
POL	498	Internship or Service Learning	1
Students participate in an internship or perform a Service Learning project. These sites might include: legislature, government agencies, or other related fields of interest.
PSY	101	Introduction to Psychology	4
This course introduces the scientific study of behavior and mental processes. Psychological, behavioral, cognitive, humanistic, psychodynamic and social-cultural perspectives are explored. Topics such as scientific method, statistical reasoning, neuroscience, learning, cognitive processes, development, psychological adjustment, therapy, social psychology, diversity and community are studied.
PSY	190	Psychology and Human Services	1

PSY	210	Child Psychology and Development	4
A broad sketch of human growth and development is provided from the prenatal stages to the adolescent years. Developmental processes are studied from both a biological and social-cultural perspective to understand physical and perceptual development, cognition and language, personality and social development. Child studies of children at the students; projected levels of teacher certification are required. (Prerequisite: PSY 101)
PSY	215	Child and Adolescent Developmental Psychology for K-12 Educators	4
This course will provide K through 12 educators an understanding of human growth and development from the prenatal stages through adolescence. Developmental processes are studied from both a biological and social-cultural perspective to understand physical and perceptual development, cognition and language, personality and social development. Child studies, examining various aspects of child and adolescent development, are required. (Prerequisite: PSY 101)

This course examines developmental phenomena of adolescence, its physiological, emotional, cognitive, parent-child, social, vocational and religious dimensions, with opportunity for personal exposure to youth's needs and interacting societal institutions. (Prerequisite: PSY 101)
PSY	240	Psychology and Family on Video	3
This course uses video as its medium to investigate a broad range of themes, concepts and ideas found in the fields of psychology, family studies and communication. (Prerequisite: PSY101)
PSY	250	Statistics for the Social Sciences	4
The course covers fundamental statistical principles used to analyze social science data. Topics covered include distributions, probability, measures of variance and central tendency, correlations, regression, and inferential statistics.
PSY	270	Psychology of Stress	2
This course will enhance students; understanding of the complex nature of stress. On an academic level, students will learn about the prevalence of stress in modern American society, the causes of stress, the mind-body connections with stress, and the numerous positive and negative effects that result from it. Additionally, on a practical level, students will engage in self-assessment and reflection about the stress experienced in their own lives, will learn and practice a variety of stress management strategies, and will develop a Stress Management Plan to implement in order to manage their current stressors.
PSY	300	Cognition, Learning and Memory	4
This course introduces students to important insights and theoretical principles of modern cognitive science. Students study human cognition, perception and attention, memory, knowledge representation, language, reasoning, problem solving, cognitive development, creativity, learning, and individual differences in cognition. (Prerequisite: PSY 101)
PSY	303	Topics in Human Development	4
PSY	310	Physiological Psychology	4
This course will provide a comprehensive understanding of brain and nervous system physiology. The focus will be on how the nervous system governs behavioral and cognitive processes. Functional and dysfunctional physiology and what this tells us about maladaptive behaviors will also be discussed. (Prerequisite: PSY 101)
PSY	320	Sensation and Perception	4
Sensing and perceiving the world involves an interaction between our bodies and minds. This course explores the neuroscience and psychological principles underlying human perceptual abilities. Students will encounter different theoretical approaches to the study of this question, as well as a variety of methodological techniques. Topics to be covered include the biological basis of vision, the perception of pattern, color, depth, and spatial layout. The senses of hearing, touch, smell, and taste will be similarly addressed. The course will conclude with an exploration of the relationship between perception to knowledge. (Prerequisite: PSY 101)
PSY	330	Introduction to Counseling	4
Basic theory, principles, and techniques of counseling and its application to counseling settings are explored. In addition, students develop counseling skills in the following three theoretical areas: person-centered therapy, behavioral contracting, and reality therapy. The student becomes both teacher and subject in experiential laboratory sessions. (Prerequisite: 8 credits of psychology)
PSY	340	Introduction to Industrial/Organizational Psychology	4
Applications of psychology to business and industry: employee selection, performance appraisal, training, leadership, motivation, work environment, job design, safety, and work stress. (Prerequisite: PSY 101)
PSY	360	Abnormal Psychology	4
An introduction to the study of abnormal psychology. The course covers a wide range of behaviors that are distressing to a person or society or which are otherwise identified as abnormal. A comprehensive review of the etiologies of psychological disorders, discussion of available treatments and a focus on the effects that mental illness has on the individual, the family system, and society are included. Current controversies in the field are identified. (Prerequisite: PSY 101)
PSY	361	Introduction to Addictions	2
This course is designed to facilitate awareness of addictions including alcohol and drug abuse. Various types of addictions will be explored. Students will be introduced to treatment and prevention approaches appropriate to each addiction. An emphasis will be placed on understanding addictions in a sociocultural context. Case studies, class lectures, and on-line follow-up will assist students understanding rehabilitation approaches to addiction.

PSY	370	Introduction to Personality Theories	4
This course introduces the student to a variety of personality theories including psychoanalytic, behavioral, cognitive, humanistic and trait and type theories. Issues in personality measurement and assessment techniques are also presented and discussed. (Prerequisite: PSY 101)
PSY	380	Research Methods with Statistical Applications	4
This course covers a variety of research strategies for studying psychological phenomena. Students will conduct studies using different research methodologies and will gain experience in analyzing data and writing research reports. Descriptive Statistics, measures of central tendency, correlation, multiple regression, inferential statistics, chi-square, t-tests, analysis of variance, hypothesis testing with application to research methodologies will be taught. (Prerequisites: PSY 101, MAT 110)
PSY	381	Psychology Research Seminar	1
This course is designed for advanced psychology students who have designed and implemented research projects as part of PSY380, Research Methods with Statistical Applications. Through individual faculty mentoring, students will complete projects and prepare them for presentation and/or publication. (Prerequisites: PSY 101, PSY 380)
PSY	488	Independent Study	0
With the help of an instructor, students design their own learning activities, which may include readings, independent research, projects, and papers. (Prerequisite: PSY 101)
PSY	490	Seminar on Psychological Topics	3
This course offers in-depth analysis of a selected topic in psychology such as intelligence, creativity, brain chemistry, cross-cultural psychology, group counseling and processes, advanced counseling, history and systems of psychology, psychology of religion, psychology of gender, forensic psychology, psychological testing, behavior modification, cognitive psychology and biofeedback in a seminar setting. Content determined by the needs of students and interest of psychology faculty. (Prerequisite: 25 credits of psychology or consent of instructor)
PSY	491	Preparing for Graduate School	1
This course prepares students to enter graduate or professional school following graduation. In this course, students will identify strategies for preparing and taking the Graduate Record Examination, request letters of recommendation, complete application forms, and submit them to graduate or professional schools of their choice.
PSY	498	Psychology Internship	1
This internship provides the student with an in-depth field experience in a work setting that provides services that are psychological in nature. The student learns to apply psychological theories and principles. The student in conjunction with the academic advisor selects an appropriate internship site which meets the needs and vocational interests of the student.
PUB	400	Returning Student Seminar	2
This course covers areas critical to learner success including goal-setting, library resources, writing, personal life balance, and basic computer literacy. This course models the collaborative learning and self-direction of the program, preparing students to make the most of their degree program.
PUB	401	Introduction to Public Safety and Security Studies	3
This course applies successful concepts of community and problem oriented policing to other areas of service provided to communities. Research and trends of community-oriented paradigms are explored as students share models they have experience with, as well as exploring innovative programs elsewhere. The emphasis of this course is bringing together individual, public and private resources to collaboratively respond to public safety and security issues.
PUB	410	Systems Thinking in Public Safety	2
Given the dynamic complexity of organizations, it is vital that professionals have an understanding of how organizations and systems interact. This course provides the skills to diagnose interactions and engage in finding solutions to problems using systems thinking. `Systems thinking, serves as one of the threads of continuity running throughout this degree program
PUB	415	Biblical Christianity	4
Students study selected Old and New Testament texts and explore the historical Biblical perspective of Christianity in the context of grace and the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Students learn how religious issues have been addressed and incorporated in different eras of history. Students learn how Christianity has shaped elements of culture and organizational life, how Biblical principles can shape individuals for strong leadership roles, and how to better understand Christians in the workplace within a Judeo-Christian culture.
PUB	420	Homeland Security Resources	3
An in-depth exploration of how different resources interact and complement each another, including fire, police, emergency medical, emergency management, military, community and private resources. The unique resources of each are explored, as is how they can best work together for maximum efficiency.
PUB	425	Working with Federal and Local Government	3
Explains the Federal Emergency Management Agency, its resources and processes for obtaining a disaster declaration and making applications for government aid, as well as opportunities and expectations of local and private entities.
PUB	430	Legal and Legislative Issues	4
Provides an understanding of what law affects public safety and security professionals and how to find it. This course will examine constitutional, administrative, civil and criminal law issues impacting professionals working in the public safety and security fields.

PUB	433	Risk Management for Safety and Security	3
This course provides insight into risk assessment and mitigation from both a private and public perspective. Students will explore methods by which professionals analyze and respond to risk in order to protect assets (be they public or private) while insuring a safe environment for employees and those people working, traveling and living in the community
PUB	435	Philosophy of Values and Ethics	3
Students examine the issues of accountability in government and business regarding human rights and ethics through readings, classroom discussion and debates. Exploring both ethical theory and personal values, students develop a system for making ethical decisions on their personal, public and work lives.
PUB	440	Writing for the Public Safety and Security Professional	3
This course teaches students to identify issues; know and access databases; discern what is legitimate information; manage the data, and present information in an articulate, professional manner in APA style.
PUB	445	Media Relations & Politics	3
This class explores the role of the media as it affects the public safety and security fields. In this class students will learn how best to interact with the media, as well as how to write press releases, organize news conferences, and submit informational articles for publication. The role of information officers and spokespeople will be explored.
PUB	450	Organization and Administration of Public Safety, Security and Homeland Security	4
This course is a scholarly consideration of the concepts, principles and analytical tools for effectively administering public safety and security services. Students will examine the critical application of strategic management skills in operational environments that are ever-changing, under intensive scrutiny by the public and media, while being limited by legal, financial and political constraints.
PUB	455	Incident Management	2
This course provides a model for incident management that will apply to a range of operations from department organization to disaster response. It is based on nationally recognized incident management and command models that have brought order to even the most catastrophic events
PUB	460	Contemporary Issues in Public Safety and Security	3
Updates on timely issues including terrorism, severe weather, bio-hazard releases, and SARA Title III requirements.
PUB	470	Public Safety and Security Wellness	4
The nature of public safety & security exposes the care givers and those being cared for to unique stress. This course examines stress from the perspective of the individual, helping them develop a strategy to prepare for, identify and respond to stress. This course also explores what is expected of supervisors, managers and administrators when dealing with stress impacting subordinates, as well as stress experienced by victims of emergencies and disasters.
PUB	490	Portfolio and Synthesis	2
This final course is designed to help learners reflect on all they have done during this degree program. Students will synthesize all they have learned. Preparation of a professional and educational portfolio or e-portfolio will cap the learning experience
PUL	220	Epidemiological Foundations	4
This course is designed to provide students with a historical background in epidemiological studies. The course is also designed to expose students to the principles and concepts necessary for understanding the basics of epidemiological activity and classical epidemiological investigations. By applying knowledge from a range of disciplines, epidemiologists are able to more adequately study disease, wellness and other health-related events in populations. The ultimate goal of this course is to stimulate a desire for further education in epidemiological course work.
PUL	301	Principles of Healthcare Systems	4
The objective of this course is to provide the students with a basic understanding of the healthcare system. As the participants progress through the course they will build their healthcare vocabulary, strengthen their understanding of healthcare concepts and have the opportunity to experience healthcare decision making through the evaluation of case scenarios.
PUL	322	Compliance and Regulatory Requirements	4
The focus of this course is to examine the role law plays in the everyday operation of our health care system from the management perspective. Key topics will include: The Affordable Care Act of 2010, Corporate Compliance and Integrity, Fraud and Abuse, health care laws, and health care regulatory agencies. Laws and bills related to health care in the State of Minnesota will be examined and followed.
PUL	329	Advances in Pharmacology in Critical Care Medicine	4
This course is designed to help broaden the health care professional's knowledge of pharmacology. Topics include types and effects of drugs, including diagnostic imaging contrast media. Pharmacology, pharmacokinetics, and pharmacodynamics of drugs commonly used in ancillary health care are presented. Students taking this course will also study the most recent FDA approved medications and understand the current state of respiratory care practice in today's health care environment.
PUL	330	Multi-Specialties in Respiratory Therapy	4
This course outlines the diverse disciplines in the Respiratory Therapy profession ranging from acute care to chronic management. It gives Respiratory Therapists the opportunity to develop more understanding of professional diversification of other specialties in their field, including Sleep Medicine, neo-Peds, Specialization, Flight Medicine, Home Care, and others. This seven week extensive course will identify the needs, demand and unique requirements for each specific specialization. Respiratory Studies will be implemented based on current guidelines, practices and procedures of accredited professional standards in Respiratory Care.

PUL	331	Advancement in Critical Care Monitoring	4
This course focuses on the advanced medical and respiratory care needed for the critically ill adult patients. Among the topics covered are cardiopulmonary assessment of trauma, postsurgical, cardiac and renal patients. The course will also provide instruction in advanced cardiac life-support.
PUL	332	Advanced Cardiopulmonary Sciences	4
This course provides students with techniques and methods used to analyze and evaluate the health status of critically ill patients. This course has an emphasis on the respiratory, cardiovascular and renal systems and is beneficial for students who work within a critical care facility.
PUL	342	Healthcare Information Systems	4
This course examines the intricate interlocking healthcare technology systems from patient self-service to data entry by the practitioner. Additionally, students will explore security, legal and ethical implications associated with electronic healthcare systems. Finally, students will learn about enterprise healthcare information and management systems that contribute to ensuring quality patient care.
PUL	400	Health Psychology	4
This class is designed to help students learn those skills necessary in forging a bridge between the client-learner's thoughts, feelings and actions by integrating thought and behavior into one synergistic approach to the delivery of health education that can accommodate the whole person. Cognitive techniques, such as lecture discussion, readings, presentations, collection of data and specific planning combined with the behavioral components of emotion and action will help in bringing about this synergistic process.
PUL	415	Biblical Christianity for Thoughtful People	4
The question, "What is religious thought?" will be explored in the light of American culture. Students wrestle with basic questions of life, such as "What is the meaning of life?" World religions are discussed from the perspective of a Christian belief system. This course satisfies a general education requirement.
PUL	435	Ethics and Decision Making in Health Care Environments	4
This is a foundational course in ethics for individuals pursuing vocations of service in health care. Students will have a greater understanding of the ethical principles that are applied to the delivery of health care services and the processes for making sound ethical decisions. Students will develop models of decision making that are consistent with core personal values as well as the ethical standards of their professions. Motivations for ethical healthcare decisions will be evaluated. The roles and responsibilities of healthcare professionals will be explored on the basis of Christian values as well as assumptions drawn from reason and societal norms and expectations.
PUL	490	Senior Research Capstone	4
This course provides the foundation for the research project. The students will engage in a literature survey of research in the instructor's area of expertise and develop a research proposal consisting of a research hypothesis, a rationale for the work and experimental design.
RAD	222	Pathological Foundations	4
This course is designed to provide students with a historical background in pathological studies. The course is also designed to expose students to the principles and concepts necessary for understanding the basics of pathological investigations. By applying knowledge from a range of disciplines, pathologists are able to more adequately study disease, wellness, and other health-related events in populations. The ultimate goal of this course is to stimulate a desire for further education in pathological course work. Also includes the study of cell response to radiation and chemotherapy.
RAD	250	Leadership Communication	4
This course emphasizes the communication processes of leadership with particular focus on assessing and researching leadership skills, strategic organizational planning, decision making, problem solving, mentoring employees, collaborative team management skills, cultivating a supportive work environment, change management, facilitation and meeting management skills, presentation skills and interviewing skills.
RAD	300	Strategic Leadership of Resources, People, and Teams	4
The strategy process represents an essential opportunity for health care leaders to establish, implement and guide the organization's direction in these turbulent waters of changing distribution systems. Students will look at the strategies of health care organizations in an increasingly global and competitive marketplace.
RAD	310	Writing for Healthcare Professionals	4
Healthcare professionals at all levels must demonstrate professionalism as strong communicators not only verbally, but as writers as well. This course will lay the ground work of writing expectations in the program and serve to remediate as needed.
RAD	322	Compliance and Regulatory Requirements	4
The focus of this course is to examine the role law plays in the everyday operation of our health care system from the management perspective. Key topics will include: The Affordable Care Act of 2010, Corporate Compliance and Integrity, Fraud and Abuse, health care laws, and health care regulatory agencies. Laws and bills related to health care in the State of Minnesota will be examined and followed.
RAD	330	Communication Strategies for Conflict Management	4
This course provides an overview of the nature and functions of communication in human conflict. Professionals develop communication skills, such as listening and collaboration, which are necessary for managing conflict productively in interpersonal, organizational and intercultural contexts. Professionals will gain an understanding of patterns, research and processes associated with conflict management styles, and civility. This course will also address how language, perception, gender communication, and generational differences and context influence the conflict process.

RAD	350	Healthcare Diversity and Global Issues	4
Students use literature, interviews and class discussion to explore the values, beliefs, customs and perceptions represented in various kinds of diversity affecting social and economic life. Students explore the obligations and implications of equal opportunity in organizations while they develop organizational strategies to benefit from diversity in the United States and abroad.
RAD	400	Organization Development for HR Professionals	4
This course will help HR leaders understand organization development from a leadership and HR perspective. Students will build their capacity to facilitate complex change initiatives using change theories, models, and concepts. Students will demonstrate an understanding of how a complex organizational environment is driving the need for continuous change. Moreover, students will develop skills in planning for change, communicating change, and holding individuals accountable for results. Students will also demonstrate an understanding of how change impacts individual performance.
RAD	435	Ethics and Decision Making in Health Care Environments	4
This is a foundational course in ethics for individuals pursuing vocations of service in health care. Students will have a greater understanding of the ethical principles that are applied to the delivery of health care services and the processes for making sound ethical decisions. Students will develop models of decision making that are consistent with core personal values as well as the ethical standards of their professions. Motivations for ethical healthcare decisions will be evaluated. The roles and responsibilities of healthcare professionals will be explored on the basis of Christian values as well as assumptions drawn from reason and societal norms and expectations.
RAD	440	Legal Environment for Healthcare Managers	4
This course integrates the treatment of law and management. It helps managers and leaders spot legal issues before they become legal problems and emphasizes developing the legal astuteness to craft solutions that attain core organizational objectives without incurring undue legal risk. Traditional legal concepts are discussed as well as current topics in developing areas of the law. An emphasis on ethical concerns stimulates understanding of how managers must incorporate considerations of ethics and social responsibility into their managerial actions.
RAD	490	Senior Seminar	4
The students will engage in a literature survey of research in the instructor's area of expertise and develop a research proposal consisting of a research hypothesis, a rationale for the work and experimental design. Students learn professional presentation skills and combine research and theory to develop individualized synthesis projects which examine research problems and answer a particular research question that has specific application in their occupation.
RLG	100	The Word in Its World	4
An investigation of the literature, cultures, and theological expressions of the early Hebrew and Christian traditions. The course emphasizes the covenant dealings of God with His Old Testament people and the completion of the old covenant in God's new covenant in Jesus Christ. Students will read selected portions from each major division of the Old and New Testaments. (RLG 100 is not open to students enrolled in or having taken RLG 203, RLG 206, or RLG 303)
RLG	203	Old Testament Narrative	3
A survey of the narrative of the Torah, the Former Prophets, and the Writings. Special attention is paid to the concepts of promise, law, covenant, grace, and the presence of God in the story of God's people. The course concludes with a survey of the intertestamental period and the Old Testament apocryphal literature.
RLG	206	New Testament	3
An introduction to the historical context and literature of the New Testament. Students master the stories and teachings of early Christianity, practice the use of the tools of biblical interpretation, and grow in their ability to read texts of the Bible in their historical and literary contexts.
RLG	241	Church History	3
A panoramic survey of Christian history and thought from the apostolic age to the present. As such, it traces the church's institutional history, its theology, its worship life, and the history of its missionary expansion against the larger political, intellectual, and socio-cultural backdrop.
RLG	242	On Being a Christian	4
The question, "What is Christianity?" will be explored from a global perspective. After surveying the state of Christianity, its history, teachings, and practices, students will wrestle with basic questions of life and Christian vocation in the third millennium as raised by the writings of Christian thinkers.
RLG	303	Old Testament II	2
A study of the major and minor prophets; Psalms and wisdom literature; and apocalyptic literature. The course will examine the nature of prophecy, and the nature of worship and response to God's gifts and struggles in life. The overarching framework is God's covenant promise to be with his people and an analysis of how the people responded.
RLG	350	Religions of the World	4

This course explores the lives, contributions, teachings, and significant of Jesus and Muhammad through selected reading of the Christian Scriptures, pagan and Jewish sources, the Qur'an, Ibn Hishan, Al-Waqidi, and some later writers. Students will gain skill and confidence in reading ancient texts and understanding the historical, social, and religious trends that shaped the ancient world. (Prerequisite: THL100 or THL206).
THL	352	Is God Green?	4
Drawing on the resources of Christianity and other religions, this course examines issues of ecology, sustainability and human health (broadly conceived). Students will explore the significance of Biblical themes of creation and new creation as they consider 21st century ethical choices for the care of the cosmos and the human community. This course fulfills the intermediate general education requirement for Theology. (Prerequisite: THL 100 or THL 206)
THL	356	One Nation under God? Christianity and Politics in America	4
The claim that the United States is a Christian nation will be examined from the Puritan settlers through the rise of the religious right in the late twentieth century, with particular emphasis on the notion of covenant and the influence of Christian leaders in various reform movements (abolitionist, temperance, women's suffrage, civil rights). The question of "one nation under God" will be tested against the Lutheran doctrine of the two kingdoms. This course fulfills the intermediate general education requirement for Theology. (Prerequisites: THL 100, THL 206)

THL	357	Christianity and the Media in Contemporary Culture	4
Christianity has an unmistakable interplay with various forms of the media. This course explores subtle and overt Christian themes in movies, music, magazines/newspapers, theater, the World Wide Web, and television. Students locate, watch, and critically analyze numerous media resources and discuss them in correlation to Christian themes in the Bible. This course fulfills the intermediate general education requirement for Theology. (Prerequisites: THL 100, THL 206)
THL	371	Mission of God	4
This course traces the mission of God through the Old and New Testaments. It explores God's intent for his mission people in the past, present and future and discovers that intent in biblical narratives and texts and in Lutheran theology and confessions.
THL	403	Old Testament II	2
A study of the major and minor prophets; Psalms and wisdom literature; and apocalyptic literature. The course will examine the nature of prophecy, and the nature of worship and response to God's gifts and struggles in life. The overarching framework is God's covenant promise to be with His people and an analysis of how the people responded. (Prerequisites: THL 203, THL 206)
THL	409	Studies in Biblical Theology	2
An exploration of sections, books, or major topics of the Old and New Testaments, as determined by the instructor and announced by the division. This course is recommended for the major in theology. It does not fulfill the general education requirement for Theology. (Prerequisites: THL 203, THL 206)
THL	422	Christian Ministry and Practice	3
The concepts of call, vocation, ministry and team ministry are studied in relation to the worship, witness, teaching, service and fellowship of the church. Students will develop an awareness of the oneness of the church as the body of Christ gathered around Word and Sacrament. The nature of the ministry as servant hood is explored in the context of the life of local churches. Students spend time off campus in local congregations observing and participating in the life of the church. This course is required for the minor in Confessional Lutheranism. It is not a general education course. (Prerequisites: THL 203, THL 206, THL 330)
THL	439	Studies in Christian History and Thought	2
An exploration of key periods, important individuals, or significant theological issues or movements in the history of Christianity from the end of the New Testament period to the present. Topics are determined by the instructor and announced by the department. This course is an elective for the major in theology. It does not fulfill the general education requirement for Theology. (Prerequisite: THL 203, THL 206, THL 241)
THL	441	Lutheran Confessional Writings	3
A survey and analysis of the gospel-centered doctrinal content of the Book of Concord in its 16th century historical and theological context. The eleven confessional documents are studied and interpreted as the church's normative exposition of Holy Scripture, to which exposition the evangelical Lutheran church is committed in terms of both theological method and doctrinal substance.
THL	460	Worship for Lutherans	2
A study of the interaction between the essential tenets of Lutheran Christianity and the structures of democratic society. Among the topics considered are Christian vocation, the nature of culture and the ways Christianity has historically related to culture (with a special emphasis on the interplay of religion, church and race in North American cultural experience), the functions of Law and Gospel, the Lutheran understanding of the "two governments," and the role of Christians in society at large. This course is an elective for the major in theology. It does not fulfill the general education requirement for Theology.
THL	482	Christian Ministry and Practice	3
The concepts of call, vocation, ministry and team ministry are studied in relation to the worship, witness, teaching, service and fellowship of the church. Students will develop an awareness of the oneness of the church as the body of Christ gathered around Word and Sacrament. The nature of the ministry as servant hood is explored in the context of the life of local churches. Students spend time off campus in local congregations observing and participating in the life of the church.
THL	488	Independent Study
Independent study offers students an opportunity to do research and complete a major project in an area of religion of their own choosing. This course is an elective for the major in theology. It does not fulfill the general education requirement for Theology.
THL	488	Independent Study	2
Independent study offers students an opportunity to do research and complete a major project in an area of religion of their own choosing. This course is an elective for the major in theology. It does not fulfill the general education requirement for Theology.
THL	495	All within the Context of the Christian Gospel	2
Under the guidance of the course mentor, students review their Concordia University, St. Paul experience and reflect on its theological dimensions. They discuss the implications of the Christian faith for other areas of academic inquiry. Students assess the achievement of the mission statement of the university in their own academic experience. [As capstone experience for majors in theology or outreach, it is understood that students will take this course after or at least concurrent with their last class(es) in their major.]
THL	496	Senior Thesis	2
The Senior Thesis is the culminating work of a student majoring in Theology. The purpose of the thesis is to utilize the perspective, understanding, research skills, and writing abilities students have developed in their studies to investigate a substantial topic. The goal is for students to produce a paper of high quality and distinction. The work is normally done in one semester in the senior year under the guidance of a faculty mentor. The paper will be read by a second faculty member and proposed to the annual undergraduate Research Symposium. This course is required for the major in theology. It does not fulfill the general education requirement for Theology.
THL	498	Internship	1

THR	101	Introduction to Theatre	2
This course introduces the student to basic history, theory, production and performance elements of theatre arts. Students learn about theatre from many perspectives. In addition to studying primary and secondary materials, taking quizzes and/or tests, students participate in end of term individual or group projects. Attendance at area theatre productions required.
THR	111	Theatre in Practice I	1
Concordia's theatre department, in service to campus and community, offers opportunities for involvement in major theatre productions, workshop dramas, and various experimental undertakings during the school year. Auditions for all productions are open to all Concordia students. This course can include work on theatrical productions as actors and/or crews.
THR	112	Theatre in Practice II	2
Credit is given for major involvement in theatre productions, workshops, and other approved situations. Major involvement is defined as activities such as stage managing, assistant directing, designing, and directing projects. (Prerequisite: consent of instructor)
THR	160	Introduction to Dance	2
This course will examine the fundamental principles, practices, and vocabulary of the basic movement skills of dance, introducing it as both an art form and exercise activity. The basics of modern, ballet, and jazz dance movement will be incorporated to provide a wide overview of dance history and practical technique through readings and studio movement participation. Students will be introduced to each dance style with a focus on body awareness and alignment. Warm ups and across the floor movement are incorporated to develop strength, flexibility, musicality, and coordination.
THR	201	Dance for Musical Theatre	2
Through the study and practice of the various styles of dance used on the musical theatre stage, such as ballet, modern, jazz, and tap, this course will focus on dance technique, character development through movement, and performance skills. Execution and exploration of choreographed pieces from musical theatre repertoire will be taught and performed in a final Student Showcase. Students will be introduced to a wide dance vocabulary as well as to the major contributors/choreographers of Musical Theatre. Prerequisite: May be repeated once as an elective which may count as a general elective or be credited to a theatre major.
THR	203	Creative Dramatics	2
Students enrolled in this course study and practice methods and activities in creative dramatics for the classroom, parish, business, and family. Special emphasis is placed on activities designed to help students to express their own natural creativity and for these students, as future leaders of groups, to help others to express their own natural creativity as well.
THR	221	Acting I	4
Through improvisation, monologue, and scene work, students learn and develop the basic techniques for approaching the acting process. These include relaxation, imagination, spontaneity, concentration, character analysis, and using the voice, face, and body to assist in creating a complete and complex character.
THR	241	Script Analysis	4
Students will analyze a variety of performance texts from differing perspectives. A traditional approach incorporating literary analysis to understand the internal workings of the text on paper, will be combined with an examination of the text as it may be translated into performance, from the perspectives of the designer, director and actor.
THR	251	Stagecraft	4
The course provides an introduction to the scope, tools, materials and practices of stagecraft and technical management in the theatre today. The course utilizes formal lectures, group discussion, outside projects, attendance at outside theatre productions and practical lab sessions to cover the material presented.
THR	253	Makeup for the Stage	2
Fundamentals of two and three-dimensional stage make-up through character analysis, design and application. Extensive practical experience through laboratory and possible crew work on departmental productions. Each student will be required to purchase his or her own makeup materials.
THR	255	Stage Management	2
This course is an introduction to the concepts, principles, and practices of stage management in the contemporary theatre. Students will receive classroom instruction on the theory and practice of stage management, participate in workshop application of stage management techniques, and participate in departmental productions. Students will study a major text in stage management as well as develop a stage manager's portfolio.
THR	262	Modern Dance Technique I	2
Students will be introduced to the basic movements, concepts, and technique of modern dance with a focus on breath, strength, alignment, and flexibility. Students will learn about the pioneers of modern dance (Loie Fuller, Isadora Duncan, Ruth St. Denis, Doris Humphrey, Martha Graham) as well as the current contributors to the dance form, regarding their stylistic contributions and differences. Reading assignments and quizzes will be given in addition to the technique class. Students will learn and perform a modern dance piece during the semester and perform in a final student showcase.
THR	263	Jazz Technique I	2
This course will introduce and practice the basic movement, dance terminology, and style of jazz dance technique, focusing on stretch, strength, body awareness, rhythmic ability, and coordination. An appreciation and study of the origins and evolution of jazz dance, along with its major contributors, will be emphasized. The technique class will focus on jazz dance vocabulary and steps, isolations, center combinations, and across the floor patterns. Students will learn a choreographed jazz dance and perform in a final student showcase.

THR	291	Topics in Theatre	4
This course offers in-depth analysis of a selected topic in theatre such as film, children's theatre, drama in worship, stage management, or theatre management in a seminar setting. The needs of students and interest of theatre faculty determine content.
THR	301	New York Theatre Tour	2
Faculty will lead a one-week exploration of contemporary theatre in New York City. Participants will attend several productions and will participate in discussions following each performance. Tour is scheduled during the second week of January even numbered years. Additional fee for housing and transportation. A reaction paper is required at the conclusion of the tour.
THR	302	London Theatre Tour	2
Faculty will lead an exploration of theatre in London. Participants will attend several productions and visit historic literary sites. Students will participate in 3-4 days of seminars at the Shakespearian Globe Theatre. Participants will need to prepare at least one Shakespeare monologue to use as part of the seminar training at the Globe. Duration of the tour will be approximately 8 days. Tour is scheduled during the second week of January odd numbered years. Additional fee for housing and transportation. A reaction paper is required at the conclusion of the tour.
THR	321	Acting II	4
Further principles in developing a character are learned through more monologue and scene work. Advanced techniques of breathing, rhythm, focus and facial mask are taught to help the student explore the field of potential and lead the actor out of the known and into the unknown. (Offered every other year. Prerequisite: THR 221 or consent of instructor)
THR	324	Voice and Movement for Actors	4
During the first 7 weeks of the course, students will explore the mechanics and elements of movement, including an examination of non-verbal communication, neutral and character mask work, and the creation of physical characterizations. During the last 7 weeks of the course, students establish the foundations of a healthy vocal technique based on breath, relaxation of the body, and proper vocal support. (Prerequisite: THR 221 or consent of instructor)
THR	326	Voice, Diction & Dialects	2
Students learn production and placement of sound through various exercises, leading to character development. Students also are introduced to techniques for learning a foreign dialect.
THR	355	Scenic Design	4
This course is an introduction to the theory and techniques of scenery design. Three subject areas are combined to formulate the scope of the course: literature analysis, aesthetic design techniques and materials, pragmatic design production, and organization. Attendance at area theatre productions is required. Laboratory hours required. (Prerequisite: THR 251 or consent of instructor)
THR	356	Costume Design	4
This course will be an introduction to the art and practice of costume design. Emphasis will be on analysis of the costume design process and organization from script to design concept to the workable costume for the actor. Attendance at area theatre productions is required. Laboratory hours required. (Prerequisite: THR 251 or consent of instructor)
THR	357	Lighting and Sound	4
This course is an introduction to the theory and the techniques of lighting and sound design for the stage. Three subject areas in both aspects of theatre will be discussed in this course: basic understanding and connection of the equipment, basic design, and a basic understanding of the aesthetics of sound and lighting design. Laboratory hours required. (Prerequisite: THR 251 or consent of instructor)
THR	364	Tap Dance Technique I	2
This course is an introduction to the fundamental vocabulary and technique of tap dance, its history as an art form, and its major contributors to the style. Students learn a basic technical foundation, with an emphasis on the building block steps (spank, shuffle, flap, cramp roll, Shim Sham, Maxie Ford) while also concentrating on proper articulation and execution of movement. Students work on a choreographed routine and perform in a final student showcase.
THR	365	Dance History I	2
A survey of dance history from origins in ancient civilizations up to the twentieth century, this course will examine the function of dance in a social, political, religious, and cultural context. Through text reading, research projects, and viewing, students will analyze the development of dance, its significance and role in history.
THR	366	Choreography/Composition I	2
This course will explore the process of dance making, by studying the principles of composition and the thematic development and organization of movement material. Students will work on and study basic choreographic elements and principles (rhythm, space, time, dynamics) using movement exploration, improvisation, and other creative skills to develop compositions, with a concentration on solo or small group dances, which will be performed in a final student showcase.
THR	367	Ballet Technique I	2
This course will introduce the basics of classical ballet. Students will learn the basic positions of the feet and arms, fundamental ballet steps, and French terminology, through barre exercises, center floor work, and across the floor patterns. This class will also emphasize ballet vocabulary and style, proper body alignment, strength, flexibility, and musicality. Students will learn a choreographed ballet piece and perform in the final Student Showcase.

THR	445	Theatre History, Theory, and Literature I	4
A survey course covering the history, theory and literature of theatre from the beginnings of performance up to the early Renaissance in the west. Readings of primary sources are combined with secondary sources such as criticism, videos, and attendance at live theatre events to form a theoretical and historical context for specific periods of development and specific dramatic works.
THR	446	Theatre History, Theory, and Literature II	4
A survey course covering the history, theory and literature of theatre starting from the Renaissance in the west up to modern theatre of “performance” in the variety of contexts we may study today. Readings of primary sources is combined with secondary sources such as criticism, video, and attendance at live theatre events to form a theoretical and historical context for specific periods of development and specific dramatic works.
THR	462	Modern Dance Technique II	2
This course is a continuation of the study of movement skills taught in THR 262, with an emphasis on further developing strength, flexibility, and vocabulary of principles of modern dance. Students will work on more complex combinations, increased technical skills, and refined movement phrasing. Along with increased technical articulation and clarity of movement, students will work to develop artistic expression, stylization, musicality, and performance skills. A choreographed modern piece is taught and performed in a final student showcase.
THR	463	Jazz Technique II	2
This course is a further study of the movement skills, vocabulary, and principles of jazz dance style taught in THR 263. Students will work on more advanced rhythms, combinations, individual expression and artistry through choreographed pieces that are performed in a final student showcase. Special emphasis will be put on increased strength, flexibility, increased technical skills, and performance ability.
THR	465	Dance History II	2
This course will examine some of the influential choreographers and works of the 20th Century from the early pioneers of modern dance such as Loie Fuller, Isadora Duncan, Ruth St. Denis, and Doris Humphrey, through post modernism and the works of major contributors such as George Balanchine, Martha Graham, Alvin Ailey, Merce Cunningham, Twyla Tharp, Mark Morris, and others. Areas of study, through viewing, reading, lecture and discussion, and research projects will include dance criticism, identification of 20th Century dance themes, aesthetics, music, and styles.
THR	466	Choreography/Composition II	2
This course is a further study and practice of the dance composition techniques. The class will investigate areas of the creative process, methods of dance-making, exploration of new movement material, and compositional tools, implementing music and dance, dance criticism, and aspects of contemporary dance history. Through lectures, viewing, reading and research projects, students will analyze choreography and apply various components to developing their own studies in solo, duet, and trio works which will be performed in a final student showcase.
THR	467	Ballet Technique II	2
This course will be a further study and practice of classical ballet technique and expands students work upon material taught in THR 367. With a focus on body alignment, increased strength and flexibility, and technical accuracy and proficiency, this class will concentrate on more complex movement variations, increased ballet vocabulary, individual expression, artistry in execution of movement, and performance quality. Along with a complete barre and technique class, students will work on choreographed pieces that are performed in a final student showcase. This course is an elective.
THR	478	Directing	4
Studio course focusing on the basic fundamentals of stage direction. Script analysis and directorial concepts are executed throughout the semester in preparation for a final prepared performance in the form of a one act play or excerpt from a full-length play. As directing requires knowledge of many aspects of the theatrical art, this course is seen as a culminating activity taken after a solid foundation of other theatre course work. Attendance at area productions is required. (Prerequisite: THR 241)
THR	488	Independent Study in Theatre	0
Independent study offers students an opportunity to investigate and study an area of theatre of their own choosing.
THR	498	Theatre Internship	4
Students participate in a first hand theatre experience at a local professional or semi-professional theatre. The student, through observation and/or direct involvement, learns practical application of drama theories and theatrical principles. The student and internship advisor select an appropriate internship site that meets the needs and interests of the student. (Prerequisite: Consent of advisor and department chair)
THY	280	Personal Witnessing	2
This practical course equips students to share the Gospel in the context of a growing friendship with others. It includes skill development in building relationships, recognizing opportunities, dealing with fears, listening, communicating the basic Christian message briefly or in-depth, and applying the message to the needs of the hearer.
THY	281	Principles for Christian Outreach	4
This course is an overview of outreach principles and strategies. Specific attention will be given to those factors in the life and activity of the church which hinder or enhance its growth. Included in the overview will be an analysis of the life and activity of a Christian congregation, steps toward mobilizing the laity, the development of a church growth consciousness, basic planning procedures for church growth, church planting theory and strategies, and basic cross-cultural insights.
THY	330	Our Living Faith	4
A study of the content and effective application of the Christian understanding of creation, redemption, and sanctification; with an exploration of the biblical basis, the conceptual framework, and the contemporary significance of the historic doctrines of the church.

THY	331	Seminar in Theology	4
A study of the nature, tasks and methods of Christian theology on the basis of primary sources from the Old and New Testaments, the Lutheran Confessions and representative writings from the classical Christian tradition. Students; readings and subsequent discussions will explore the variety of questions addressed in selected periods of Christian history, paying special attention to how the gospel is implicitly or explicitly an issue in these theological debates. (Prerequisites: RLG 101, RLG 201, THY 330, THY 340)
THY	341	Lutheran Confessional Writings	3
A survey and analysis of the gospel-centered doctrinal content of the Book of Concord in its 16th-century historical and theological context. The eleven confessional documents are studied and interpreted as the church's normative exposition of Holy Scripture, to which exposition the evangelical Lutheran church is committed in terms of both theological method and doctrinal substance.
THY	371	Mission of God	4
This course traces the mission of God through the Old and New Testaments. It explores God's intent for his mission people in the past, present and future and discovers that intent in biblical narratives and texts and in Lutheran theology and confessions.
THY	372	Life and Work on the Mission Field	2
This course surveys the challenges, problems and joys peculiar to missionary life and work in a different culture. Topics include missionary preparation; the call into missionary work and the assignment; relating to a mission board; living in and appreciating another culture; relating to national Christians; maintaining one's spiritual, physical and emotional health; marriage/family concerns; children and education; furlough; deputation; continuing education; relating to the church at home; culture shock; and language study. Contacts with professionals from the field will supplement readings, films, lectures, and discussions.
THY	381	Congregational Outreach	4
A critical theological and practical evaluation of evangelism methodologies and strategies. These are evaluated on the basis of Scripture, Lutheran theology, and potential effectiveness. A major component of this task is to construct appropriate apologetic responses for people living in contemporary contexts different than the student's own. By means of readings, field experiences and class discussions, students will design, select and redesign a variety of programs suitable for use in specific cultural contexts.
THY	382	Assimilation Ministries	3
This course has a dual focus: (a) principles and strategies of assimilating new members and inactive members into a local church and (b) a practical and theological understanding of ministry to people who have withdrawn from the worship and work of the church. Through reading, field experience and reflective discussion, students develop a theology and methodology for congregational ministry in both of these vital areas.
THY	409	Studies in Biblical Theology	2
An exploration of sections, books, or major topics of the Old and New Testaments, as determined by the instructor and announced by the division. (Prerequisites: RLG 101, RLG 201)
THY	422	Christian Ministry and Practice	3
The concepts of call, vocation, ministry, and team ministry are studied in relation to the worship, witness, teaching, service, and fellowship of the church. Students will develop an awareness of the oneness of the church as the body of Christ gathered around Word and Sacrament. The nature of the ministry as servanthood is explored in the context of the life of local churches. Students spend time off campus in local congregations observing and participating in the life of the church.
THY	460	Worship for Lutherans	2
Exploring early church experience and Reformation teaching, the student uncovers the meaning of worship. Critical evaluation of contemporary practice and recent developments in worship make the student better able to provide leadership in congregational worship life.
THY	473	Cross-Cultural Outreach	4
Students are introduced to the world of cross-cultural mission work in foreign fields and in the United States. The course provides theories and strategies for effectively proclaiming the Gospel to peoples of different cultures. The course will address cross-cultural insights in foreign, ethnic and social-economic contexts and includes field trips to government-funded and private organizations working in cross-cultural contexts, language learning insights and an African feast.
THY	480	Rural, Suburban and Urban Outreach	3
This course focuses on the distinctive outreach ministries found within the rural, suburban, and urban contexts. A theological perspective identifying the needs of the city as well as a perceived neglect of the rural setting will be addressed. A focus on congregationally-based outreach ministries will propel the student into a theological discussion related to human care and evangelistic ministries. A demographic study of both congregation and community will be incorporated into the course.
THY	481	The Christian Response to the Religions of the World	2
In this course, the student will learn to listen sympathetically, analyze critically and respond appropriately to selected religions and their world views from a Lutheran theological perspective. (Prerequisite: RLG 350)
THY	488	Independent Study	0
Independent Study offers students an opportunity to do research and complete a major project in an area of theology of their own choosing.
THY	495	All Within the Context of the Christian Gospel	2
Under the guidance of the course mentor, students review their Concordia University, St. Paul experience and reflect on its theological dimensions. They discuss the implications of the Christian faith for other areas of academic inquiry. Students assess the achievement of the mission statement of the university in their own academic experience. [As capstone experience for majors in theology or outreach, it is understood that students will take this course after or at least concurrent with their last class(es) in their major.]

THY	498	Outreach Internship	4
THY	521	Spiritual and Ethical Leadership Formation	3
Foundational for Christian leadership, this course equips spiritual leaders to identify means of spiritual and ethical leadership development and to utilize these means for their own and others' growth. These means include regular study of the Scriptures as well as use of the sacraments, prayer, meditation, service to others and mentoring. A theological understanding of leadership formation is presented, as are approaches for designing programs for developing spiritual leaders.
THY	522	Care for the Whole Person	3
An individually tailored experience arranged by the student to practice skills and theories related to caregiving in the congregation and community. Students will learn principles of diagnosis and personal care for the spiritual, emotional, physical, and social needs of people especially in the times of crisis, grief, and loss. A final paper describes and evaluates the experience.
THY	531	Worldview's Impact on Outreach Leadership	3
Students will develop an appropriate Biblical and contemporary apologetic for their ministry context. This will be done by examining historical and contemporary methods used in rational and experiential defense of the Christian faith against unbelief, the use of categories of thought foreign to biblical thinking and Christian responses to worldviews hostile to Christianity.
THY	541	Missional Leaders Through History	3
Through study of the historical expansion of the Christian Church and its impact on community and society, students will identify their own leadership style and understand how God's hand works through the variety of gifts to move His kingdom forward in world history.
THY	551	Social Issues in Mission	3
This course encourages students to consider economic and political challenges in establishing social justice for people in given societies. Students will design appropriate strategies for addressing social issues in mission contexts.
THY	561	Outreach through Evangelism and Worship	3
An individually tailored experience arranged by the student to practice skills and theories related to reaching those who do not know Christ through evangelism and worship. The practicum will focus on researching, developing, and using evangelism strategies for reaching the lost. Students will describe and evaluate the experiences in a final paper.
THY	562	Writing/Production of Evangelism/Leadership Development Materials	3
Students will write or translate evangelism and leadership development materials that reach the unchurched and equip the saved. Outreach materials should be related to worship, catechesis, assimilation, and outreach programs in the church and/or for the community.
THY	572	Missio Dei	3
Based on Jesus' announcement of the Good News of the Kingdom of God, this course develops a Lutheran theology of mission intended to motivate God's people to proclaim the kingdom. It builds an understanding of mission among the lost and the hurting. Resources include the Bible, the Lutheran Confessions and missiological texts.
THY	573	Outreach Leadership in Ministry I: Theory	3
Students will learn the process of understanding another culture, how to adapt, and how to make sound value judgments within it. Results from anthropological and sociological research as well as current communication theory will inform this endeavor. Case studies from a variety of cultures will be utilized.
THY	574	Missiological Research Design	1
This course provides an understanding of the function and scope of research science in the area of missiology so that the missiological perspective can be analyzed, discussed, and evaluated. Students begin to develop their thesis/project proposals.
THY	575	Missiological Research Design	1
This course provides an understanding of the function and scope of research science in the area of missiology so that the missiological perspective can be analyzed, discussed, and evaluated. Students begin to develop their thesis/project proposals.
THY	576	Missiological Research Design	1
This course provides an understanding of the function and scope of research science in the area of missiology so that the missiological perspective can be analyzed, discussed, and evaluated. Students begin to develop their thesis/project proposals.
THY	577	Missiological Research/eFolio Design I	3
In this course students will identify their focus of studies for the program, choose their capstone style, involve themselves in a literature search of their topic, and design an approach to a field learning project which they will seek to follow through the course of the program
THY	578	eFolio Design II	1
This course is the second of a three-part series that builds toward a holistic understanding of the function and scope of missiology. Such understanding happens through integration of the student's real-life ministry experience with the learning that takes place during the entire MACO Program. This course is structured to allow students to give initial expression to their missiological understanding and their professional philosophy.

THY	579	eFolio Design III	1
This course is the third of a three-part series that builds toward a holistic understanding of the function and scope of missiology. Such understanding happens through integration of the student's real-life ministry experience with the learning that takes place during the entire MACO Program. This course is structured to allow students to demonstrate growth and integration in both their self-understanding of missiology as a discipline as well as their professional philosophy.
THY	581	Outreach Leadership in Ministry II: Strategies	3
This course focuses on outreach ministry both overseas and in North America. It shares distinct strategies for reaching people in the variety of contexts to be found in multicultural urban centers. It also examines the changing dynamics of rural culture, the exploding outer rings of major cities, and inner ring suburbs struggling to revitalize. A theological understanding of human care and evangelistic ministries will be developed for these multiple settings.
THY	582	Congregational Outreach Leadership	3
This course focuses on reaching those who do not know Christ and integrating them into the body of Christ. Consideration is given to the worldview of the unchurched and the structure of the post-church society. A key emphasis is on each believer's role as a witness, as well as the church worker's role in equipping them to respond to everyday opportunities.
THY	583	Planting the Worshiping Community	3
An individually tailored experience arranged by the student to practice skills and theories related to church planting/beginning small groups. Students will be asked to plan and implement a church plant/small group ministry. A final paper will describe and evaluate the experience.
THY	584	Outreach in the Urban, Suburban, or Rural Center	3
An individually tailored experience arranged by the student to practice skills and theories related to working in the urban, suburban, or rural center. Students will be asked to develop a plan for reaching urban, suburban, or rural unchurched people, immerse themselves in the particular context of ministry, and describe and evaluate the experiences in a final paper.
THY	591	Independently Developed Practicum	3
This course will enable students to process what they are experiencing through their Field Learning. This will happen through reflection on those experiences, sharing results of their journaling, and reporting in seminar fashion to the remaining students in the cohort. Instructor will provide some input, but the focus will be on student interaction and evaluation.
THY	592	Capstone Seminar: Thesis, Project, or Portfolio	3
Students will typically complete an eFolio (electronic portfolio) as their final project. This eFolio will be developed bit by bit through the course of the program. In some instances, students may opt for completion through a project or thesis method; eFolio development will be modified appropriately in those instances. Faculty approval (of topic and finished product) is required for graduation.
